Emotion Identity And Religion Hope Reciprocity And Otherness:

Emotion, Identity, and Religion Douglas James Davies, 2011 Emotion, Identity, and Religion Douglas J.

Davies, 2011-03-10 Religions manage human emotions by coupling them with core cultural values and particular religious traditions favour a distinctive pattern or syndrome of emotions and values Douglas J Davies uses insights from anthropology sociology cognitive science and psychology to explore the dynamics of emotional life that forge our human identity

Emotions and Religious Dynamics Nathaniel A. Warne, 2016-05-13 We all feel emotions and are moved to action by them Religious communities often select and foster certain emotions over others Without understanding this it is hard to grasp the way groups view the world and each other Often it is the underlying emotional pattern of a group rather than its doctrines that either divides it from or attracts it to others These issues so important in today's world are explored in this book in a genuinely interdisciplinary way by anthropologists psychologists theologians and historians of religion and in some detailed studies of well and less well known religious traditions from across the world Religion and the Individual: Belief, Practice, and Identity Douglas J. Davies, Michael J. Thate, 2018-07-05 This book is a printed edition of the Special Issue Religion and the Individual Belief Practice and Identity that was published in Religions Emotions and Religious Dynamics Douglas James Davies, 2013 We all feel emotions and are moved to action by them Religious communities often select and foster certain emotions over others Without understanding this it is hard to grasp the way groups view the world and each other Often it is the underlying emotional pattern of a group rather than its doctrines that either divides it from or attracts it to others These issues so important in today's world are explored in this book in a genuinely interdisciplinary way by anthropologists psychologists theologians and historians of religion and in some detailed studies of well and less well known religious traditions from across the world International Journal of Mormon Studies Volume 6 (2013) David M. Morris, 2013-12-27 The International Journal of Mormon Studies is a European based internationally focused peer reviewed online and printed scholarly journal which is committed to the promotion of interdisciplinary scholarship by publishing articles and reviews of current work in the field of Mormon studies With high quality international contributors the journal explores Mormon studies and its related subjects In addition IJMS provides those who submit manuscripts for publication with useful timely feedback by making the review process constructive Hope from a Body in Pain Lena Maria Lorenz, 2025-12-03 This book explores the phenomenon of hope in the context of long term ill health It brings medicine psychology and theology in dialogue with the voices of those with first hand experience of chronic pain The chapters reflect on existing psychological literature on hope the theological perspectives of three key figures Augustine Aquinas and Moltmann and interview based empirical research with persons who live with chronic pain In a theological framework hope is a complex and dynamic force which incorporates and yet goes beyond any understandings within the cognitive behavioural framework of psychology The author challenges a highly individualistic and positivistic view on hope and argues for hope as intuitive reflective active and communal The book will be of particular interest to scholars working at the intersection of medicine psychology and theology as well as those in the medical humanities Panjab University Research Bulletin ,1988 Giornale della libreria ,2005

