Barkley Adult ADHD Rating Scale-IV (BAARS-IV) Russell

A. Barkley, 2011-02-01 The Barkley Adult ADHD Rating Scale IV BAARS IV offers an essential tool for assessing current ADHD symptoms and domains of impairment as well as recollections of childhood symptoms. Directly linked to DSM IV diagnostic criteria, the scale includes both self-report and other-report forms for example spouse, parent or sibling. Barkley, 2011-05-11 To diagnose a mental disorder or evaluate a disability claim, clinicians must assess functional impairment, not just the presence of symptoms. Featuring both self-report and other-report forms for example spouse, parent or sibling, the BFIS is reliable, valid and user-friendly. Gregory Thomas Farber, 2021 Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD) which has been found to impair one's social, familial, scholastic and occupational adjustment is one of the most comprehensively examined neurodevelopmental disorders. For deaf individuals, language and executive functioning have important implications for cognitive and academic functioning. However, for deaf and hard of hearing (DHH) individuals with ADHD, it is not clear to what extent their cognitive and academic functioning are impacted as the amount of research conducted with deaf individuals with ADHD has been limited, especially within the realm of deaf adults. There are many areas that need to be explored in relation to ADHD executive dysfunction, deaf individuals and language acquisition, secondary language delay. In relation to evaluating and assessing a DHH individual for ADHD, Farber (2019) demonstrated evidence of validity for the Barkley Adult ADHD Rating Scale IV BAARS IV as a screening measure for ADHD in college-level deaf students. For this study, the validity of the BAARS IV as a screener for discriminating

ADHD from Non ADHD among college level D HH students was replicated and additional evidence of concurrent validity obtained This study also demonstrated evidence of validity for the Barkley Deficits in Executive Functions Scale BDEFS as a screening measure for executive functions in college level deaf individuals Also this study provided a clearer understanding of the significant role that executive functions play in the overall functioning of D HH individuals with and without ADHD
