Food And Foodways In Asia Resource Tradition And Cooking:

Food and Foodways in Asia Sidney Cheung, Chee-Beng Tan, 2007-06-11 Food is an important cultural marker of identity in contemporary Asian societies and can provide a medium for the understanding of social relations family and kinship class and consumption gender ideology and cultural symbolism However a truly comprehensive view of food cannot neglect the politics of food production in particular how when from where and even why different kinds of food are produced prepared and supplied Food and Foodways in Asia is an anthropological inquiry providing rich ethnographic description and analysis of food production as it interacts with social and political complexities in Asia s diverse cultures Prominent anthropologists examine how food is related to ethnic identity and boundary formation consumerism and global food distribution and the invention of local cuisine in the context of increasing cultural contact With chapters ranging from the invention of local food for tourism development to Asia s contribution to world cuisine Food and Foodways in Asia will be a fascinating read for anyone interested in the anthropology of food and or Asian studies

Pizza and Pizza Chefs in Japan: A Case of Culinary Globalization Rossella Ceccarini, 2011-02-03 Scholars have extensively studied the entry of restaurant chains such as McDonald s into Asia and their reception while attention has also been paid to ethnic restaurants as agents of cultural globalization But what about the globalization of artisanal foods led by professional workers themselves This book looks at artisanal pizza in Japan as a cultural object globalized and domesticated through the agency of the food producer and shows that not only the food but also the craftsperson is going global The volume analyzes the reception of pizza in Japan the transnational flow of pizza chefs moving between Italy and Japan and the impact that the food and the workers movements have on the craft of pizza making itself

Culinary Nationalism in Asia Michelle T. King, 2019-07-11 With culinary nationalism defined as a process in flux as opposed to the limited concept of national cuisine the contributors of this book call for explicit critical comparisons of cases of culinary nationalism among Asian regions with the intention of recognizing patterns of modern culinary development As a result the formation of modern cuisine is revealed to be a process that takes place around the world in different forms and periods and not exclusive to current Eurocentric models Key themes include the historical legacies of imperialism colonialism nationalism the Cold War and global capitalism in Asian cuisines internal culinary boundaries between genders ethnicities social classes religious groups and perceived traditions modernities and global contexts of Asian cuisines as both nationalist and internationalist enterprises and Asia itself as a vibrant culinary imaginary The book which includes a foreword from Krishnendu Ray and an afterword from James L Watson sets out a fresh agenda for thinking about future food studies scholarship
