Feminism And Islamic Fundamentalism The Limits Of Postmodern Analysis:

Feminism and Islamic Fundamentalism Haideh Moghissi, 1999-07 A highly controversial intervention into the debate on postmodernism and feminism this book looks at what happens when these modes of analysis are jointly employed to illuminate the sexual politics of Islam As a religion Islam has been demonized for its gender practices like no other This book analyzes that Orientalism with particular reference to representations of Muslim women and describes the real sexual politics of Islam The author goes on to describe the rise of Islamic fundamentalism and the West's response to it She argues that regardless of the sophisticated argument of postmodernists and their suspicion of power as an intellectual and political movement postmodernism has put itself in the service of power and the status quo Moghissi brilliantly demonstrates how this trend has given rise to a neo conservative feminism A major feminist critique of Islamic fundamentalism this book asks some hard questions of those who in denouncing the racism of Western feminism have taken up an uncritical embrace of the Islamic identity of Muslim women It is urgent reading for all those concerned about human rights as well as for students and academics of women's studies political science social theory and religious studies

Women, Religion and Culture in Iran Sarah Ansari, Vanessa Martin, 2014-05-01 Investigates how women religion and culture have interacted in the context of 19th and 20th century Iran covering topics as seemingly diverse as the social and cultural history of Persian cuisine the work and attitudes of 19th century Christian missionaries the impact of growing female literacy and the consequences of developments since 1979

Feminism and Islamic Fundamentalism Haideh Moghissi, 1999-07 As a religion Islam has been demonized for its gender practices like no other This book analyzes that Orientalism with particular reference to representations of Muslim women It describes the real sexual politics of Islam the rise of Islamic fundamentalism and the West's response to it The author argues that regardless of the sophisticated argument of postmodernists and their suspicion of power postmodernism as an intellectual and political movement has put itself in the service of power and the status quo She demonstrates how this trend has given rise to a neo conservative feminism She also asks questions of those who in denouncing the racism of western feminism have taken up an uncritical embrace of the Islamic identity of Muslim women The book should interest those concerned about human rights as well as for students and academics of women's studies political science social theory and religious studies

Feminist Research Practice Sharlene Nagy Hesse-Biber, 2013-07-18 The fully revised and updated edition of Feminist Research Practice A Primer draws on the expertise of a stellar group of interdisciplinary scholars who cover cutting edge research methods and explore research questions related to the complex and diverse issues that deeply impact women's lives This text offers a unique hands on approach to research by featuring engaging and relevant exercises as well as behind the scenes glimpses of feminist researchers at work The in depth examples cover the range of research questions that feminists engage with including issues of gender inequality violence against women body image issues and the discrimination of other marginalized groups Written in a clear concise manner that invites students to explore and practice a wide range of research the Second Edition offers seven new chapters that reflect the latest scholarship in the field a stronger focus on ethics new examples that bring concepts to life effective learning tools and more

Women and Islam: Women's movements in Muslim societies Haideh Moghissi, 2005 This three volume interdisciplinary collection is of use not only in Middle East studies but also in various other disciplines including women's studies political science religion cultural studies sociology of gender and anthropology The collection offers the most influential writings in the field by both renowned scholars as well as those by the new generation of scholars of Islam and gender and includes a wide variety of cases from Middle Eastern and Islamic societies By including case based articles the collection highlights the clear links between concepts and theories and actual practices Titles also available in this series include Shamanism March 2004 3 volumes 395 and the forthcoming titles Childhood 2005 4 volumes c 495 Gender 2005 4 volumes c 495 and Knowledge 2005 4 volumes c 495

Law after Ground Zero John Strawson, 2017-09-25 Following the events of September 11 a new legal order is emerging in which the terrorist threat has been used as justification to marginalise human rights This collection of themed essays offers an emphatic defence to the threats confronting our human rights culture In analysing the role of the United Nations the conduct of the Afghan war domestic anti terrorist legislation and the new debate about Islamic law Law after Ground Zero demonstrates the future challenges that law will face within our global society It also offers accounts of how events have impacted on the Palestinian Israeli conflict Iraq and Afghanistan itself as well as debates about international law human rights and women's rights This unique work will interest those studying or researching in the areas of international law human rights and humanitarian law international relations politics critical legal studies Islamic law culture and socio legal studies

