Academic Voices Kjersti Fløttum, Trine Gedde-Dahl, Torodd Kinn, 2006-01-01 This book explores how the voices of authors and other researchers are manifested in academic discourse and how the author handles the polyphonic interaction between these various parties It represents a unique study of academic discourse in that it takes a doubly contrastive approach focusing on the two factors of discipline and language at the same time It is based on a large electronic corpus of 450 research articles from three disciplines economics linguistics and medicine in three languages English French and Norwegian The book investigates whether disciplines and languages may be said to represent different cultures with regard to person manifestation in the texts What is being studied is thus cultural identities as tendencies in linguistic practices For the majority of the features focused on e g metatext and bibliographical references the discipline factor turns out to contribute more strongly to the variation observed than the language factor However for some of the features e g pronouns and negation the language factor is also quite strong Additional background information on the investigations reported in this book can be found at www.uib.no/kiap
