Eco Living Architecture In Focus:

Eco Living Chris van Uffelen, 2013 Combining sustainability with trendsetting design is one of the great challenges of contemporary architecture Resource sparing living space is one of the most important themes This title shows the variety of possibilities with the established technologies as well as newer experimental approaches The Rise of Living Architecture, 2012 Gives voice to more than fifty extraordinary people who are currently engaged with this transformation These individuals form a diverse community that cuts across professional disciplines cultural linguistic and geographical boundaries They share a belief that they can make a difference through their varied efforts to expand living architectural approaches that result in biophilic restorative buildings and healthier and more resilient communities Nature by Design Stephen R. Kellert, 2018-01-01 A gorgeously illustrated accessible book that provides a holistic summary of the key elements for good biophilic design Living Architecture Graeme Hopkins, Christine Goodwin, 2011 Extensively illustrated with photographs and drawings Living Architecture highlights the most exciting green roof and living wall projects in Australia and New Zealand within an international context Living Architecture, Living Cities Christopher Day, Julie Gwilliam, 2019-11-08 It is widely accepted that our environment is in crisis Less widely recognized is that three quarters of environmental damage is due to cities the places where most of us live As this powerful new book elucidates global sustainability is therefore directly dependent on urban design In Living Architecture Living Cities Christopher Day and Julie Gwilliam move beyond the current emphasis on technological change They argue that eco technology allows us to continue broadly as before and only defers the impending disaster In reality most negative environmental impacts are due to how we live and the things we buy Such personal choices often result from dissatisfaction with our surroundings As perceived environment has a direct effect on attitudes and motivations improving this can achieve more sustainable lifestyles more effectively than drastic building change with its notorious performance gap limitations As it is in places that our inner feelings and material reality interact perceived environment is place based Ultimately however as the root cause of unsustainability is attitude real change requires moving from the current focus on buildings and technology to an emphasis on the non material Featuring over 400 high quality illustrations this is essential reading for anyone who believes in the value and power of good design Christopher Day's philosophy will continue to inspire students with an interest in sustainable architecture urban planning and related fields From Life to Architecture, to Life Tim Ireland, 2024-01-18 The book establishes a correlation between architectural theory and the biosemiotic project and suggest how this coupling establishes a framework leading to an architectural biosemiotic paradigm that puts biosemiotic theory at the heart of cognising the built environment and offers an approach to understanding and shaping the built environment that supports and benefits human and organismic spatial intelligence

The Evolution of Computation in Architecture Michael Fox, Bradley Bell, 2024-10-31 This book is the first comprehensive overview of the pioneering works events and people that contributed to the paradigm shift defined by computation in architecture Only recently has computation fostered profound new ways of designing fabricating constructing and thinking about architecture While the profession sits at the end of the beginning of this historically transformative shift it is now possible to look back upon the rapidly maturing landscape of projects influencers and tools that have finally begun to catch up with the visionary thinking of the past Readers are guided through the fascinating and fast paced historical timeline of the development of computation in architecture Beginning with an account of the pioneering futuristic thinkers the authors then guide the reader through the birth of computation the appropriation of tools and the impact of experimentation on the profession leading into the legitimacy of research and how paradigms have been expanded The examples and influences are presented in a way that they can be understood and built upon This book is a must read for students of computation in architecture as well as researchers and practicing architects thinking about how the tools we use and the ways we design our buildings and environments with them can truly impact our lives

Vernacular Architecture: Towards a Sustainable Future C. Mileto,F. Vegas,L. García Soriano,V. Cristini,2014-08-28 Sustainability is a concept that has monopolised a large number of the scientific debates in a wide range of spheres connected not only with architecture urban planning and construction but also with the product market tourism culture etc However sustainability is indissolubly linked to vernacular architecture and the lessons this architectu

Green Urbanism in Asia Peter Newman,Anne Matan,2013 The world is facing an age of scarcity which will challenge all cities to reduce their resource footprint especially carbon improve biodiversity and at the same time continue to create economic opportunities and liveable places This is green urbanism Asian urban growth is leading the world in the rapidity of its change but how is it doing on green urbanism This book finds emerging innovations and first signs of green urbanism in Asia and suggests they may be the guiding light for the rest of the world The authors highlight seven archetypal cities exhibiting green urbanism the renewable energy city the bioregional carbon neutral city the distributed city the biophilic city the eco efficient city the place based city and the sustainable transport city The book is a must read for all who are concerned with the future of our cities as it instills hope that a greener urban future is possible
