to studying the trade labour linkage provides insights into key debates on the role of civil society in trade governance the relationship between public and private labour regulation and the progressive possibilities for trade policy in the twenty first century This book will appeal to research scholars post graduate students trade policy practitioners policy researchers allied to labour movements and informed activists

The European Union as a Global Regulator? Alasdair Young, 2017-10-02 The European Union is often depicted as a dominant global regulator The purpose of this volume is to move beyond establishing that the EU influences global regulation to being to identify under what conditions it exerts that influence Toward that end it focuses on the EU's active efforts both bilateral and multilateral to shape regulations beyond its borders The empirical chapters in this volume are explicitly comparative among foreign partners across international contexts over time and across issues The more conceptual contributions posit an explanation for the EU's choice of regulatory cooperation strategy and take stock of Market Power Europe as a dynamic conceptual framework for understanding and researching the EU as a power Collectively this volume advances three arguments the utility of the EU's regulatory power resources is context specific debates about what kind of power the EU is at least as currently conceived are unproductive and that the EU's engagement in the world is better explained through general theories of international political economy This book was published as a special issue of the Journal of European Public Policy

Race Rights Reparations Fernne Brennan, 2017-07-14 This book considers institutional racism as a problem that exists within modern societies Its roots lie with the transatlantic slave trade and slavery and the solution involves ridding society of the problem It is argued here that first there needs to be an acceptance of its existence then developing the tools needed to deal with it and finally to implement those tools so that institutional racism can be permanently removed from society The book has four themes the first considers the nature of institutional racism the second theme looks at instances of institutional racism through matters such as deaths in custody and skin lightening the third considers the concept of reparations and the final area looks at the development of social movements as a way of pushing institutional racism up the political agenda The development of a social movement is part of a social discourse which would for example push mentoring as a form of reparations There is a need for more research on the manifestations of institutional racism and this book is part of that discourse It is argued that the legacy of the slave trade and slavery is continuing and contemporary through the presence of institutional racism in society This problem has not been addressed through legislation and policies devised to combat racial discrimination Institutional racism needs to be understood as being located in the processes and procedures of societal institutions

European Yearbook of International Economic Law 2014 Christoph Herrmann, Markus Krajewski, Jörg Philipp Terhechte, 2014-02-10 In 2014 the global economic system celebrates two anniversaries Seventy years ago on 22 July 1944 at Bretton Woods New Hampshire the Articles of Agreement of the International Monetary Fund IMF and the Articles of Agreement of the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development Worldbank were adopted Since then the global financial and monetary system underwent significant policy changes but the institutional framework remained the same More recently twenty years ago on 15 April 1994 the Final Act of the Uruguay Round of Multilateral Trade Negotiations was signed and its key component the Agreement establishing the World Trade Organization entered into force on 1 January 1995 Even though the beginning of the multilateral trading system dates back to the late 1940s the founding of the WTO constitutes a significant institutional reform which marks the beginning of a new era Anniversaries are usually moments of celebration However even a superficial observer will notice that neither the current international financial and monetary regime nor the international trade regime is in a stage which invites celebration Instead both are facing difficult and fundamental challenges to their very existence from the outside but also from within So while there may be no time to celebrate anniversaries are also often used for reflection about the past and the future Hence EYIEL 5 2014 considers these two anniversaries ample moments to reflect on the legacy and the current status of the main two pillars of International Economic Law in its Part one Part two of EYIEL 5 2014 brings together contributions on the EU's Deep Trade Agenda on Current Approaches to the International Investment Regime in South America on the Multilayered System of Regional Economic Integration in West Africa and on the Tripartite Free Trade Area as well as on India and her Trade Agreements Part three contains treatises of developments in the World Customs Organization the World Intellectual Property Organization and in International Investment Law After the book reviews in Part four EYIEL 5 2014 is complemented with an Annex containing the Case on exchange rate manipulation and crisis caused guarantees to financial institutions and the Best Submissions of the 11th EMC2 ELSA WTO Moot Court Competition of the Harvard team for the complainant and the Leuven team for the respondent The case not only addresses issues of current interest but also links the subjects of our two special focusses nicely together
