Confucianism as a World Religion Anna Sun, 2013-04-21 Is Confucianism a religion? If so, why do most Chinese think it isn't? From ancient Confucian temples to nineteenth century archives to the testimony of people interviewed by the author throughout China over a period of more than a decade, this book traces the birth and growth of the idea of Confucianism as a world religion. The book begins at Oxford in the late nineteenth century when Friedrich Max Müller and James Legge classified Confucianism as a world religion in the new discourse of world religions and the emerging discipline of comparative religion. Anna Sun shows how that decisive moment continues to influence the understanding of Confucianism in the contemporary world, not only in the West but also in China where the politics of Confucianism has become important to the present regime in a time of transition. Contested histories of Confucianism are vital signs of social and political change. Sun also examines the revival of Confucianism in contemporary China and the social significance of the ritual practice of Confucian temples. While the Chinese government turns to Confucianism to justify its political agenda, Confucian activists have started a movement to turn Confucianism into a religion. Confucianism as a world religion might have begun as a scholarly construction, but are we witnessing its transformation into a social and political reality? With historical analysis, extensive research, and thoughtful reflection, Confucianism as a World Religion will engage all those interested in religion and global politics at the beginning of the Chinese century.

The Holy Spirit and Ch'i (Qi) Koo Dong Yun, 2012-03-02 This book articulates a contextual pneumatology from a perspective of the Eastern idea of ch'i ki in Korean Rather than understanding the Spirit from a Westernized philosophical perspective this book utilizes East Asian categories rooted in the I Ching and Asian religions in dialogue with such prominent Western theologians as Barth Pannenberg Moltmann and Harvey Cox The result is an exciting interaction between the Bible traditions of the West and experiences of the Spirit rooted in East Asia Yun argues that the formal dimension of the Spirit sangjeok is present and active in all cultures and religions while the material dimension of the Spirit muljeok is categorically revealed and embodied through the life of Jesus Christ the event of Pentecost and Charisms given to the church In making his case he mediates a creative balance between countercultural and exclusivist models on the one hand and pluralistic and anthropocentric models on the other
