Global Trade In Services Fear Facts And Offshoring:

Global Trade in Services J. Bradford Jensen, 2011 He finds that in spite of US comparative advantage in service activities service firms export participation lags manufacturing firms Jensen evaluates the impediments to services trade and finds evidence that there is considerable room for liberalization especially among the large fast growing developing economies The policy recommendations coming out of this path breaking study are quite clear The United States should not fear trade in services It should be pushing aggressively for services trade liberalization Because other advanced economies have similar comparative advantage in service the United States should make common cause with the European Union and other advanced economies to encourage the large fast growing developing economies to liberalize their service sectors through multilateral negotiations in the General Agreement on Trade in Services and the Government Procurement Agreement

Policy Priorities for International Trade and Jobs OECD, 2012-05-23 Launched and co ordinated by the OECD the International Collaborative Initiative on Trade and Employment ICITE is a two year old joint undertaking of ten international organisations This book brings together some of the results of ICITE s research Introduction to Trade Policy Aluisio Lima-Campos, Juan Gaviria, 2017-11-10 Introduction to Trade Policy provides a comprehensive overview of the rules and regulations that govern trade flow It discusses the trade policy formulation process of major international economic players and analyzes existing trade policy tools that countries may resort to in order to take advantage of the benefits of international trade and to protect themselves against its dangers as well as their implications for trade policy law and negotiations In Section I the book explores the ways in which interest groups interact with government and legislators to shape trade policies By developing an analytical view of trade policy formulation systems in the U S European Union the BRICS countries Brazil Russia India China and South Africa Canada Mexico and Australia the book will help the reader to gain a better understanding of these countries trade policy developments and also to apply such learning to the analysis of the trade policy formulation of any other countries Section II goes on to explain how trade policy tools are used by governments to achieve trade and other policy objectives while Section III analyses trade in services and the multilateral trade rules on Intellectual Property Finally Section IV uses hypothetical case studies in simulation exercises to illustrate trade policy decision making and trade agreement negotiations in a bilateral plurilateral and multilateral setting This is the ideal introduction to international trade policy formulation for students and professionals in the areas of law politics economics and public policy who are seeking to develop a global view of international trade gain insights into trade negotiations and understand the motivations behind the policies and actions of governments regarding international trade issues This book is also the ideal companion to any traditional legal casebook on international trade or on international economic law Offshoring, Outsourcing and Production Fragmentation Mariusz-Jan Radło, 2016-03-29 In this book Radło increases understanding of offshoring outsourcing and international production fragmentation and explains the impact of this phenomenon on the economies and enterprises Key features include a comprehensive theoretical explanation of offshoring and outsourcing at both macroeconomic and microeconomic level as well as an explanation of practical consequences of the mentioned phenomenon for the development of the global economy national economies concrete industries and enterprises Unlike other publications which are often characterized by narrow management or a macroeconomic approach to the analysis of offshoring and outsourcing Radlo s text offers real insight into the global impact of production fragmentation

The Conflicted Superpower Andrew Kennedy,2018-05-22 For decades leadership in technological innovation has sustained U S power worldwide Today however processes that undergird innovation increasingly transcend national borders Cross border flows of brainpower have reached unprecedented heights while multinationals invest more and more in high tech facilities abroad In this new world U S technological leadership increasingly involves collaboration with other countries China and India have emerged as particularly prominent partners most notably as suppliers of intellectual talent to the United States In The Conflicted Superpower Andrew Kennedy explores how the world s most powerful country approaches its growing collaboration with these two rising powers Whereas China and India have embraced global innovation policy in the United States is conflicted Kennedy explains why through in depth case studies of U S policies toward skilled immigration foreign students and offshoring These make clear that U S policy is more erratic than strategic the outcome of domestic battles between competing interests Pressing for openness is the high tech community the technology firms and research universities that embody U S technological leadership Yet these pro globalization forces can face resistance from a range of other interests including labor and anti immigration groups and the nature of this resistance powerfully shapes just how open national policy is Kennedy concludes by asking whether U S policies are accelerating or slowing American decline and considering the prospects for U S policy making in years to come