The Philosopher's Index ,1988 Exclusion and Embrace Miroslav Volf,1996 Life at the end of the twentieth century presents us with a disturbing reality Otherness the simple fact of being different in some way has come to be defined as in and of itself evil Miroslav Volf contends that if the healing word of the gospel is to be heard today Christian theology must find ways of speaking that address the hatred of the other Reaching back to the New Testament metaphor of salvation as reconciliation Volf proposes the idea of embrace as a theological response to the problem of exclusion Increasingly we see that exclusion has become the primary sin skewing our perceptions of reality and causing us to react out of fear and anger to all those who are not within our ever narrowing circle In light of this Christians must learn that salvation comes not only as we are reconciled to God and not only as we learn to live with one another but as we take the dangerous and costly step of opening ourselves to the other of enfolding him or her in the same embrace with which we have been enfolded by God Is there any hope of embracing our enemies Of opening the door to reconciliation Miroslav Volf a Yale University theologian has won the 2002 Louisville Grawemeyer Award in Religion for his book Exclusion Embrace A Theological Exploration of Identity Otherness and Reconciliation Abingdon 1996 Volf argues that exclusion of people who are alien or different is among the most intractable problems in the world today He writes It may not be too much to claim that the future of our world will depend on how we deal with identity and difference The issue is urgent The ghettos and battlefields throughout the world in the living rooms in inner cities or on the mountain ranges testify indisputably to its importance A Croatian by birth Volf takes as a starting point for his analysis the recent civil war and ethnic cleansing in the former Yugoslavia but he readily finds other examples of cultural ethnic and racial conflict to illustrate his points And since September 11 one can scarcely help but plug the new world players into his incisive descriptions of the dynamics of interethnic and international strife Exclusion happens Volf argues wherever impenetrable barriers are set up that prevent a creative encounter with the other It is easy to assume that exclusion is the problem or practice of barbarians who live over there but Volf persuades us that exclusion is all too often our practice here as well Modern western societies including American society typically recite their histories as narratives of inclusion and Volf celebrates the truth in these narratives But he points out that these narratives conveniently omit certain groups who disturb the integrity of their happy ending plots Therefore such narratives of inclusion invite long and gruesome counter narratives of exclusion the brutal histories of slavery and of the decimation of Native American populations come readily to mind but more current examples could also be found Most proposed solutions to the problem of exclusion have focused on social arrangements what kind of society ought we to create in order to accommodate individual or communal difference Volf focuses rather on what kind of selves we need to be in order to live in harmony with others In addressing the topic Volf stresses the social implications of divine self giving The Christian scriptures attest that God does not abandon the godless to their evil but gives of Godself to bring them into communion We are called to do likewise whoever our enemies and whoever we may be The divine mandate to embrace as God has embraced is summarized in Paul's injunction to the Romans Welcome one another therefore just as Christ has welcomed you Romans 15:7 Susan R Garrett Coordinator of the Religion Award said that the Grawemeyer selection committee praised Volf's book on many counts These included its profound interpretation of certain pivotal passages of Scripture and its brilliant engagement with contemporary theology philosophy critical theory and feminist theory Volf's focus is not on social strategies or programs but rather on showing us new ways to understand ourselves and our relation to our enemies He helps us to imagine new possibilities for living against violence injustice and deception Garrett added that although addressed primarily to Christians Volf's theological statement opens itself to religious pluralism by upholding the importance of different religious and cultural traditions for the formation of personal and group identity The call to embrace the other is never a call to remake the other into one's own image Volf who had just delivered a lecture on the topic of Exclusion and Embrace at a prayer breakfast for the United Nations when the first hijacked plane hit the World Trade Center will present a lecture and receive his award in Louisville during the first week of April 2002 The annual Religion Award which includes a cash prize of 200,000 is given jointly by Louisville Presbyterian Theological Seminary and the University of Louisville to the authors or originators of creative works that contribute significantly to an understanding of the relationship between human beings and the divine and ways in which this relationship may inspire or empower human beings to attain wholeness integrity or meaning either individually or in community The Grawemeyer awards given also by the University of Louisville in the fields of musical composition education psychology and world order honor the virtue of accessibility works chosen for the awards must be comprehensible to thinking persons who are not specialists in the various fields

The Religious Other Alon

Goshen-Gottstein, 2018-08-08 One of the biggest challenges for relations between religions is the view of the religious Other The question touches the roots of our theological views The Religious Other Hostility Hospitality and the Hope of Human Flourishing explores the views of multiple religious traditions on how to regard otherness How does one move from hostility to hospitality How can hospitality be understood not simply as social hospitality but as theological hospitality making room for the religious Other on theological grounds What is our vision for the flourishing of the Other while respecting his otherness This volume is an exercise in constructive interreligious theology By including Abrahamic and non Abrahamic traditions it approaches these challenges from multiple perspectives highlighting commonalities in approach and ways in which one tradition might inspire another Contributors Vincent J Cornell Alon Goshen-Gottstein Richard P Hayes Lord Rabbi Jonathan Sacks Deepak Sarma Stephen W Sykes Dharma Master Hsin Tao Ashok Vohra

