Globalization And African Self Determination Ezi Muoma Afrika Verstehn:

Inalienability of Land and Citizenship in the African Context Simeon Onyewueke Eboh, 2005 Colonialism disrupted traditional authority over land and removed the spiritual linkage between the land and the people in exchange for simple material consideration. The colonial received legal systems operating in Africa have no relevance to the socio cultural make up of the people as they lack communal sharing ethos and mechanisms for an equitable distribution of the communal wealth which are the foundations of justice peace and harmonious co existence. The study re evaluates the meaning and values Africans attach to land and citizenship and their jural implications in order to provide workable compasses for the African peoples to navigate successfully through the labyrinthine jungles of globalisation. BOOK JACKET Towards Confederation in the Horn of Africa Tesfatsion Medhanie, 2007 In this book Tesfatsion Medhanie explores the possibility of confederal relations between Ethiopia and Eritrea. Such an arrangement could become the nucleus of a Horn of Africa confederation. The author discusses the obstacles at present and the necessary conditions for success in this regard. Tesfatsion Medhanie teaches law and political science at the University of Bremen Germany. An Eritrean by birth he has been engaged in dialogue on the Horn of Africa and United States policy for over two decades. He has written books, discussion papers and articles on various political issues of the Horn of Africa, Africa's liberation, human rights and on democratization processes on the continent. Globalization & African Self-determination Obiora F. Ike, 2004 Solidarity, a Principle of Sociality Sylvanus Ifeanyichukwu Nnoruka, 2007 The context of the work is the analysis of African values. The significance is the avoidance of generalizations. There are cultures in Africa and not just one culture and in each culture there is a diversity of clans. The analysis of African values ought to have universal relevance hence the use of phenomenological hermeneutical method. This is the first analysis of such a value in the Igbo cultural group. It is at the same time a contribution to an important and often neglected aspect of development: human development. The personality of the individual is a fundamental principle. Solidarity philosophically formulated can be a norm that regulates people's behavior. The personality of the individual is a fundamental principle. A person is identified with his dignity. This dignity is enriched and thus matures through his openness to others and positive contribution to the development of their personality. In order to show that our principle is not a mere abstract idealization, the second part of the work is a hermeneutical analysis of solidarity as found among the Igbo of Nigeria. Sylvanus Ifeanyichukwu Nnoruka is a Catholic priest of the Archdiocese of Onitsha, Nigeria. He has published Personal Identity: a Philosophical Survey as well as other books and articles. Social and Cultural Identity of an African Society Okpe Nicholas Ojogwu, 2006 Anointing of the Sick and the Healing Ministry Austin Echema, 2006 Through its practice of healing down the ages, the Church has been able to inculturate the Christian message but not without the risks of the manipulation of the divine power which have gone with these practices. Throughout its long history, anointing of the sick has almost constantly oscillated between physical and spiritual effects. This book critically examines the manifold practices of healing which flourish today in our midst especially in Nigeria It emphasizes the teaching of the Church on healing and the healing power of the sacraments and proposes the inculturation of the ritual of anointing the sick that will be truly Christian and authentically African Austin Echema is a priest of the Catholic Archdiocese of Owerri Nigeria He studied philosophy and theology in Bigard Memorial Seminary Ikot Ekpene now St Joseph s and Enugu respectively and obtained his doctorate in theology from the Hochschule Sankt Georgen Frankfurt Main Germany He teaches liturgy at the Catholic Institute of West Africa Port Harcourt Nigeria and is a visiting lecturer at the Seat of Wisdom Major Seminary Owerri Nigeria Obiora Ike F. A. Nnengene Nwaolisa,2006 New Acquisitions Unesco Institute for Education. Documentation Centre and Library,2005 Menschenrechte ,2003 The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells,2006 Globalization and Sustainable Development in Africa Bessie House-Soremekun,Toyin Falola,2011-10 Few studies of globalization have analyzed its impact on African societies from the viewpoint of sustainable development This volume answers that need The essays here contribute to the store of knowledge about globalization in sub Saharan Africa by documenting the affect of this global force on the continent s growth economic political and cultural This interdisciplinary collection provides comprehensive analyses at the international national and local levels of the theoretical issues revolving around the complex process of globalization while offering detailed examinations of new models of economic development that can be implemented in sub Saharan Africa to enhance economic growth self sufficiency and sustainable development These models are accessible to politicians public policy analysts scholars students international organizations nongovernmental actors and members of the public at large Finally the essays here provide insightful case studies of African countries that already demonstrate creative indigenous based models of entrepreneurship and discuss efforts to achieve sustainable development and economic independence at the grassroots level Contributors represent the disciplines of law history political science economics sociology anthropology business and management African studies and art history criminal justice and education Bessie House Soremekun is the Public Scholar in African American Studies Civic Engagement and Entrepreneurship Professor of Political Science and Professor of Africana Studies at Indiana University Purdue University Indianapolis Toyin Falola is the Jacob and Frances Sanger Mossiker Chair in the Humanities and University Distinguished Teaching Professor at the University of Texas at Austin Africa and Globalization Kelebogile T. Setiloane,Abdul Karim Bangura,2020-10-24 This edited volume examines the challenges of globalization in light of the need to revisit and reconceptualize the notion of Pan Africanism The first part of the book examines globalization and Africa s socioeconomic and political development in this century by using the Diopian Pluridisciplinary Methodology This approach is imperative because the challenges faced by Africa vis vis globalization and socioeconomic development are so multiplexed that no single disciplinary approach can adequately analyze them and yield substantive policy recommendations The chapters in the second part analyze the imperatives for Africa s global knowledge production development and economic transformation in the face of the pressures of globalization Part two demonstrates an urgent need for Africa's significant participation in the global knowledge economy in order to meet the continent's modern transformation and development aspirations The final part examines lessons from old and new Pan Africanism and how they can be utilized to deal with the challenges emanating from the forces of modern globalization With its multidisciplinary approach to a wide range of pressing modern issues for the African content this book is essential reading for scholars across the social sciences interested in where Africa is now and where it should go in this increasingly globalized world