How to Conquer the Barriers to Intercultural

Dialogue Christiane Timmerman, Barbara Segaert, 2007-09 In a world society ruled by economic globalisation by political interests and theories such as Huntington's clash of civilisations that widen the gap between the North and the South the question should be asked of the role of the religion To what extent religion and politics can work together Can faith still be thought as a means of saving the world Considering that Christianity Islam and Judaism have much in common this collection of miscellanies wonders if these religions can join their forces for public benefit Senior and junior scholars from all over the world gathered for an interdisciplinary seminar analyse the contemporary international relationships and geopolitics through the prism of religion discussing whether it can provide practical solutions to solve conflicts and increase the respect of human rights

Women's Rights in Islam Asmaa Shehata, 2023-11-20 The issue of Muslim women's rights never seems outdated and has become trendy in the post 9 11 environment That is the mainstream media and Western politicians often view Muslim women as victims of male patriarchy and frequently justify Western involvement in the Middle East and in other Muslim majority countries at least in part to rescue women Within this realm Nawal El Saadawi is a famous Egyptian writer whose writings focus on the struggle of Muslim women and are widely read in the Middle East and many Western societies as well. Because of her bold feminist views on politics, religions and gender, she is described as the Simone de Beauvoir of the Arab world. After the death of El Saadawi in 2021, a flurry of arguments and criticism in the Egyptian press and women's press around the world is created in which different social media platforms were filled with numerous comments and discussions of her writings and arguments. Whereas some mourned El Saadawi and her dedication to women's issues, others celebrated her death, wishing her the worst punishment in the afterlife for what they described as her destructive thoughts. This monograph genuinely analyzes her views on five controversial issues: marriage, polygamy, divorce, inheritance rights, and veiling, in light of Qur'anic exegeses offered by two classical scholars, i.e. Muhammad ibn Jarir Al Tabari and Ismail ibn Umar Ibn Kathir, and two contemporary Muslim feminists, i.e. Amina Wadud and Azizah Al Hibri. By taking a critical look at her views, the book contributes not only to this ongoing debate but adds value to assessing El Saadawi's work and helps readers gain a greater understanding of her writings as well. It also enables readers to comprehend the current tension between feminism and Islam by understanding the perspectives of both sides. Since El Saadawi's writings are available in the Western countries, the book would appeal to academics, researchers on Islam and gender, and Middle Eastern women, as well as to lay audiences interested in women and gender in Muslim societies. The New Imperialists Colin Peter Mooers, 2006. What right does any country have over another's policies and internal affairs, and are they right to use military power to change them? Interest in the geopolitics of the new imperialism has surged in recent years. This broad and wide-ranging collection of articles critically examines the main intellectual justifications for it and poses a number of challenging questions: Is preemptive regime change permissible even in the name of military humanism, and should military power be used to further the purported goals of human and women's rights and democracy globally? In the aftermath of the events of September 11, 2001, and the subsequent invasions of Afghanistan and Iraq, there seems to be a shift away from multilateralism, the inviolability of state sovereignty, and the rule of international law. In the New Imperialists, it is argued that the rhetoric of human rights, women's rights, democracy, and good governance espoused by the defenders of this new doctrine is a rationalization for a new imperialism which will undermine the very political and moral values it purports to advance. With Diasporic Narratives of Sexuality Fataneh Farahani, 2008. Text in English with summaries in English and Persian. Journal of Feminist Studies in Religion, 2006. The Muslim World Book Review, 2000. Asian Journal of Women's Studies, 2006. War & Terror Karen Alexander, M. E. Hawkesworth, 2008. Traditional academic investigations of war seldom link armed conflict to practices of racialization or gendering. War and Terror: Feminist Perspectives provides a deeper understanding of the raced, gendered logics, practices, and effects of war. Consisting of essays originally published in Signs, Journal of Women in Culture and Society, this volume offers new insights into the complex dynamics of violent conflict and terror by investigating changing racial and gender formations within war zones and the collateral effects of war on race and gender dynamics in the context of two dozen armed struggles. Seldom studied subjects such as the experiences of girl soldiers in Sierra Leone female suicide bombers and Pakistani mothers who recruit their sons for death missions are examined women's agency even under conditions of dire constraint is highlighted and the complex interplay of gender race nation culture and religion is illuminated in this wide ranging collection     Asian Women ,2004     Feminist Issues Nancy Mandell,2004     The Woman In The Muslin Mask Daphne Grace,2004 Explores the contested role of veiling over last 150 years seen both in terms of oppression and resistance in literature     Fashion Theory ,1997     Encyclopedia of Women & Islamic Cultures: Methodologies, paradigms and sources Suad Joseph,Afsaneh Najmabadi,2003 Focuses on women and the civilizations and societies in which Islam has played a historic role Surveys all facets of life society economy politics religion the arts popular culture sports health science medicine environment and so forth of women in these societies
