COURSE OBJECTIVE:

Global History & Geography is a two-year course required for graduation. All students must take and pass the New York State Regents Examination at the end of their sophomore year. The purpose of this course is for students to gain an in-depth understanding of the historical and geographic trends of societies around the world.

POLICIES:

Absences

- Why it matters: Regular attendance is directly related to student success. Although assignments and notes can be made up, the instruction missed, cannot.
- Policy: It is the student's responsibility to obtain, complete and turn in any work that was missed. Students with a legal absence will be given the equivalent amount of time to make up missed work. If a student misses a test, they should plan to stay after school to make it up the day they return.

Tardiness

- Why it matters: Time on task is essential to learning. Additionally, it is disruptive to the class when a student is late.
- Policy: If a student is tardy to class (without a legitimate pass) more than twice, he/she will receive a class detention and/or a referral each time thereafter.

Work Completion

- Why it matters: Assignments are not given as "busy work" but are rather designed specifically to help students learn, practice, and master the content. If an assignment is not completed on time, the student's unpreparedness will affect his/her ability to understand and participate in the day's lesson.
- Policy: All assignments are due at the start of class. Most assignments can be made-up by staying after school, but the student's "classroom expectations" grade will be lowered accordingly.

Plagiarism/Cheating

- Why it matters: Grades are given in order to assess what a student has learned and understands. It is immoral and unfair for a student to substitute someone else's understanding or expression for his/her own.
- Policy: Plagiarism and cheating will NOT be tolerated under any circumstance. The student will receive a ZERO for that assignment, as well as a referral.

Electronic Devices

- Why it matters: Electronic devices distract students from learning.
- Policy: Electronic devices should not be seen or heard in class unless the teacher explicitly states otherwise. The student will receive one warning. Any subsequent infractions will result in a referral as well as a "pocket" to keep their phone in.

Hats & Hoods

- Why it matters: Hats & hoods are not appropriate for the classroom & make regulating other classroom expectations difficult to enforce fairly.
- Policy: Hats & hoods should be removed before entering the classroom. The student will receive one warning. Any subsequent infractions will result in a referral.

Markus D. Dubber, Christopher Tomlins

Global History And Geography January 2014:

Studies on a Global History of Music Reinhard Strohm, 2018-04-09 The idea of a global history of music may be traced back to the Enlightenment and today the question of a conceptual framework for a history of music that pays due attention to global relationships in music is often raised But how might a historical interpretation of those relationships proceed How should it position or justify itself What would Western music look like in an account of music history that aspires to be truly global The studies presented in this volume aim to promote post European historical thinking They are based on the idea that a global history of music cannot be one single hegemonic history They rather explore the paradigms and terminologies that might describe a history of many different voices The chapters address historical practices and interpretations of music in different parts of the world from Japan to Argentina and from Mexico to India Many of these narratives are about relations between these cultures and the Western tradition several also consider socio political and historical circumstances that have affected music in the various regions The book addresses aspects that Western musical historiography has tended to neglect even when looking at its own culture performance dance nostalgia topicality enlightenment the relationships between traditional classical and pop musics and the regards crois s between European Asian or Latin American interpretations of each other s musical traditions These studies have been derived from the Balzan Musicology Project Towards a Global History of Music 2013 2016 which was funded by the International Balzan Foundation through the award of the Balzan Prize in Musicology to the editor and designed by music historians and ethnomusicologists together A global history of music may never be written in its entirety but will rather be realised through interaction practice and discussion in all parts of the world

Encounters Old and New in World History Alan Karras, Laura J. Mitchell, 2017-06-30 This collection of essays asserts the specific value of world history research and teaching showing how the field contributes to the larger historical profession and offering concrete suggestions to develop more interaction between the academy and the public The twelve contributors each with their own academic areas of interest are experienced scholars and classroom teachers Uniting them together in this volume is their professional relationship with Jerry H Bentley 1949 2012 This shared connection served as a catalyst to showcase Bentley s enduring legacy a commitment to investigating large scale questions with detailed empirical evidence that explains the human condition documenting both patterns of similarity and difference in ways that account for regional and temporal variations The volume continues Bentley s meticulous attention to world historical methods focus on scale cross cultural encounter comparison periodization critical geography and interdisciplinarity Encounters Old and New in World History responds to provocations that Jerry Bentley tendered in his scholarship and through his professional activities Contributors interrogate the institutional settings disciplinary proclivities methodological choices and diverse source bases of world history research and teaching Several essays address the ways in which present day concerns influence research on local and global scales Other essays pay particular attention to the production and circulation of knowledge across regional temporal and class boundaries as well as between the academy and the wider public. Claiming the centrality of globally informed and focused approaches to historical inquiry, researchers continue the conversations that Bentley carried on through his own scholarship, teaching, editing of the Journal of World History, participating in public forums, and contributing to public discussions about the place of history in understanding today's global integration. The stakes involved in asking questions about the shared history of humankind continue to increase in the current era of intensified globalization. It is incumbent upon scholars with the skills to work across linguistic, geographic, temporal, and disciplinary boundaries to show the ways that cross-cultural encounters happened historically and to point out how such interactions play out in the institutions, classrooms, and public debates where historical interpretations are created and shared.

