Globalization And Race Transformations In The Cultural Production Of Blackness:

Globalization and Race Kamari Maxine Clarke, Deborah A. Thomas, 2006 Kamari Maxine Clarke and Deborah A Thomas argue that a firm grasp of globalization requires an understanding of how race has constituted and been constituted by global transformations Focusing attention on race as an analytic category this state of the art collection of essays explores the changing meanings of blackness in the context of globalization It illuminates the connections between contemporary global processes of racialization and transnational circulations set in motion by imperialism and slavery between popular culture and global conceptions of blackness and between the work of anthropologists policymakers religious revivalists and activists and the solidification and globalization of racial categories A number of the essays bring to light the formative but not unproblematic influence of African American identity on other populations within the black diaspora Among these are an examination of the impact of black America on racial identity and politics in mid twentieth century Liverpool and an inquiry into the distinctive experiences of blacks in Canada Contributors investigate concepts of race and space in early twenty first century Harlem the experiences of trafficked Nigerian sex workers in Italy and the persistence of race in the purportedly non racial language of the New South Africa They highlight how blackness is consumed and expressed in Cuban timba music in West Indian adolescent girls fascination with Buffy the Vampire Slayer and in the incorporation of American rap music into black London culture Connecting race to ethnicity gender sexuality nationality and religion these essays reveal how new class economies ideologies of belonging and constructions of social difference are emerging from ongoing global transformations Contributors Robert L Adams Lee D Baker Jacqueline Nassy Brown Tina M Campt Kamari Maxine Clarke Raymond Codrington Grant Farred Kesha Fikes Isar Godreau Ariana Hernandez Reguant Jayne O Ifekwunigwe John L Jackson Jr Oneka LaBennett Naomi Pabst Lena Sawyer Deborah A Thomas Global Circuits of Blackness Jean Muteba Rahier, Percy C. Hintzen, Felipe Smith, 2022-08-15 Global Circuits of Blackness is a sophisticated analysis of the interlocking diasporic connections between Africa Europe the Caribbean and the Americas A diverse and gifted group of scholars delve into the contradictions of diasporic identity by examining at close range the encounters of different forms of blackness converging on the global scene Contributors examine the many ways blacks have been misrecognized in a variety of contexts They also explore how as a direct result of transnational networking and processes of friction blacks have deployed diasporic consciousness to interpellate forms of white supremacy that have naturalized black inferiority inhumanity and abjection Various essays document the antagonism between African Americans and Africans regarding heritage tourism in West Africa discuss the interaction between different forms of blackness in Toronto s Caribana Festival probe the impact of the Civil Rights movement in America on diasporic communities elsewhere and assess the anxiety about HIV and AIDS within black communities The volume demonstrates that diaspora is a floating revelation of black consciousness that brings together in a single space dimensions of difference in forms and content of representations practices and meanings of blackness Diaspora imposes considerable flexibility in what would otherwise be place bound fixities Contributors are Marlon M Bailey Jung Ran Forte Reena N Goldthree Percy C Hintzen Lyndon Phillip Andrea Queeley Jean Muteba Rahier St phane Robolin and Felipe Smith

Decoloniality in the Break of Global Blackness Michaeline A. Crichlow, Patricia M. Northover, 2025-05-21 This book contextualized by the violence of globalization investigates the fungible fugitive and untenable experiences of Black being and time through a decolonial poethics of global Blackness In so doing it introduces innovative readings of coloniality decoloniality by threading its meaning and movement through the problem of Blackness It argues that global Blackness is the complexly entangled other side of decoloniality as movement method and poethics for radical new worlds The essays explore this through inter transdisciplinary creative and decolonial standpoints whether from prison abolitionist demands to Afrofuturist imaginaries or by seeing through Black mirrors It emphasizes the paradoxical characteristics of global Blackness its spectral quality of being in and out of modernity s self narrative to provide a way of dwelling with global Blackness as a force that is neither properly constituted by corporeality nor thinkable in ontological terms determined by modern power The book will be of interest to academics researchers and students in the fields of social sciences cultural studies postcolonial studies as well as cultural practitioners art educators artists cultural activists and those institutions that seek to decolonize imaginaries thought practices and methods Given its diverse offerings it will also be of interest to upper level undergraduates graduate students and academics

New Directions in Diaspora Studies Sarah Illott, Ana Cristina Mendes, Lucinda Newns, 2018-07-02 This collection brings together new critical approaches to diaspora studies branching out to areas such as literary studies visual culture and museum studies and explores them in relation to a variety of fictional works cultural traditions theoretical paradigms and geo political contexts The innovation of this volume lies in the interplay of both texts and theoretical insights from these different areas of cultural analysis drawn together to probe diverse manifestations of diaspora while pointing out new directions of critique Moving between representations of real and imaginary violent and utopian past present and future diasporas contributors demonstrate the ways in which authors performers and artists are establishing new modes of representing and imagining diaspora in an increasingly globalised age Contributions are organised into sections on performance speculative fiction city spaces affective or violent diasporas and silence and voice Bringing together these wide ranging histories contexts and media allows for dialogue across vastly divergent experiences and representations of diaspora and opens up a theoretical debate on the changing nature of this field of study

