Food Price Dynamics Adjustment Eu:

Food Price Dynamics and Price Adjustment in the EU Steve McCorrison, 2015 This book addresses the important issue of food prices across EU Member States Although recent attention has focused on events in world commodity markets following the spikes in world prices in 2007 2008 and 2011 there has been comparatively little attention addressing food price dynamics at the retail level This volume addresses the characteristics of retail food price behaviour and the nature and drivers of price transmission across the EU There are several inter related features of the research reported here First the volume reports the characteristics of retail food inflation across the EU and the extent to which it differs from non food inflation Second given the different experience of food inflation across EU Member States it details the process of price transmission as shocks from upstream and world markets are passed through the food sector to the retail stage Third it addresses how the extent and nature of price transmission is determined by various aspects of competition throughout the domestic food sector and how the nature of vertical contracting between stages can determine the price transmission process Finally it outlines the potential of high frequency product specific scanner data to address price dynamics and adjustment issues and how scanner data can also be used to measure food price inflation The book will be of interest to researchers on price transmission and competition issues in the EU and given the wider interest on these issues coupled with the novel use of scanner data to researchers further afield The contributions will also be of interest to policymakers and stakeholders as they seek to make sense of and to address regulation issues as they relate to the food sector Agricultural Markets Instability Alberto Garrido, Bernhard Brümmer, Robert M'Barek, Miranda Meuwissen, Cristian Morales-Opazo, 2016-01-08 Since the financial and food price crises of 2007 market instability has been a topic of major concern to agricultural economists and policy professionals This volume provides an overview of the key issues surrounding food prices volatility focusing primarily on drivers long term implications of volatility and its impacts on food chains and consumers The book explores which factors and drivers are volatility increasing and which others are price level increasing and whether these two distinctive effects can be identified and measured It considers the extent to which increasing instability affects agents in the value chain as well as the actual impacts on the most vulnerable households in the EU and in selected developing countries It also analyses which policies are more effective to avert and mitigate the effects of instability Developed from the work of the European based ULYSSES project the book synthesises the most recent literature on the topic and presents the views of practitioners businesses NGOs and farmers organizations It draws policy responses and recommendations for policy makers at both European and on international levels Agricultural Value Chain Gokhan Egilmez, 2018-04-26 This book covers the agricultural value chain issues that occur in different parts of the world and aims to increase our understanding about the sustainable agricultural value chain paradigm By reading through these chapters the readers will witness various interesting sometimes sad commonalities among different regions of the world where smallholder farmers and producers are severely affected by various agricultural policy deficiencies or mistakes and inexistences The book consists of 14 chapters which comprehensively cover over 20 agricultural products from more than 15 different regions of the world Various qualitative and quantitative research methods are presented including surveys case studies interviews price transmission risk analysis and multiagent system technology External Liberalization in Asia, Post-Socialist Europe, and Brazil Lance Taylor, 2001-04-19 This book reports on a fundamental economic policy shift in transition and developing countries after the mid 1980s Since that time the liberalization of international trade and finance has been among the principal forces for increasing global integration Looking at the experiences of nine countries Argentina Columbia Cuba India Mexico Russia Korea Turkey and Zimbabwe and the often negative effects that liberalization has had on them the contributors include policy recommendations for often overlooked problems and challenges posed by globalization

Adjusting to EU Enlargement Constantine A. Stephanou, 2006 Before the latest EU enlargement substantial changes in the integration process were predicted as a result of the accession of 10 new Member States with some forecasting cataclysmic consequences This book one of the first ex postassessments of EU enlargement provides evidence to the contrary while also providing examples in which the new Members have been able to influence EU policy output with their liberal attitudes on economic and social policy This book will be of great interest to EU policymakers including officials of European institutions whose primary concerns are policy adjustment and EU external relations It will also be of interest to academics and students specialising in EU affairs especially European integration organisation governance and public policy