Exclusion and Embrace Miroslav Volf, 2019-08-20 Life in the twenty first century presents a disturbing reality Otherness the simple fact of being different in some way has come to be defined as in and of itself evil Miroslav Volf contends that if the healing word of the gospel is to be heard today Christian theology must find ways of speaking that address the hatred of the other Is there any hope of embracing our enemies Of opening the door to reconciliation Reaching back to the New Testament metaphor of salvation as reconciliation Volf proposes the idea of embrace as a theological response to the problem of exclusion Increasingly we see that exclusion has become the primary sin skewing our perceptions of reality and causing us to react out of fear and anger to all those who are not within our ever narrowing circle In light of this Christians must learn that salvation comes not only as we are reconciled to God and not only as we learn to live with one another but as we take the dangerous and costly step of opening ourselves to the other of enfolding him or her in the same embrace with which we have been enfolded by God Volf won the 2002 Louisville Grawemeyer Award in Religion for the first edition of his book Exclusion Embrace A Theological Exploration of Identity Otherness and Reconciliation Abingdon 1996 In that first edition professor Volf a Croatian by birth analyzed the civil war and ethnic cleansing in the former Yugoslavia and he readily found other examples of cultural ethnic and racial conflict to illustrate his points Since September 11 2001 and the subsequent epidemic of terror and massive refugee suffering throughout the world Volf revised Exclusion and Embrace to account for the evolving dynamics of inter ethnic and international strife

Complex Identities in a Shifting World Pamela Couture, Robert Mager, Pamela McCarroll, Natalie Wigg-Stevenson, 2015 Clear and well defined identities are hard to sustain in a rapidly shifting world Peoples goods and cultures are on the move The internet and other technologies increase the amount the speed and the intensity of cultural exchanges Individuals organizations and nations develop complex identities out of many traditions different ideals various ways of life and many models of organization Religious traditions both collide and interact with spiritual journeys crossing religious boundaries In this book more than 20 contributors from different backgrounds and academic disciplines offer an array of practical theological perspectives to help understand these complex identities and negotiate this shifting world Series International Practical Theology Vol 17 Subject Religious Studies Cultural Studies

Theology of Emotions Sky Cady, 2012-12-01 As a Christian who values strong emotional experience and rigorous rational thought I would identify myself as a reformed charismatic with a heart for cross cultural mission who desperately wants to know and love Jesus and others better In this book I will not be arguing for the role of emotion as sole interpreter of reality or falling into the abyss of process theology but seek to give emotion more weight in understanding our view of reality More specifically I hope to shed light on the false distinction between reason and emotion and show how this gives us substance to better understand and know God This book will argue for a theology of emotions that balances reason and emotion in a purple biblically approved faithfully honest psychologically integrative and theologically composite way

Encountering the Other Laura Duhan-Kaplan, Harry O. Maier, 2020-04-17 How do religious traditions create strangers and neighbors How do they construct otherness Or instead work to overcome it In this exciting collection of interdisciplinary essays scholars and activists from various traditions explore these questions Through legal and media studies they reveal how we see religious others They show that Jewish Christian Islamic and Sikh texts frame others in open ended ways Conflict resolution experts and Hindu teachers they explain draw on a shared positive psychology Jewish mystics and Christian contemplatives use powerful tools of compassionate perception Finally the authors explain how Christian theology can help teach respectful views of difference They are not afraid to discuss how religious groups have alienated one another But together they choose to draw positive lessons about future cooperation

Negotiating Identity and Religion Taylor & Francis Group, Toolika Wadhwa, 2021-09-30 This book examines the religious lives of young adults growing up in inter religious families in India It explores complex questions of identity social background and religion in twenty first century India The volume studies the religious commitments of young adults analyses the identity formation process for a critical age group and discusses the interpersonal dynamics within inter religious families Drawing on real life stories of mixed heritage Hindu Sikh Muslim Christian Jain Buddhist and Parsi this volume will be of great interest to scholars and researchers of psychology education sociology and social anthropology religious studies politics and other interdisciplinary studies
