Undeletable preset programs provide several standard service functions:

The oven is supplied with the following preset programs:

PRE-HEAT (preheating)

These programs, named with the prefix "PRE-HEAT ...", are used to preheat the oven chamber with the preset values for specific cooking cycles and can be edited.

Cooking at low temperature is a specific cooking procedure especially for beef, e.g. prime rib, beef fillet, top round, tenderloin, but also for other meat items like veal, lamb, venison, turkey, duck, pork, etc.

The meat cuts can be: strip loin, shoulder, leg, saddle, T-bone steak, rump, fillet, chops, etc.

The EFS-LTC is a preset, fully automatic program to obtain matured, tender and uniform cooked food.

The program comprises 4 main phases:

PREHEAT, SEARING, MATURE, HOLD

Set the program as indicated below for the pre-sorted programs. When the word LOAD appears on the large display, after the PREHEAT phase.

(If necessary change the already set cooking chamber temperature)

PLACE the food in the Serving area number.

(if necessary change the already set probe temperature)

Close the door and start the cycle by pressing the START button again.

The SEARING (sealing of the food by dry heat) phase starts, followed by the suddenly Cool Down for subsequent slow cooking; in the MATURE phase (responsible for tenderising the meat) the relevant duration flashes on the large display of the core probe (press any button and the duration disappears).

This is followed by the final HOLD phase to keep the food on a certain temperature.

The entire LTC cycle (including the HOLD phase) can last for a max. of 24 hours.

One or more phases can be skipped, going to the next phase (see SKIP PHASE in par. 4.4.1 AUTOMATIC SEQUENTIAL MULTIPHASE COOKING); this is useful, for example, when cooking is started (SEARING phase) with another appliance (e.g. fry top) and is to be completed in the air-o-steam (MATURE and HOLD phases).

The MATURP phase cannot be skipped; this means that if only the HOLD phase is to be used just set the relevant UTILITY (see par. 4.3.10 UTILITIES).