Transnational Africa and Globalization M. Okome, 2012-01-14 The dawn of neoliberal rationality in Africa in the 1980s coincided with a massive exodus of skilled Africans to the global North Moving beyond the push and pull framework that has dominated studies of this phenomenon this collection instead looks at African transnational migrations against the backdrop of rapid and intensifying globalization

Marginality and Crisis Akanmu G. Adebayo, Olutayo Charles Adesina, Rasheed Olaniyi Olaniyi, 2010-05-25 Marginality and Crisis Globalization and Identity in Contemporary Africa extends the scope and understanding of the effects of globalization and its forces on Africa With each chapter written by specialists who recognize that the future of Africa is entwined with that of the rest of the world this volume explains with fresh vigor the new thinking on the historical specificity value opportunity and shortcomings of globalization for a continent many regard as marginalized and in crisis In the face of much pessimism several questions have engaged the attention of this young generation of African scholars Where is Africa in relation to globalization Where are the things that make Africa Africa such as economy politics culture identity and human relations headed Are Africa's communities helpless against global forces or empowered by new avenues of access How do scholars and policymakers engage the problems of globalization vis vis Africa's ethnic linguistic and other identities What are the economic and political trajectories in various countries and localities An invaluable source for scholars students and the general reader the essays in this book have confidently and clearly explored and explained the crises that have engulfed the continent in the age of globalization Unlike other works that have dwelt only on the continent's victimhood this volume identifies key areas in which Africa can become more proactive and outward looking in response to the forces and values that take the globe as their reference points

Africa and the New Globalization George Klay Kieh, 2008 This book focuses on the new globalization the most expansive and technologically advanced of all the phases of globalization It identifies and discusses many of the frontier issues in Africa that are being impacted by the dynamics of this new globalization debt human rights development state sovereignty the environment and the HIV AIDS pandemic

