Methods and Technologies for Learning G. Chiazzese,M. Allegra,A. Chifari,S. Ottaviano,2005-03-04 For more than a decade the rapid growth of ICT and its use in education have generated a lot of changes in traditional educational structures as well as interest in defining new models for designing advanced learning solutions This book provides an overview of international perspectives regarding the latest innovations and results in different fields of education In particular it is addressed to all those who are interested in exploring methodologies and extending their knowledge of current research in education and training technologies The wide variety of contributions provides an interesting and useful account of some of the major issues and controversies facing researchers academicians professors educational scientists and technologists in most of the educational contexts in which ICT is applied Over 90 papers are featured and these are divided under headings including Online Education and Training Innovative Teaching and Learning Technologies Collaborative Learning Environments Navigation Strategies and Comprehension Mobile Learning Quality Issues of Distance Learning Processes Knowledge Management and E learning Learning Technologies for Primary and Secondary Schools Educational System for People with Special Needs Towards an Arab higher education space: international challenges and societal responsibilities Lamine, Bechir, 2010-12-31 The Comparison of Pupils' Achievement with Their Capacity Charles Watters Odell, 1929 Association of American Colleges Bulletin , 1925 Includes the Association's Proceedings English Tertiary Education in Vietnam James Albright, 2018-06-27 As part of a long series of Vietnam's policy objectives English education has been identified as key to improving the quality of its rapidly expanding tertiary institutions and is crucial to the larger aim of modernising and internationalising its economy Bringing together a wide range of Vietnamese and foreign English education scholars and tertiary educational practitioners this book documents the significant progress and challenges in the realisation of Vietnam's English language policies as they are enacted in the higher education sector Changes to Vietnam's higher education system remain unstable unsystematic and insubstantial This book provides insights into how recent Vietnamese government policy is providing for a substantial and comprehensive renewal of Vietnam's tertiary education as part of their 2020 plan Academics and students of English education language policy and nation building within the context of increased globalisation and marketisation in developing nations and Vietnam in particular should find this book valuable English Journal , 1961 The Use and Abuse of EFL Dictionaries Hilary Nesi, 2012-02-14 The book begins with a review of research into dictionary use A number of experimental design problems are discussed in particular the unreliability of questionnaire responses and the need for detailed accounts of individual dictionary consultations whilst sampling in numbers sufficient to represent specified populations The experiments reported in subsequent chapters investigate issues raised in the review The first two studies find that dictionary use during a reading comprehension test affected completion speed but not test scores The apparent failure of dictionary use to improve comprehension is attributed to the test itself the dictionaries and the users choice of look up words The ability of users to interpret dictionary entries is investigated in three further studies which use computers to gather data on large numbers of individual consultations The findings indicate that there is little difference between three major EFL dictionaries in terms of speed of consultation and overall productive success They also indicate that Malaysian ESL subjects who have higher vocabulary scores are slower in their reading and less successful in their interpretation of entries than Portuguese EFL subjects. Finally, the findings suggest that overall productive success is unaffected by the presence or absence of examples. The experimental findings lead to the conclusion that dictionary consultation is a process in which users match pre-existing beliefs about word meaning and behaviour against segments in the dictionary entry. Such segments are often selected because they are familiar sounding and conceptually accessible but may contain only incomplete or non-essential information. Where pre-existing beliefs and dictionary information conflict, dictionary information is sometimes overridden. Thus, word knowledge acquired from a single consultation is often insufficient to ensure productive success. Although it is probably inevitable that word knowledge will be acquired slowly through multiple encounters, modifications to the dictionary entry and the training of users might help to avoid serious misinterpretation of dictionary information.
