Introducing Multimodality Carey Jewitt, Jeff Bezemer, Kay O'Halloran, 2025-03-24 This accessible introduction to multimodality illuminates the potential of multimodal research for understanding the ways in which people communicate. Readers will become familiar with the key concepts and methods in various domains while learning how to engage critically with the notion of multimodality. Now fully revised to engage with new research, it includes new case studies and presents a more global outlook. The book challenges widely held assumptions about language and presents the practical steps involved in setting up a multimodal study, including formulating research questions, collecting research materials, assessing and developing methods of transcription, and considering the ethical dimensions of multimodal research. With a wide range of examples, clear practical support, and a glossary of terms, Introducing Multimodality is the ideal reference for undergraduate and postgraduate students in multimodality, semiotics, applied linguistics, and media and communication studies. Online materials, including an updated study guide, exercises, and links to relevant resources, are available on the Student and Instructor website at www.routledge.com/cw/jewitt and the Routledge Language and Communication Portal.

Under the Mistletoe Liz W. Faber, 2024-12-23 When you think of holiday romance in popular culture, you probably imagine the formulaic made-for-TV movies we all love to watch: a career gal moves from the big city to a small town where she finds the love of her life and the true meaning of Christmas. Yet as with so much of the romance genre, our favorite holiday movies, books, TV episodes, and plays are so much richer than the oft-derided formula. The 22 essays in this volume turn a scholarly eye to one of our most beloved and under-examined subgenres, offering celebrations and criticisms alike of Christmas, New Year, Hanukkah, and Diwali romances. This work includes voices from global scholars across an impressive breadth of disciplines: literature, history, theater, media, gender, and sexuality studies, sociology, psychology, anthropology, law, and victim studies. Readers will delight in celebrations of old classics
