Global Economy In Transition, The: Debt And Resource Scarcities Joergen Oerstroem Moeller, 2013-06-28 This book is a collection of essays written by Ambassador Professor Joergen Oerstroem Moeller from the middle of 2009 to end of 2012 commenting on global economic and political events which reflect Moeller's judgment and evaluation on these issues. Readers get an overview to the collection of essays and the worldview they represent in an introductory chapter weaving together strands of economics, politics and societal issues. Moeller goes a step further by sketching up a picture of how a future economic model and political system may look forged by debt, scarcities, economic integration and the rise of Asia. Part I deals with global systems and possible long trends shaping the future over the coming decades as the current political system and economic model having run their course come to an end. Part II discusses how the era of scarcities will change economic behaviour in terms of economic models. Part III looks into the global debt problem which confines the world to low growth over one or two decades as the world tries to get rid of the debt burden. Part IV forms an analysis of what has happened in the Euro zone and how the global debt crisis has compelled the Europeans to take the next steps in integration and address the shortcomings and flaws in the original treaty from 1992. Part V turns to Asia and its future in the global economy. It concentrates on Asian integration and how the Asian countries will fare in the future under much changed circumstances compared to how things looked when the Asian adventure started some 30-40 years ago. At the end, readers will find a short post scriptum with some of Moeller's afterthoughts on the important issues discussed throughout the book. The Global Economy in Transition J.

Joergen Oerstroem Moeller, 2013 Singapore 2065: Leading Insights On Economy And Environment From 50 Singapore Icons And Beyond Euston Quah, 2015-07-30 As Singapore enters its 50th year of independence, it is a time for introspection to look back at the successes and challenges of the past but is also a crucial time to consider what the future holds for the nation. Singapore 2065: Leading Insights on Economy and Environment from 50 Singapore Icons and Beyond is one such key contribution to the endeavour of thinking about what lies ahead. While many forthcoming projects and books take a more retrospective approach reflecting upon Singapore's past, this book adopts a forward-looking perspective contemplating Singapore's distant future which is important for posterity. This book is a collection of key insights from 50 iconic individuals of Singapore and beyond and contains reasoned arguments, speculations and visionary expectations of Singapore's future in 50 years' time. The book discusses the distant future of Singapore's economy and the environment. What will Singapore's economic and environment landscape be like 50 years from now? Are there trends or scenarios common to the various discussions contained in this book? If there are, how big would be the impact of some of these trends? What and how should the government respond to these projections, expectations and informed visions of tomorrow? In sum, what would Singapore's economy and environment be like in 2065? The book explores a range of possible answers to these questions and more. Not only will the generations of today be able to gain much insight into Singapore's future by reading this book but future generations specifically 100 years after Singapore's independence will be able to understand and affirm what and how today's generations think about their time. The book is a key contribution to envisioning Singapore's future which is also vital for understanding what shapes Singapore's landscape today.

Global Crisis, The: The American System Is Collapsing. What Comes Next? Joergen Oerstroem Moeller, 2023-08-08. This book is a collection of essays written by Joergen Oerstroem Moeller since 2015 which focus on the geopolitical, geoeconomics and societal developments of recent times including the war in Ukraine, Brexit and the future of the European Union as well as the economic trajectories of the US, China and the UK. With the dissolution of the Soviet Union in 1991, the US emerged as the sole superpower in a new world order. However, the rise of China in the subsequent decades has coincided with the reduced standing and power of the US. Understanding the shift in the global power balance requires an appreciation of the domestic developments in the US and China. On the one hand, the US under the Trump administration had taken a protectionist stance in its trade policies and built walls along its borders to keep out immigrants. On the other hand, the Chinese government has aggressively expanded its economy and posted high economic growth as part of its efforts to uplift the lives of its people. With the US economic strength in decline, how long will the incumbent superpower be able to hold on to its pole position before being replaced by a challenger? This question and more are addressed in this book.

Kraks bla bog, 2014. Costing Nature in a Transition Economy Tomasz Żylicz, 2000. Tomasz Żylicz's book is an important contribution to the debate on how to finance sustainable development in transitional economies. Using Poland as an example, the author shows how sustainable development may be possible if the economic value of natural capital is accounted for. The book studies examples of natural capital in Poland, identifies the beneficiaries of these natural assets and discusses ways to reimburse those who own, steward or live within these assets, such as the national parks. With its focus firmly on environmental assets rather than disruption and crises in the Central and Eastern environment, the author reports on a number of nature protection studies, including economic valuation, surveys, species reintroduction projects and the financing of national park services. Regional and international contexts of the local natural heritage are highlighted. Tomasz Żylicz uses the example of Poland to frame wider theories and conclusions on how to preserve and enhance the natural capital in transition economies Political environmental and natural resource economists and environmental scientists as well as NGOs and policymakers will find this book illuminating reading Dynamic Development and Economic Reform in Southeast Asia ,1993 Cote d'Ivoire's Post-Election Crisis , Carbon Capitalism Tim Di Muzio,2015-08-31 Modern civilization and the social reproduction of capitalism are bound inextricably with fossil fuel consumption But as carbon energy resources become scarcer what implications will this have for energy intensive modes of life Can renewable energy sustain high levels of accumulation Or will we witness the end of existing capitalist economies This book provides an innovative and timely study that mobilizes a new theory of capitalism to explain the rise and fall of petro market civilization Di Muzio investigates how theorists of political economy have largely taken energy for granted and illuminates how the exploitation of fossil fuels increased the universalization and magnitude of capital accumulation He then examines the likelihood of renewable resources providing a feasible alternative and asks whether they can beat peak oil prices to sustain food production health care science and democracy Using the capital as power framework this book considers the unevenly experienced consequences of monetizing fossil fuels for people and the planet Global Technopolitics Dennis Pirages,1989 World Regional Geography (without Subregions) Lydia Mihelic Pulsipher,Alex Pulsipher,2008-03-15 Macroeconomic Management in Southeast Asia's Transitional Economies Manuel F.
