Wong, 2007-06-12 Existential and Spiritual Issues in Death Attitudes provides an in depth examination of death attitudes existentialism and spirituality and their relationships a review of the major theoretical models clinical applications of these models to issues such as infertility bereavement anxiety and suicide and an introduction to meaning management theory and how it can be applied to grief counseling In this new volume death is treated both as a threat to meaning and as an opportunity to create meaning The first section introduces theory and methodology to connect the latest empirical research on death attitudes to the philosophical psychological existential and spirituality literature Part II presents the latest empirical research on subjects such as end of life decisions and living with HIV The final section considers therapeutic applications to issues including suicide infertility bereavement and anxiety The concluding chapter highlights the book s common themes and provides questions to encourage further investigation of the most critical topics Psychologists counselors social workers physicians nurses and religious leaders as well as academics in the fields of psychology gerontology philosophy religion counseling social work sociology and medicine will value this new resource Main points summarize important ideas of each chapter making it an appropriate text in courses on death and dying and or and spirituality Its clinical applications will appeal to practicing professionals Death Attitudes and the Older Adult Adrian Tomer, 2018-10-24 This innovative and informative new text bridges the fields of gerontology and thanatology The Science of Religion, Spirituality, and Existentialism Kenneth E. Vail III, Clay Routledge, 2020-04-04 The Science of Religion Spirituality and Existentialism presents in depth analysis of the core issues in existential psychology their connections to religion and spirituality e g religious concepts beliefs identities and practices and their diverse outcomes e g psychological social cultural and health Leading scholars from around the world cover research exploring how fundamental existential issues are both cause and consequence of religion and spirituality informed by research data spanning multiple levels of analysis such as evolution cognition and neuroscience emotion and motivation personality and individual differences social and cultural forces physical and mental health among many others The Science of Religion Spirituality and Existentialism explores known contours and emerging frontiers addressing the big question of why religious belief remains such a central feature of the human experience Discusses both abstract concepts of mortality and concrete near death experiences Covers the struggles and triumphs associated with freedom self regulation and authenticity Examines the roles of social exclusion experiential isolation attachment and the construction of social identity Considers the problems of uncertainty the effort to discern truth and reality and the challenge to find meaning in life Discusses how the mind developed to handle existential topics how the brain and mind implement the relevant processes and the many variations and individual differences that alter those processes Delves into the psychological functions of religion and science the influence on pro and antisocial behavior politics and public policy and looks at the role of spiritual concerns in understanding the human body and maintaining physical health Death Anxiety and Religious Belief Jonathan Jong, Jamin Halberstadt, 2016-08-25 There are no atheists in foxholes or so we hear The thought that the fear of death motivates religious belief has been around since the earliest speculations about the origins of religion There are hints of this idea in the ancient world but the theory achieves prominence in the works of Enlightenment critics and Victorian theorists of religion and has been further developed by contemporary cognitive scientists Why do people believe in gods Because they fear death Yet despite the abiding appeal of this simple hypothesis there has not been a systematic attempt to evaluate its central claims and the assumptions underlying them Do human beings fear death If so who fears death more religious or nonreligious people Do reminders of our mortality really motivate religious belief Do religious beliefs actually provide comfort against the inevitability of death In Death Anxiety and Religious Belief Jonathan Jong and Jamin Halberstadt begin to answer these questions drawing on the extensive literature on the psychology of death anxiety and religious belief from childhood to the point of death as well as their own experimental research on conscious and unconscious fear and faith In the course of their investigations they consider the history of ideas about religion s origins challenges of psychological measurement and the very nature of emotion and belief
