Prior Knowledge Questions (Do these BEFORE using the Gizmo.)

1. Nate and Clara are drawing pictures with markers. There are 8 markers in a set. Nate has 9 markers and Clara has 7. What can Nate and Clara do so that each of them has a full set?

Answer: Nate can give Clara one marker so they can both have 8 markers.

2. Maggie is sitting at a table with Fred and Florence. Maggie has 10 markers, but Fred and Florence each have only 7 markers. How can they share markers so each has 8?

Answer: Maggie can give one to both Fred and Florence.

Gizmo Warm-up

Just like students sharing markers, atoms sometimes share or swap electrons. By doing this, atoms form bonds. The Ionic Bonds Gizmo allows you to explore how ionic bonds form.

To begin, check that Sodium (Na) and Chlorine (Cl) are selected from the menus at right. Click Play (▶) to see electrons orbiting the nucleus of each atom. (Note: These atom models are simplified and not meant to be realistic.)

1. Each atom consists of a central nucleus and several shells that contain electrons. The outermost electrons are called valence electrons. (Inner electrons are not shown.)

How many valence electrons does each atom have? Sodium: 1 Chlorine: 7

2. Click Pause (⏸). Elements can be classified as metals and nonmetals. Metals do not hold on to their valence electrons very tightly, while nonmetals hold their electrons tightly. Electron affinity is a measure of how tightly the valence electrons are held.

- A. Try pulling an electron away from each atom. Based on this experiment, which atom is a metal?

Andreas Wagner, 2011-07-14 The history of life is a nearly four billion year old story of transformative change This change ranges from dramatic macroscopic innovations such as the evolution of wings or eyes to a myriad of molecular changes that form the basis of macroscopic innovations We are familiar with many examples of innovations qualitatively new phenotypes that provide a critical benefit but have no systematic understanding of the principles that allow organisms to innovate This book proposes several such principles as the basis of a theory of innovation integrating recent knowledge about complex molecular phenotypes with more traditional Darwinian thinking Central to the book are genotype networks vast sets of connected genotypes that exist in metabolism and regulatory circuitry as well as in protein and RNA molecules The theory can successfully unify innovations that occur at different levels of organization It captures known features of biological innovation including the fact that many innovations occur multiple times independently and that they combine existing parts of a system to new purposes It also argues that environmental change is important to create biological systems that are both complex and robust and shows how such robustness can facilitate innovation Beyond that the theory can reconcile neutralism and selectionism as well as explain the role of phenotypic plasticity gene duplication recombination and cryptic variation in innovation Finally its principles can be applied to technological innovation and thus open to human engineering endeavours the powerful principles that have allowed life s spectacular success