Black and Indigenous Mark David Anderson, 2009 Garifuna live in Central America primarily Honduras and the United States Identified as Black by others and by themselves they also claim indigenous status and rights in Latin America Examining this set of paradoxes Mark Anderson shows how on the one hand Garifuna embrace discourses of tradition roots and a paradigm of ethnic political struggle On the other hand Garifuna often affirm blackness through assertions of African roots and affiliations with Blacks elsewhere drawing particularly on popular images of U S blackness embodied by hip hop music and culture Black and Indigenous explores the politics of race and culture among Garifuna in Honduras as a window into the active relations among multiculturalism consumption and neoliberalism in the Americas Based on ethnographic work Anderson questions perspectives that view indigeneity and blackness nativist attachments and diasporic affiliations as mutually exclusive paradigms of representation being and belonging As Anderson reveals within contemporary struggles of race ethnicity and culture indigeneity serves as a normative model for collective rights while blackness confers a status of subaltern cosmopolitanism Indigeneity and blackness he concludes operate as unstable often ambivalent and sometimes overlapping modes through which people both represent themselves and negotiate oppression The Pursuit of Happiness Bianca C. Williams,2018-02-08 In The Pursuit of Happiness Bianca C Williams traces the experiences of African American women as they travel to Jamaica where they address the perils and disappointments of American racism by looking for intimacy happiness and a connection to their racial identities Through their encounters with Jamaican online communities and their participation in trips organized by Girlfriend Tours International the women construct notions of racial sexual and emotional belonging by forming relationships with Jamaican men and other girlfriends These relationships allow the women to exercise agency and find happiness in ways that resist the damaging intersections of racism and patriarchy in the United States However while the women require a spiritual and virtual connection to Jamaica in order to live happily in the United States their notion of happiness relies on travel which requires leveraging their national privilege as American citizens Williams s theorization of emotional transnationalism and the construction of affect across diasporic distance attends to the connections between race gender and affect while highlighting how affective relationships mark nationalized and gendered power differentials within the African diaspora General History of Africa UNESCO International Committee for the New Volumes of the General History of Africa,2025-10-18 Made in NuYoRico Marisol Negrón,2024-09-06 In Made in NuYoRico Marisol Negrón tells the cultural history of salsa tracing the music s Nuyorican meanings over a fifty year period that begins with the establishment of Fania Records in 1964 and how it capitalized on salsa s Nuyorican imaginary to cultivate a global audience Drawing on interviews with fans legendary musicians and music industry figures as well as analyses of songs albums films and archival documents Negrón shows how Nuyorican cultural and social histories became embedded in and impacted salsa music s flows during its foundational period in the mid 1960s and its boom in the 1970s Salsa s Nuyorican aesthetics challenged mainstream notions of Americanness and Puerto Ricanness and produced an alternative public sphere through which New York s poor and working class Puerto Ricans could contest racialization and colonial power By outlining salsa s complicated musical cultural commercial racial gendered legal and political entanglements Negrón demonstrates its centrality to Nuyorican identity and subjectivity Black Sexualities Juan Battle,Sandra L. Barnes,2009-11-24 Why does society have difficulty discussing sexualities Where does fear of Black sexualities emerge and how is it manifested How can varied experiences of Black females and males who are lesbian gay bisexual transgender LGBT or straight help inform dialogue and academic inquiry From questioning forces that have constrained sexual choices to examining how Blacks have forged healthy sexual identities in an oppressive environment Black Sexualities acknowledges the diversity of the Black experience and the shared legacy of racism Contributors seek resolution to Blacks understanding of their lives as sexual beings through stories of empowerment healing self awareness victories and other historic and contemporary life course panoramas and provide practical information to foster more culturally relative research tolerance and acceptance

The Journal of African American History ,2002      How Black Writers Deal with Whiteness Emine Lâle Demirtürk,2008 From the internationally bestselling author who brought us Ender s Game a brand new series that instantly draws readers into the dystopian world of Rigg a teenager who possesses a secret talent that allows him to see the paths of people s pasts Rigg s only confidant is his father whose sudden death leaves Rigg completely alone aside from a sister he s never met But a chance encounter with Umbo another teen with a special talent reveals a startling new aspect to Rigg s abilities compelling him to reevaluate everything he s ever known Rigg and Umbo join forces and embark on a quest to find Rigg s sister and discover the true depth and significance of their powers Because although the pair can change the past the future is anything but certain

Reconstructing Racial Identity and the African Past in the Dominican Republic Kimberly Eison Simmons,2009 In Latin America and the Caribbean racial issues are extremely complex and fluid particularly the nature of blackness What it means to be called black is still very different for an African American living in the United States than it is for an individual in the Dominican Republic with an African ancestry Racial categories were far from concrete as the Dominican populace grew altered and solidified around the present notions of identity Kimberly Simmons explores the fascinating socio cultural shifts in Dominicans racial categories concluding that Dominicans are slowly embracing blackness and ideas of African ancestry Simmons also examines the movement of individuals between the Dominican Republic and the United States where traditional notions of indio are challenged debated and called into question How and why Dominicans define their racial identities reveal shifting coalitions between Caribbean peoples and African Americans and proves intrinsic to understanding identities in the African diaspora
