

LibreOffice Conference

The LibreOffice Conference is the annual gathering of the community, our end-users, and everyone interested in free office software. Every year, it takes place in a different country

For 2016, the conference was held from 7th – 9th of September in Brno, the second largest city in the Czech Republic. Most of the event took place at the attractive Faculty of Information Technology building, a former Cartesian monastery, in Brno University of Technology. Over 100 people from across the globe attended the conference, including LibreOffice developers, community volunteers and Google Summer of Code students. For many attendees, it was their first LibreOffice Conference – and therefore the first time they had met other community members in person face-to-face.
