Doing Archaeology A Cultural Resource Management Perspective:

Doing Archaeology Thomas F King, 2016-06-16 A textbook for introductory archaeology students that focuses on the contemporary practice of cultural resources management archaeology      Cultural Resource Management Thomas F. King, 2020-02-03 Stressing the interdisciplinary public policy oriented character of Cultural Resource Management CRM which is not merely applied archaeology this short relatively uncomplicated introduction is aimed at emerging archaeologists Drawing on fifty plus years experience and augmented by the advice of fourteen collaborators Cultural Resource Management explains what CRM archaeologists do and explores the public policy ethical and pragmatic implications of doing it for a living      New Perspectives in Cultural Resource Management Francis P. McManamon, 2017-09-14 New Perspectives in Cultural Resource Management describes the historic developments current challenges and future opportunities presented by contemporary Cultural Resource Management CRM CRM is a substantial aspect of archaeology history historical architecture historical preservation and public policy in the US and other countries Chapter authors are innovators and leaders in the development and contemporary practice of CRM Collectively they have conducted thousands of investigations and managed programs at local state tribal and national levels The chapters provide perspectives on the methods policies and procedures of historical and contemporary CRM Recommendations are provided on current practices likely to be effective in the coming decades      A Companion to Cultural Resource Management Thomas F. King, 2011-03-29 A Companion to Cultural Resource Management is an essential guide to those wishing to gain a deeper understanding of CRM and heritage management Expert contributors share their knowledge and illustrate CRM s practice and scope as well as the core issues and realities in preserving cultural heritages worldwide Edited by one of the world s leading experts in the field of cultural resource management with contributions by a wide range of experts including archaeologists architectural historians museum curators historians and representatives of affected groups Offers a broad view of cultural resource management that includes archaeological sites cultural landscapes historic structures shipwrecks scientific and technological sites and objects as well as intangible resources such as language religion and cultural values Highlights the realities that face CRM practitioners on the ground      Archaeological Review from Cambridge ,2006      Quality Management in Archaeology W. J. H. Willems, Monique Henriëtte van den Dries, 2007 Quality Management in Archaeology deals with the effects of the profound changes that have had an impact on the discipline of archaeology all over the world In North America in Europe and increasingly in other parts of the world new legislation and international treaties have changed its position in society What was once a university based research activity by a limited number of academics has become a socially relevant field with many practitioners that are mostly employed in some branch of archaeological resource management Archaeology has been successful in persuading governments and the general public that more should be done to preserve archaeological heritage and to investigate it where it will be irretrievably lost The scale and frequency of archaeological work has increased vastly at considerable cost to society Consequently there is pressure to do the work efficiently and economically At the same time academic standards have to be maintained to assure that the end result will be the relevant knowledge about the past that society pays for Different countries have found different approaches and solutions to deal with this dilemma Sometimes commercial archaeology is allowed sometimes it is not but in every national context quality has to be managed in some way This book presents a survey by specialists from the US Canada and several European countries on how this is done what the principles are and also the priorities It will be useful for anyone interested in archaeological resource management
