Globalization and the Cultures of Business in Africa Scott D. Taylor, 2021-12-22 Can Africa develop businesses beyond the extractive or agricultural sectors What would it take for Africa to play a major role in global business By focusing on recent changes Scott D Taylor demonstrates how Africa s business culture is marked by an unprecedented receptivity to private enterprise Challenging persistent stereotypes about crony capitalism and the lack of development Taylor reveals a long and dynamic history of business in Africa He shows how a hospitable climate for business has been spurred by institutional change globalization and political and economic reform Taylor encourages a broader understanding of the mosaic of African business and the diversity of influences and cultures that shape it The Oxford Handbook of Africa and Economics Célestin Monga, Justin Yifu Lin, 2015-07-02 For a long time economic research on Africa was not seen as a profitable venture intellectually or professionally few researchers in top ranked institutions around the world chose to become experts in the field This was understandable the reputation of Africa centered economic research was not enhanced by the well known limitations of economic data across the continent Moreover development economics itself was not always fashionable and the broader discipline of economics has had its ups and downs and has been undergoing a major identity crisis because it failed to predict the Great Recession Times have changed many leading researchers including a few Nobel laureates have taken the subject of Africa and economics seriously enough to devote their expertise and creativity to it They have been amply rewarded the richness complexities and subtleties of African societies civilizations rationalities and ways of living have helped renew the humanities and the social sciences and economics in particular to the point that the continent has become the next major intellectual frontier to researchers from around the world In collecting some of the most authoritative statements about the science of economics and its concepts in the African context this lhandbook the first of two volumes opens up the diverse acuity of commentary on exciting topics and in the process challenges and stimulates the quest for knowledge Wide ranging in its scope themes language and approaches this volume explores examines and assesses economic thinking on Africa and Africa s contribution to the discipline The editors bring a set of powerful resources to this endeavor most notably a team of internationally renowned economists whose diverse viewpoints are complemented by the perspectives of philosophers political scientists and anthropologists Region-Building in Africa Daniel H. Levine, Dawn Nagar, 2016-05-19 This landmark book is the first of its kind to assess the challenges of African region building and regional integration across all five African sub regions and more than five decades of experience considering both political and economic aspects Leading scholars and practitioners come together to analyze a range of entwined topics including the theoretical underpinnings that have informed Africa s regional integration trajectory the political economy of integration including the sources of different waves of integration in pan Africanism and the reaction to neo liberal economic pressures the complexities of integration in a context of weak states and the informal regionalization that often occurs in borderlands

the increasing salience of Africa's relationships with rising extra regional economic powers including China and India and comparative lessons from non African regional blocs including the EU ASEAN and the Southern Common Market A core argument of this book running through all chapters is that region building must be recognized as a political project as much as if not more than an economic one successful region building in Africa will need to include the complex political tasks of strengthening state capacity including states capacity as developmental states that can actively engage in economic planning resolving long standing conflicts over resources and political dominance improving democratic governance and developing trans national political structures that are legitimate and inclusive Reconfiguration of the Global South Eckart

Woertz,2016-10-04 Since the 1980s there has been a steady shift from West to East in the international system economically politically and culturally Emerging markets in Asia have moved up the value chain of industrial production processes while the share of Western industrialized countries in global gross domestic product has declined Countries such as China and India are asserting themselves in security matters and seeking new avenues for investment flows and development co operation China's expected shift from export led growth to domestic consumption might further change patterns of trade and capital flows and it is an open debate whether the growth dynamics of India might outstrip those of China While the rise of China and other Asian powers has been studied extensively much less work has been done on how Africa and Latin America position themselves in this process What will the role be of Africa and Latin America in the Asian Century and associated reconfigurations of global value chains Will these regions be able to assert themselves and find a voice of their own Will they manage to develop industries of their own and diversify trade relations Will they launch new ways of regional south south co operation What is the role of migrant communities and cultural exchange Do Western and Asian approaches to these regions differ Washington vs Beijing consensus This book brings together renowned academics from Africa Latin America Europe and the USA who bring refreshing perspectives on an under researched topic ranging from a conceptualization of the issue within new theoretical approaches to unique case studies based on field work Africa Toyin Falola,Daniel

Africa and Globalization Kelebogile T. Setiloane,Abdul Karim Bangura,2020-10-24 This edited volume examines the challenges of globalization in light of the need to revisit and reconceptualize the notion of Pan Africanism The first part of the book examines globalization and Africa s socioeconomic and political development in this century by using the Diopian Pluridisciplinary Methodology This approach is imperative because the challenges faced by Africa vis vis globalization and socioeconomic development are so multiplexed that no single disciplinary approach can adequately analyze them and yield substantive policy recommendations The chapters in the second part analyze the imperatives for Africa s global knowledge production development and economic transformation in the face of the pressures of globalization Part two demonstrates an urgent need for Africa s significant participation in the global knowledge economy in order to meet the continent s modern transformation and development aspirations The final part examines lessons from old and new Pan Africanism and how they can be utilized to deal with the challenges emanating from the forces of modern globalization With its multidisciplinary approach to a wide range of pressing modern issues for the African content this book is essential reading for scholars across the social sciences interested in where Africa is now and where it should go in this increasingly globalized world

Globalisation and Africa in the Twenty-First Century Singumbe Muyeba, 2008-02-25 Globalisation and Africa in the Twenty First Century A Zambian Perspective is a journey through space and times from Zambia to Sub Saharan Africa to the World and Back It brings out from the author s experiences growing up in Sub Saharan Africa during the 1990s the ills in Zambian culture that manifested as a result of the effects of Structural Adjustment Programmes and how Zambia once a rich and promising country became one of the poorest Nations in the world s poorest region As for Sub Saharan Africa s survival in the twenty first century Muyeba powerfully argues that without a transformation in the culture of its people without surplus productivity and without international cooperation the chances for survival in the twenty first century will continue to diminish even as they are already low The Changing Dynamics of International Business in Africa I. Adeleye, K. Ibeh, A. Kinoti, L.
