Facades Building Envelopes For The 21st Century:

Façades - Building Envelopes for the 21st Century, 2006 Building envelopes for the 21st century Schüco International KG, 2013 Reports on Schüco International's exhibition at BAU 2013 held January 14-19 2013 Building envelopes for the 21st century, 2013 Glass & Interactive Building Envelopes Michel Crisinel, 2007 The concept of tomorrow's towns and cities will be based on new social economic and technological ideals focused on improving the quality of life To attain this objective architects and engineers of today must improve the quality of buildings and establish new principles of building conception The quality of interior space and the impact of a building on its surroundings depends strongly on the physical interface that separates the outer environment from the inner building space The conception and realisation of this interface the envelope are therefore of prime importance

Misfits & Hybrids: Architectural Artifacts for the 21st-Century City Ferda Kolatan, 2024-06-18 Contemporary cities are shaped by the unlikely adjacencies of objects that are vastly different in kind origin and scale buildings infrastructure and other urban components that over time accumulate into mismatched configurations However despite the ubiquity of these oddities and their impact on the city we rarely give them much consideration In Misfits Hybrids Ferda Kolatan explores the untapped potential in these unexpected conditions for a new kind of architecture A diverse array of projects developed in Kolatan's design studios at the University of Pennsylvania Weitzman School of Design illustrates how hybrid artifacts can reveal the often overlooked cultural socio political and material histories of a site fostering design tactics invested in reinventing the existing Set within the cosmopolitan megacities of Istanbul Cairo and New York the projects are conceived as real fictions conjuring novel narrative aesthetic and representational forms to reflect the pluralistic postindustrial city

Energy Production and Management in the 21st Century E. R. Magaril, C. A. Brebbia, M. Y. Khodorovsky, 2014-04-23 Discussing the future of energy production and management in a changing world this book contains the proceedings of the first international conference on Energy Production and Management in the 21st Century The Quest for Sustainable Energy Developed societies require an ever increasing amount of energy resources which creates complex technological challenges The idea is to compare conventional energy sources particularly hydrocarbons with a number of other ways of producing energy emphasising new technological developments The challenge in many cases is the conversion of new sources of energy into useful forms while finding efficient ways of storing and distributing energy Energy policies and management are of primary importance to achieving sustainability and need to be consistent with recent advances made in energy production and distribution The book will also discuss the energy use of industrial processes including the imbedded energy contents of materials particularly those in the built environment Energy production distribution and usage result in environmental risks which need to be better understood They are part of the energy economics and relate to human environmental health as well as ecosystems behaviour Topics covered include Energy production Energy management Energy policies Energy and economic growth Energy efficiency Hydropower Wind energy Solar energy Nuclear energy Biomass and biofuels Energy storage Hydrocarbons Gas production Processing of oil and gas Energy conversion Energy savings Energy in the built environment Energy networks Pipelines Energy balance Energy economics Heat pumping systems Environmental risk Safety management Emissions C O2 separation and storage Imbedded energy Energy and transport Energy use in industry Energy transmission and distribution Energy industry efficiency Energy security Training in energy and sustainability COST Action TU0905 Mid-term Conference on Structural Glass

Jan Belis,Christian Louter,Danijel Mocibob,2013-04-05 The application of glass as a structural material may seem surprising initially yet pioneering glass structures were first built two decades ago already Ever since Structural Glass has been developing at a very high pace thanks to very intensive scientific and industrial research and new technological developments Right at the heart of these rap Building Engineering Facing the Challenges of the 21st Century David Bienvenido-Huertas,Joaquín Durán-Álvarez,2023-07-24 Building engineering is a complex and constantly evolving branch The needs of the XXI century society cause a constant change in construction industry due to the need to achieve sustainable and ecological buildings This affects all levels and phases of this engineering Given this circumstance numerous researchers turn their efforts to find optimal solutions for building engineering For this reason in this book a holistic analysis of building engineering is carried out from the perspectives that have a greater weight for sustainability objectives The book is divided into 6 sections i Building materials which deals with research related to the most innovative and sustainable building materials ii Design and construction which deals with existing methodologies and advances in design and construction in construction sector iii Building repair and maintenance which deals with building repair maintenance and upkeep techniques iv Energy efficiency which analyses the latest research on the energy efficiency of buildings and their behaviour in the face of climate change v Sustainability which analyses the establishment of measures to achieve a more sustainable built environment and vi construction management which compiles the latest studies in the field of Project manager The 38 chapters of the book together constitute an advance for the topic of building engineering The aspects covered in the book are of great interest to various sectors such as researchers engineers architects legislators and interested parties Insights: Frontiers in Built Environment Zhen Chen,Akira Matsumoto,Joan Ramon Casas,Vagelis

The Ecologies of the Building Envelope Alejandro Zaera-Polo, Jeffrey Anderson, 2021-05-11 The Ecologies of the Envelope theorizes the building envelope as a literal embodiment of the social political technological and economic contingencies which have become embedded within it over the last century analyzing the historical lineages heroes and villains that helped define the complex material ecologies we see within the envelope today While the fa ade is one of the most thoroughly theorized elements of architecture it is also one of the most questioned since the end of the 19th century Within the discipline of architecture the traditional understanding of the fa ade focuses primarily on semiotic and compositional operations such as proportional laws and linguistic codes which are deployed on the building s surface In contrast to this our material and environmental theory of the envelope proposes that the exponential development of building technologies since the mid 19th century coupled with new techniques of management and regulation have diminished the compositional and ornamental capacities of the envelope in favor of material quantitative and technical performances Rather than producing a stylistic analysis of the fa ade we investigate the historical lineages of the performances components assembly types and material entanglements that constitute the contemporary building envelope

Cost C16, Improving the Quality of Existing Urban Building Envelopes Luís Bragança, 2007 As a result of changes in the composition of the population society changes continuously with respect to various factors including age structure family composition and the availability of energy Changes lead to situations that are reflected in the commissioning of buildings which is gradually shifted from new construction to the reuse and renovation of existing buildings The adaptation of buildings often requires the modification of facades and the construction behind The scope of this action within the COST Transport and Urban Development Domain is to improve techniques and methods for envelopes of buildings constructed during the last half of the 20th century in the COST countries In other words it is directed on the building envelopes of the so cled non traditional buildings This publication is based on a support by COST an intergovernmental European framework for international cooperation between nationally funded research activities COST creates scientific networks and enables scientists to collaborate in a wide spectrum of activities in research and technology

The Architects' Journal , 2006-04 AM Envelope Holger Strauss, 2013-01-29 This book shows the potential of Additive Manufacturing AM for the development of building envelopes AM will change the way of designing facades how we engineer and produce them To achieve today's demands from those future envelopes we have to find new solutions The term AM Envelope Additive Manufacturing Envelope describes the transfer of this technology to the building envelope Additive Fabrication is a building block that aids in developing the building envelope from a mere space enclosure to a dynamic building envelope AM offers the opportunity to manufacture facades just in time It is no longer necessary to store or produce large numbers of parts in advance Initial investment for tooling can be avoided as design improvements can be realized within the dataset of the AM part AM is based on tool less production all parts can be further developed with every new generation The basic principle of AM opens a fascinating new world of engineering no matter what applications can be found to design for function rather to design for production turns our way of engineering of the last century upside down A collection of AM applications therefore offers the outlook to our built future in combination with the acquired knowledge
