The Well-Being of Children in the UK Jonathan Bradshaw, 2016-03-30 Now in its fourth edition this is the classic assessment of the state of child well being in the United Kingdom This edition has been updated to review the latest evidence examining the outcomes for children of the impact of the economic crisis and austerity measures since 2008 It draws together a vast amount of robust empirical evidence and includes intra UK and international comparisons Edited by a highly regarded expert in the field each chapter covers a different domain of child well being including health wellbeing housing and education This is an invaluable resource for academics students practitioners and policy makers concerned with child welfare and wellbeing HLP 120 - Overlooked and Left Behind: Improving the Transition from School to Work for the Majority of Young People The Stationery Office, 2016 The transition from school into work is a vital point in the lives of young people Making a successful transition through a high quality and valued pathway can mean a successful career Becoming trapped in poor quality and under valued alternatives can mean a lifetime of poverty This report is about young people and social mobility and focuses on how to ensure that all young people are offered a high quality career path after they leave school We have found that the current policy structure means a large number of young people do not have good options and are not supported to make a choice which works for them and is successful An increasing number of young people leave school and go on to A Levels and university Of the others a small minority are at risk of dropping out of education employment or training the NEETS Successive governments have focused on these two groups for a long time But the majority of young people in the UK do not fall into either group They do not go to university they find jobs or they continue with some form of vocational education Despite making up the majority of the emerging workforce they have received much less attention It is these young people who are the focus of this report The current system for young people who do not follow an academic route is complex and incoherent with confusing incentives for young people and employers Careers advice and education are being delivered in a way which means that too many young people simply drift into further studies or their first job which often has no real prospect of progression Spending round 2013 Great Britain: H.M. Treasury, 2013-06-26 The Government's economic plan has three parts keeping mortgage rates low for families and fixing the banks to support investment in business dealing with the country's debts to maintain confidence in the UK's ability to pay its way and long term economic reform to back aspiration and equip Britain to win the global race The Government will continue to reduce the deficit by taking difficult decisions to cut public spending and prioritise investment in infrastructure to deliver a stronger economy and fairer society Because spending reductions since 2010 have been accompanied by reforms to how services are delivered crime is at its lowest level in 30 years school standards have risen and employment is at record levels The Government will reduce current spending by 11.5 billion in 2015/16 allowing it to increase capital spending plans by 3 billion a year from 2015/16 and by 18 billion over the next Parliament Without the 3.6 billion savings from the welfare budget in 2015 16 that were announced at Autumn Statement 2012 reductions in departmental spending would have been commensurately higher The Government will protect spending on health schools and overseas development maintaining the vital public services that everyone relies on at home and supporting the poorest overseas Gender Inequality in the Labour Market in the UK Giovanni Razzu, 2014-05-15 This book addresses one of the most topical and pressing areas of inequality experienced by women in the UK inequality in the labour market Despite the changed and changing position of women in society there remain substantial gender differences in the labour market Bringing together the expertise of a range of authors including renowned scholars and senior policy makers it offers a coherent account of gender inequality in the labour market It includes An extensive introduction with the wider context the basic facts on various relevant labour market outcomes international comparisons and the legislative framework Chapters that focus on the key issues offering analysis of the way inequality in the labour market is related to the wider macroeconomic dynamics factors that explain the gender pay gap the transition from education to the labour market the dimensions of occupational segregation and the division of labour within the household The book is essential reading for academics and students with an interest in gender inequality and the labour market as well as for those who would like an objective account of the main factors explaining this inequality

Austere Histories in European Societies Stefan Jonsson, Julia Willén, 2016-11-03 In recent years European states have turned toward more austere political regimes entailing budget cuts deregulation of labour markets restrictions of welfare systems securitization of borders and new regimes of migration and citizenship In the wake of such changes new forms of social inclusion and exclusion appear that are justified through a reactivation of differences of race class and gender Against this backdrop this collection investigates contemporary understandings of history and cultural memory In doing so the reader will join the leading European contributors of this title in examining how crisis and decline in contemporary Europe trigger a selective forgetting and remodelling of the past Indeed Austere Histories in European Societies breaks new paths in scholarship by synthesising and connecting current European debates on migration racism and multiculturalism In addition to this the authors present debates on cultural memory and the place of the colonial legacy within an extensive comparative framework and across the boundaries of the humanities and social sciences This book will appeal to scholars and students across the social sciences and humanities particularly in European studies memory studies sociology postcolonial studies migration studies European history cultural policy cultural heritage economics and political theory Parliamentary
