Experiencing New Worlds Person Space And Memory In The Contemporary Pacific:

Moral Development in a Global World Lene Arnett Jensen, 2015-04-02 Questions addressing people's moral lives similarities and differences in the moral concepts of cultural groups and how these concepts emerge in the course of development are of perennial interest. In a globalizing world addressing what is universal and what is culturally distinctive about moral development is pressing. More than ever well substantiated knowledge of diverse peoples' moral compasses is needed. This book presents the cultural developmental theory of moral psychology findings from numerous countries and four instruments for conducting cultural developmental research. The central thesis is that humans are born with a shared moral heritage and that as we develop from childhood into adulthood we branch off in diverse directions shaped by culture resulting in novelty and contention. An international group of eminent and cutting edge scholars from anthropology psychology and linguistics addresses this timely topic and explores how gender social class and culture wars between liberals and conservatives play into moral development across cultures.

Adoption, Emotion, and Identity Manuel Rauchholz, 2024-02-02 Exploring adoption in the Pacific this book goes beyond the commonplace structural functional analysis of adoption as a positive transaction in parenthood. It examines the effects it has on adoptees' inner sense of self their conflicted emotional lives and familial relationships that are affected by a personal sense of rejection and not belonging. This account is theoretically rooted in ethnopsychology based on field work conducted across multiple research sites in the Chuuk Lagoon its neighboring Chuukic speaking atolls and persons from neighboring Micronesian island communities.

Biomedical Entanglements Franziska A. Herbst, 2016-10-01 Biomedical Entanglements is an ethnographic study of the Giri people of Papua New Guinea focusing on the indigenous population's interaction with modern medicine. In her fieldwork Franziska A. Herbst follows the Giri people as they circulate within and around ethnographic sites that include a rural health center and an urban hospital. The study bridges medical anthropology and global health exploring how the biomedical is imbued with social meaning and how biomedicine affects Giri ways of life.

The Anthropology of Morality in Melanesia and Beyond John Barker, 2016-04-01 The Anthropology of Morality in Melanesia and Beyond examines how Melanesians experience and deal with moral dilemmas and challenges. Taking Kenelm Burridge's seminal work as their starting point the contributors focus upon public situations and types of people that exemplify key ethical contradictions for members of moral communities. While returning to some classical concerns such as the roles of big men and sorcerers the book opens new territory with richly textured ethnographic studies and theoretical reviews that explore the interface between the values associated with indigenous village life and the ethical orientations associated with Christianity the state the marketplace and other facets of modernity. A major contribution to the emerging field of the anthropology of morality the volume includes some of the most prominent scholars working in the discipline today including Bruce Knauft Joel Robbins F. G. Bailey Deborah Gewertz and Frederick Errington.

is well known to anthropologists of Papua New Guinea through the work of Ian Hogbin Based on substantial fieldwork the author builds on and expands previous research by showing how Wogeos establish and maintain social relationships and identities connected to place and movement in the physical landscape This innovative study demonstrates how Wogeo worldviews and social organization can be described in relation to terms of movements flows and placements in the landscape while in turn the landscape is constituted and made meaningful through people s activities and buildings The author not only addresses some of the key issues in contemporary anthropology concerning place gender kinship knowledge and power but also fills an important gap in Melanesian ethnography Understanding Pragmatics Gunter

Senft,2014-01-21 Understanding Pragmatics takes an interdisciplinary approach to provide an accessible introduction to linguistic pragmatics This book discusses how the meaning of utterances can only be understood in relation to overall cultural social and interpersonal contexts as well as to culture specific conventions and the speech events in which they are embedded From a cross linguistic and cross cultural perspective this book debates the core issues of pragmatics such as speech act theory conversational implicature deixis gesture interaction strategies ritual communication phatic communion linguistic relativity ethnography of speaking ethnomethodology conversation analysis languages and social classes and linguistic ideologies incorporates examples from a broad variety of different languages and cultures takes an innovative and transdisciplinary view of the field showing linguistic pragmatics has its predecessor in other disciplines such as philosophy psychology ethology ethnology sociology and the political sciences Written by an experienced teacher and researcher this introductory textbook is essential reading for all students studying pragmatics Experiencing New Worlds Jürg

Wassmann,Katharina Stockhaus,2007-11-01 The many different localities of the Pacific region have a long history of transformation under both pre and post colonial conditions More recently rates of local transformation have increased tremendously under post colonial regimes The forces of globalization which rapidly distribute commodities images and political and moral concepts across the region have presented Pacific populations with an unprecedented need and opportunity to fashion new and expanded understandings of their cultural and individual identities This volume the first in a new series examines the forces of globalization at different levels as they manifest themselves and operate across cultural cognitive and biographical dimensions of human life in the Pacific While posing familiar questions it offers new answers through the integration of cultural and psychological methods The contributors draw on practice theory cognitive science and the anthropology of space and place while exploring the key analytical rubrics of human agency memory and landscape
