Expanding Peace Journalism Comparative And Critical Approaches:

Expanding Peace Journalism Ibrahim Seaga Shaw, Jake Lynch, Robert A. Hackett, 2018-08-30 This major new text explores and interrogates peace journalism as a significant challenge to this hegemonic discourse which has been advocated and elaborated over the recent years in journalism media development and academic spheres Media, Conflict and Peacebuilding in Africa Jacinta Maweu, Admire Mare, 2021-03-29 This book explores the role and place of popular traditional and digital media platforms in the mediatization representation and performance of various conflicts and peacebuilding interventions in the African context The role of the media in conflict is often depicted as either good as symbolized by peace journalism or bad as exemplified by war journalism but this book moves beyond this binary to highlight the in between role that the media often plays in times of conflict The volume does not only focus on the relationship between mass media conflict and peacebuilding processes but it broadens its scope by critically analysing the dynamic and emergent roles of popular and digital media platforms in a continent where the semi literate and oral communities still rely heavily on popular communication platforms to get news and information Whilst social media platforms have been hailed for their assumed democratic and digital dividends this book does not only focus on these positive aspects but also shines a light on dark forms of participation which are fuelling racial gender ethnic political and religious conflicts in highly polarized and stratified societies Highlighting the many ways in which traditional digital and popular media can be used to both escalate conflicts and promote peacebuilding this volume will be a useful resource for students researchers and civil society groups interested in peace and conflict studies journalism and media studies in different contexts within Africa Routledge Handbook of Peace, Security and Development Fen Osler Hampson, Alpaslan Özerdem, Jonathan Kent, 2020-06-04 This Handbook offers a comprehensive examination of the peace security and development nexus from a global perspective and investigates the interfaces of these issues in a context characterised by many new challenges By bringing together more than 40 leading experts and commentators from across the world the Handbook maps the various research agendas related to these three themes taking stock of existing work and debates while outlining areas for further engagement In doing so the chapters may serve as a primer for new researchers while also informing the wider scholarly community about the latest research trends and innovations The volume is split into three thematic parts Concepts and approaches New drivers of conflict insecurity and developmental challenges Actors institutions and processes For ease of use and organisational consistency each chapter provides readers with an overview of each research area a review of the state of the literature a summary of the major debates and promising directions for future research This Handbook will be of much interest to students of peace and conflict studies development studies security studies and International Relations Routledge Handbook of Media, Conflict and Security Piers Robinson, Philip Seib, Romy Frohlich, 2016-11-10 This Handbook links the growing body of media and conflict research with the field of security studies The academic sub field of media and conflict has developed and expanded greatly over the past two decades Operating across a diverse range of academic disciplines academics are studying the impact the media has on governments pursuing war responses to humanitarian crises and violent political struggles and the role of the media as a facilitator of and a threat to both peace building and conflict prevention This handbook seeks to consolidate existing knowledge by linking the body of conflict and media studies with work in security studies The handbook is arranged into five parts Theory and Principles Media the State and War Media and Human Security Media and Policymaking within the Security State New Issues in Security and Conflict and Future Directions For scholars of security studies this handbook will provide a key point of reference for state of the art scholarship concerning the media security nexus for scholars of communication and media studies the handbook will provide a comprehensive mapping of the media conflict field

Communication and Peace Julia Hoffmann, Virgil Hawkins, 2015-02-11 This book analyses the use of communication in resolving conflicts with a focus on de escalation and processes of peacebuilding and peace formation From the employment of hate radio in the Rwanda genocide to the current conflict between Russia and the Ukraine following events in the Crimea communication and the media are widely recognized as powerful tools in conflicts and war Although there has been significant academic attention on the relationship between the media conflict and war academic efforts to understand this relationship have tended to focus primarily on the links between communication and conflict rather than on communication and peace In order to make sense of peace it is essential to look at communication in its many facets mediated or not This is true within many of the diverse strands that make up the field of communication and peace but it is also true in the sense that a holistic and interdisciplinary approach is missing from the literature This book addresses this widely acknowledged lacuna by providing an interdisciplinary perspective on the field bringing together relevant but so far largely isolated streams of research In doing so it aims to provide a platform for further reflection of the meaning of and requirements for peace in our contemporary world with a focus on de escalation conflict transformation reconciliation and processes of peacebuilding as opposed to conflict escalation or crisis intervention This volume will be of much interest to students of peace and conflict studies peacebuilding media and communication studies security studies and IR in general

A Global Standard for Reporting Conflict Jake Lynch, 2013-09-05 A Global Standard for Reporting Conflict constructs an argument from first principles to identify what constitutes good journalism It explores and synthesises key concepts from political and communication theory to delineate the role of journalism in public spheres And it shows how these concepts relate to ideas from peace research in the form of Peace Journalism Thinkers whose contributions are examined along the way include Michel Foucault Johan Galtung John Paul Lederach Edward Herman and Noam Chomsky Manuel Castells and Jurgen Habermas The book argues for a critical realist approach considering critiques of correspondence theories of representation to propose an innovative conceptualisation of journalistic epistemology in which social truths can be identified as the basis for the journalistic remit of factual reporting If the world cannot be accessed as it is then it can be assembled as agreed so long as consensus on important meanings is kept under constant review These propositions are tested by extensive fieldwork in four countries Australia the Philippines South Africa and Mexico

Reporting Islam Jacqui Ewart, Kate O'Donnell, 2018-04-19 Reporting Islam argues for innovative approaches to media coverage of Muslims and their faith The book examines the ethical dilemmas faced by Western journalists when reporting on this topic and offers a range of alternative journalistic techniques that will help news media practitioners move away from dominant news values and conventions when reporting on Islam The book is based on an extensive review of international literature and interviews with news media editors copy editors senior reporters social media editors in house journalism trainers and journalism educators conducted for the Reporting Islam Project In addition the use of an original model the Transformative Journalism Model provides further insight into the nature of news reports about Muslims and Islam The findings collated here help to identify the best and worst reporting practices adopted by different news outlets as well as the factors which have influenced them Building on this the authors outline a new strategy for more accurate fair and informed reporting of stories relating to Muslims and Islam By combining an overview of different journalistic approaches with real world accounts from professionals and advice on best practice journalists journalism educators and students will find this book a useful guide to contemporary news coverage of Islam

Peace Journalism, War and Conflict Resolution Richard Keeble, John Tulloch, Florian Zollman, 2010 Peace Journalism War and Conflict Resolution draws together the work of over twenty leading international writers journalists theorists and campaigners in the field of peace journalism Mainstream media tend to promote the interests of the military and governments in their coverage of warfare This major new text aims to provide a definitive up to date critical engaging and accessible overview exploring the role of the media in conflict resolution Sections focus in detail on theory international practice and critiques of mainstream media performance from a peace perspective countries discussed include the U S U K Germany Cyprus Sweden Canada India Pakistan Papua New Guinea and the Philippines Chapters examine a wide variety of issues including mainstream newspapers indigenous media blogs and radical alternative websites The book includes a foreword by award winning investigative journalist John Pilger and a critical afterword by cultural commentator Jeffery Klaehn