Africa and Globalization Toyin Falola, Kenneth Kalu, 2018-05-30 This book considers the promises and challenges of globalization for Africa Why have African states been perennially unable to diversify their economies and move beyond export of primary produce even as Southeast Asia has made a tremendous leap into manufacturing What institutional impediments are in play in African states What reforms would mitigate the negative effects of globalization and distribute its benefits more equitably Covering critical themes such as political leadership security challenges the creative sector and community life essays in this volume argue that the starting point for Africa's meaningful engagement with the rest of the world must be to look inward examine Africa's institutions and work towards reforms that promote inclusiveness and stability

Rethinking Africa's Globalization Paul Tiyambe Zeleza, 2003

African Renaissance Fantu Cheru, 2002-06 How can African countries escape from marginalization deepening impoverishment and state disintegration in the new era of globalization Fantu Cheru draws on his experience of many different countries to argue for a way beyond the simple state led versus market driven approaches to Africa's development The international financial institutions must stop their heavy handed interventions and let countries decide their own development paths African countries must work within the reality of globalization to renew democracy and improve governance invest in education revitalize agriculture manage their cities strengthen regional economic integration and prevent yet more deadly conflicts These require commonsense and non dogmatic approaches learning from local successes entrepreneurship and a new generation committed to a new kind of politics

Globalization and the African Experience Emmanuel M. Mbah, Steven J. Salm, 2012 This volume emphasizes the economic political and socio cultural aspects of globalization from a variety of African perspectives Although the book's emphasis is on the post Second World War period the ten chapters of Globalization and the African Experience also touch on the history of globalization in traditional and colonial African societies It is a resource that can be used both as a scholarly guide to those interested in globalization in Africa and as a textbook for modern era African history courses The book's strength lies in its ability to approach African history within a twenty first century historiographical view it reinforces the idea that the processes of globalization are age old and multi faceted and underscores the necessity of taking a local and global approach in assessing their impact The book is divided into two sections In the first Economic and Political Globalization the authors analyze Africa's economic relations with the West and with developing world economies The first section also addresses the relationship between conflict and globalization and the role of NGOs the state the market and civil society The second section Socio Cultural and Intellectual Globalization focuses on the junction of globalization and gender issues as well as issues of health medicine and the biomedical industries It analyzes globalizing influences on African traditional societies and the very different impact on popular and youth culture while also addressing Africa's role in the intellectualization of Blackness Individual contributors employ localized research and integrate it with larger global themes to reveal the depth and complexity of globalization and how the processes affect Africa and Africans at the micro and macro levels This book is part of the African World Series edited by Toyin Falola Jacob and Frances Sanger Mossiker Chair in the Humanities University of Texas at Austin Well documented with chapter notes and chapter bibliographies Summing Up Recommended CHOICE

Marginality and Crisis Akanmu G. Adebayo, Olutayo Charles Adesina, Rasheed Olaniyi Olaniyi, 2010-05-25 Marginality and Crisis Globalization and Identity in Contemporary Africa extends the scope and understanding of the effects of globalization and its forces on Africa With each chapter written by specialists who recognize that the future of Africa is entwined with that of the rest of the world this volume explains with fresh vigor the new thinking on the historical specificity value opportunity and shortcomings of globalization for a continent many regard as marginalized and in crisis In the face of much pessimism several questions have engaged the attention of this young generation of African scholars Where is Africa in relation to globalization Where are the things that make Africa Africa such as economy politics culture identity and human relations headed Are Africa s communities helpless against global forces or empowered by new avenues of access How do scholars and policymakers engage the problems of globalization vis vis Africa s ethnic linguistic and other identities What are the economic and political trajectories in various countries and localities An invaluable source for scholars students and the general reader the essays in this book have confidently and clearly explored and explained the crises that have engulfed the continent in the age of globalization Unlike other works that have dwelt only on the continent s victimhood this volume identifies key areas in which Africa can become more proactive and outward looking in response to the forces and values that take the globe as their reference points