A History of Civilization in 50 Disasters Gale Eaton, 2016-01-04 2016 IBPA Benjamin Franklin Silver Award Winner. The earth shakes and cracks open. Volcanoes erupt. Continents freeze, bake, and flood. Droughts parch the land. Wildfires and hundred-year storms consume anything in their paths. Invisible clouds of disease and pestilence probe for victims. Tidal waves sweep ashore from the vast sea. The natural world is a dangerous place, but one species has evolved a unique defense against the hazards of civilization. Civilization rearranges nature for human convenience. Clothes and houses keep us warm; agriculture feeds us; medicine fights our diseases. It all works most of the time. But key resources lie in the most hazardous places, so we choose to live on river flood plains, on the slopes of volcanoes, at the edge of the sea, above seismic faults. We pack ourselves into cities. Petri dishes for germs. Civilization thrives on the edge of disaster. And what happens when natural forces meet molasses, holding tanks, insecticides, deepwater oil rigs, nuclear power plants? We learn the hard way how to avoid the last disaster and maybe how to create the next one. What we don't know can indeed hurt us. This book's white-knuckled journey from antiquity to the present leads us to wonder at times how humankind has survived. And yet, as Author Gale Eaton makes clear, civilization has advanced not just in spite of disasters but in part because of them. Hats off to human resilience, ingenuity, and perseverance. They've carried us this far; may they continue to do so into our ever-hazardous future. The History in 50 series explores history by telling thematically linked stories. Each book includes 50 illustrated narrative accounts of people and events, some well-known, others often overlooked, that together build a rich, connect-the-dots mosaic and challenge conventional assumptions about how history unfolds. Dedicated to the premise that history is the greatest story ever told, it includes a mix of greatest hits with quirky, surprising, provocative accounts. Challenges readers to think and engage. Includes a glossary of technical terms, sources by chapter, teaching resources as jumping-off points for student research, and endnotes.

Fountas Pinnell Level Z The Oxford Handbook of Legal History Markus D. Dubber, Christopher Tomlins, 2018-08-02. Some of the most exciting and innovative legal scholarship has been driven by historical curiosity. Legal history today comes in a fascinating array of shapes and sizes, from microhistory to global intellectual history. Legal history has expanded beyond traditional parochial boundaries to become increasingly international and comparative in scope and orientation. Drawing on scholarship from around the world and representing a variety of methodological approaches areas of expertise and research agendas this timely compendium takes stock of legal history and methodology and reflects on the various modes of the historical analysis of law past present and future Part I explores the relationship between legal history and other disciplinary perspectives including economic philosophical comparative literary and rhetorical analysis of law Part II considers various approaches to legal history including legal history as doctrinal intellectual or social history Part III focuses on the interrelation between legal history and jurisprudence by investigating the role and conception of historical inquiry in various models schools and movements of legal thought Part IV traces the place and pursuit of historical analysis in various legal systems and traditions across time cultures and space Finally Part V narrows the Handbooks focus to explore several examples of legal history in action including its use in various legal doctrinal contexts

A World History of the Seas

Michael North, 2021-11-18 Offering an introduction to the world's seas as a platform for global exchange and connection Michael North offers an impressive world history of the seas over more than 3 000 years Exploring the challenges and dangers of the oceans that humans have struggled with for centuries he also shows the possibilities and opportunities they have provided from antiquity to the modern day Written to demonstrate the global connectivity of the seas but also to highlight regional maritime power during different eras A World History of the Seas takes sailors merchants and migrants as the protagonists of these histories and explores how their experiences and perceptions of the seas were consolidated through trade and cultural exchange Bringing together the various maritime historiographies of the world and underlining their unity this book shows how the ocean has been a vital and natural space of globalization Carrying goods creating alliances linking continents and conveying culture the history of the ocean played a central role in creating our modern globalized world

Routledge Handbook of Non-Violent Extremism Elisa Orofino, William Allchorn, 2023-03-09 This Handbook provides the first in depth analysis of non violent extremism across different ideologies and geographic centres a topic overshadowed until now by the political and academic focus on violent and jihadi extremism in the Global North Whilst acknowledging the potentiality of non violent extremism as a precursor to terrorism this Handbook argues that non violent extremism ought to be considered a stand alone area of study Focusing on Islamist Buddhist Hindu far right far left environmentalist and feminist manifestations the Handbook discusses the ideological foundation of their war on ideas against the prevailing socio political and cultural systems in which they operate and provides an empirical examination of their main claims and perspectives This is supplemented by a truly global overview of non violent extremist groups not only in Europe and the United States but also in Africa Asia Oceania and the Middle East The Handbook thus answers a call to decolonise knowledge that is especially prescient given both the complicity of non violent extremists with authoritarian states and the dynamic of oppression towards more progressive groups in the Global South The Handbook will appeal to those studying extremism radicalisation and terrorism It intersects several relevant disciplines including social movement studies political science criminology Islamic
