

Domain A: Intervention Logic

1. Prioritize and focus on evaluation at WP level
2. Define an accurate depiction of the evaluand as reflecting actual work funded across the RIs
3. Focus the evaluation to inquire into the evidence behind specified assumptions
4. Given the complexity of the initiatives, determining contribution may be a more viable approach than determining attribution
5. Develop a comprehensive MEL framework

Domain B: MEL Systems and Resources

6. Review the indicators and data collected (output and outcomes) to determine what can be of use, and how, in an evaluation or an impact assessment.
7. Further define indicators as part of a developed MEL framework, particularly at RI level.
8. In identifying data to be collected as part of the MEL framework, ensure there are specific uses and users for it.
9. Provide MEL staff with a lead role in reviewing ToCs as part of "pause and reflect" workshops at the initiative level, and/or RI-wide efforts, e.g., ToC development for RI.
10. Better plan baseline and end line studies as part of a future MEL strategy.
11. Further refine results statements and end-of-initiative outcomes, providing greater specificity in their formulation.

Domain C: Gender, Diversity and Inclusion

12. Consider, in developing criteria for evaluation, that equity and gender equality are included and reflect stakeholder values.
13. Develop a nuanced stakeholder analysis that supports the sound development of a MEL framework.
14. Better clarify data disaggregation by indicator within a comprehensive MEL framework and overall strategy (per recommendation 4).

Domain D: Long-Term Evaluability

15. Consider refining change pathways at individual RI level, RI portfolio, or country level, if initiatives are funded beyond three years.

Domain E: Context and Environment

16. Consult early with relevant stakeholders at national and regional levels on the ground to discuss the appropriate timing of the evaluation and possible risks to manage.

Domain F: Management and Key Stakeholder Engagement and Support

17. Ensure adequate and early planning for the evaluation that considers logistics and prepares for stakeholder participation.
18. Determine availability of RI/WP staff to contribute to, and participate in an evaluation, given their commitments to their centers and other activities.
19. Consider CGIAR structures, including CGIAR's country conveners and regional directors as an explicit stakeholder to any evaluation.
