This packet has been published even though it is still under construction. Consider this a rough draft. It does not include notes that summarize each topic of study. Although it is incomplete, it is still an excellent study tool.

THE TOPICS OF STUDY IN THIS PACKET ARE:

- + THE INDUSTRIAL REVOLUTION
- + KARL MARX – COMMUNISM VS. LIBERAL FREE CAPITALISM
- + THE IRISH POTATO FAMINE OF THE 1840s

THE INDUSTRIAL REVOLUTION

The breakdown of traditional, increased levels of pollution, and the expansion of cities and negative aspects of
(1) pollution

(2) urbanization

(3) progress

(4) urbanization

sec 1-22

Now your answer to the following questions on the passage below and use your knowledge of social studies.

... The factory owners did not have the power or capital [money] to take a factory job. They could only hire people who were ready to work for the wages offered to them. Even so these wage rates were, they were sometimes made lower than those people could earn in any other field open to them. It is a distortion of facts to say that the factories carried off the youngsters from the villages and the children from their play. These women had nothing to work with and [nothing] to feed their children. Their children were destitute [poor] and starving. Their only refuge was the factory. It saved them, in the strict sense of the term, from death by starvation. . . . – Loring and Mrs. Thomas Nelson, A History of Economic and Social Change

Which statement summarizes the theme of this passage?

(1) Factory owners created improved conditions.

(2) Factory owners profited to use child laborers.

(3) The factory system affected people in many ways.

(4) The factory system caused major social classes.

Cynthia Gerstl-Pepin,Judith A. Aiken,2012-10-01 The global economic meltdown has highlighted the interconnectedness of nations This book seeks to provide an overview of topics issues and best practices related to defining social justice leadership given our increasingly global world Refugees and immigrants from around the globe now inhabit schools and institutions of higher education across the nation and US students teachers and leaders are traversing international borders both physically and virtually through international collaboration technology and exchange programs Although there have been increased efforts and scholarship in support of diversity and multicultural awareness these efforts have largely focused on the US We acknowledge that many leadership theories are domestic in that they typically incorporate US perspectives or a single culture description of effective leadership This book provides a deeper understanding of diverse and multicultural perspectives as they relate to a world that is becoming increasingly interconnected economically socially and culturally Particular attention is paid to providing specific strategies for social justice leaders working in PK 12 and or higher education and leadership preparation programs to promote effective leadership that reflects multicultural understanding of the diversity both within and outside the US Within the context of leadership practice internationalization offers new insights and ideas about leadership aims processes and competencies as a means for addressing equity concerns throughout PK 20 education Teaching Recent Global History Diana B. Gordon Korman,2004 Global Trade and Cultural Authentication Joanne B. Eicher,2022-08 Global Trade and Cultural Authentication edited by Joanne Eicher showcases the complexity and enduring aesthetic and ingenuity of Kalabari artisans The Kalabari people most of whom make their homes in the eastern Niger Delta region of western Africa are renowned for the artistry in working with globally imported textiles and dress for centuries The 22 essays in this edited volume feature the work of leading Nigerian and American scholars and offer an in depth nuanced understanding of Kalabari textiles aesthetics and engagement with past and present global trade networks Using dress and textiles as a lens Global Trade and Cultural Authentication explores the Kalabari people s centuries long role in the global trade arena Their economic interconnectedness demonstrates that Africa was never a dark continent but rather critically involved in a global trade built around Kalabari resourcefulness and imagination Making the World Global Isaac A. Kamola,2019-06-07 Following World War II the American government and philanthropic foundations fundamentally remade American universities into sites for producing knowledge about the world as a collection of distinct nation states As neoliberal reforms took hold in the 1980s visions of the world made popular within area studies and international studies found themselves challenged by ideas and educational policies that originated in business schools and international financial institutions Academics within these institutions reimagined the world instead as a single global market and higher education as a commodity to be bought and sold By the 1990s American universities embraced this language of globalization and globalization eventually became the organizing logic of higher education In Making the World Global Isaac A Kamola examines how the relationships among universities the American state philanthropic organizations and international financial institutions created the conditions that made it possible to imagine the world as global Examining the Center for International Studies Harvard Business School the World Bank the Social Science Research Council and NYU Kamola demonstrates that how we imagine the world is always symptomatic of the material relations within which knowledge is produced

States, Markets and Wars in Global History Giulio Sapelli, 2023-09-30 This wide ranging book focuses on the economic and political changes that have taken place between the advent of globalization and the COVID 19 pandemic and assesses how this may bring about a profound reconfiguration of the global political system Sapelli considers a range of developments in different spheres from international to national politics military aggressions and worldwide political trends such as the rise of populism to illuminate the moment of neoliberal crisis in which we now live He argues that Europe and its institutions in particular no longer demonstrate a model of diplomacy and statesmanship with the rise of technocratic structures and elitism reflecting how an ideal of global convergence towards liberalism and democracy no longer holds true The book then considers how a new international order based on the reason of state can be brought about by global cooperation between the US Russia and China along with a return to properly regulated finance and a renewed focus on community in the wake of the coronavirus pandemic The book will be of interest to those working in international economics and international relations as well as academics of economic history and political economy
