Domestic Regulation And Service Trade Liberalization Trade And Development:

Domestic Regulation and Service Trade Liberalization Aaditya Mattoo, Pierre Sauvé, 2003-01-01 This text addresses two central questions what impact can international trade rules on services have on the exercise of domestic regulatory sovereignty and how can services negotiations be harnessed to promote and consolidate domestic policy reform across highly diverse sectors

WTO Domestic Regulation and Services Trade Aik Hoe Lim, Bart De Meester, 2014-03-13 Domestic regulation of services sectors has a significant impact on services trade liberalization which is why General Agreement on Trade in Services GATS disciplines are negotiated in the WTO With the help of analyses and case studies from academics regulators and trade experts this book explores the scope and limits of WTO legal principles to promote domestic regulatory reform Case studies discuss country specific challenges and experiences of regulating important service sectors such as finance telecommunications distribution legal education health postal and logistics services as well as the role of regulatory impact assessments The findings will interest trade officials policy makers regulators think tanks and businesses concerned with the implications of domestic regulation on access to services markets and with the opportunities for formulating trade disciplines in this area It is also a useful resource for academics and students researching regulatory approaches and practices in services sectors

National Regulation and Trade Liberalization in Services Markus Krajewski, 2003-01-01 Like tariffs and other border measures national regulatory barriers impede international trade Unlike tariffs however such barriers usually indicate an important domestic policy choice This conflict of interest has emerged as a crucial issue in international law particularly with regard to services such as telecommunications and health services This study is the first to analyze the potential impact of incompatibilities between national regulatory regimes and the rules and obligations imposed by the General Agreement on Trade in Services GATS In the process of arriving at his challenging concluding theses the author investigates such relevant concepts as the following the political and ideological dynamics of GATS negotiations services trade liberalization in regional integration systems particularly in EC law policies common to diverse national regulatory systems the notions of deregulation and privatization the human rights implications of international trade law the GATS obligations of market access national treatment and most favoured nation treatment the role of the WTO's dispute settlement organs GATS transparency obligations Professor Krajewski's study is of enormous significance to specialists in regulatory policies and instruments at all national and sectoral levels especially in the context of ongoing GATS negotiations As the author warns Unless GATS negotiators and national regulators have a thorough understanding of the relationship between GATS obligations and regulatory policies and instruments they cannot effectively use the flexible elements of GATS and could reach an agreement which they may later regret

Trade Law, Domestic Regulation And Development Joel P Trachtman, 2015-04-08 Trade Law Domestic Regulation and Development is about the relationship between trade regulation and development By combining law and economics perspectives on the international trading system Trachtman takes an interdisciplinary approach in analyzing the topic of globalization and economic development In a developing economy as globalization proceeds a critical factor is the relationship between liberalization of movement of goods services and people on the one hand and the right to regulate including the right to regulate for development on the other hand In the context of market access all countries need the right to restrict imports of goods or services that may hurt consumers or the broader society and developing countries sometimes need the ability to subsidize their own goods and services or sometimes to restrict imports of goods or services in order to promote development Nonetheless both developed and developing countries often fall into the trap of regulating for protectionist or corrupt reasons Finding the right balance between market access and regulation is the subject of analysis in this collected volume of 16 papers by Trachtman and presented in a manner that is accessible and interesting to both law and economics readers In Trachtman s own words The purpose of international trade law in this context globalization seems to be to allow states to agree to avoid creating these inefficient policy externalities not to force all states to dance to the same tune Vietnam at a Crossroads Claire Hollweg,Tanya Smith,Daria

Taglioni,2017-03-15 Vietnam is at a crossroads It can grow as an export platform for GVCs specializing in low value added assembly functions with industrialization occurring in enclaves with little connection to the broader economy or society or it can leverage the current wave of growth enabled and accelerated by its successful participation in GVCs to diversify and move up the chain into higher value added functions Success will require Vietnam s policymakers to view the processes of development differently and to take new realities of the global economy more fully into account The purpose of this volume is to support Vietnam s path to economic prosperity by identifying policies and targeted interventions that will drive development through leveraging GVC participation that take major shifts in trade policy and rapid technological advances in ICT into account The volume is based on a compilation of studies completed by World Bank staff and external consultants in 2015 supporting the Enabling Economic Modernization and Private Sector Development chapter of the Vietnam 2035 report The objective of these studies was to diagnose Vietnam s current participation in GVCs visualize where Vietnam could be by 2035 in the context of a changing global environment and identify the policy actions needed to get there The studies also supported topics related more broadly to export competitiveness including firm level productivity services and connectivity It then identifies targeted strategies and policy interventions that will help overcome challenges minimize risks and maximize opportunities Readers will gain a strong understanding of Vietnam s current and potential engagement with GVCs and will learn about strategic GVC policy tools that can help developing countries achieve economic prosperity in the context of compressed development Developments in Services of General Interest Erika Szyszczak,Jim Davies,Mads

Hoekman, 2006 Abstract Since the mid 1980s a substantial amount of research has been undertaken on trade in services Much of this is inspired by the World Trade Organization or regional trade agreements especially the European Union but an increasing number of papers focus on the impacts of services sector liberalization This paper surveys the literature focusing on contributions that investigate the determinants of international trade and investment in services the potential gains from greater trade and liberalization and efforts to cooperate to achieve such liberalization through trade agreements It concludes that there is increasing evidence that services liberalization is an important source of potential welfare gains but relatively little research has been done that can inform the design of international cooperation both trade agreements and development assistance so as to more effectively promote development objectives Services Trade Liberalisation and Facilitation Sherry
