How Can You Become the Boss? Mary Ann Jacobs, Remigia Kushner, 2017-07-17 How Can You Become the Boss traces the trajectory of knowledge skills and disposition beginning with the ones needed to lead oneself through to leading others to develop the knowledge skills and dispositions to lead themselves and ultimately using that knowledge those skills and dispositions for leading an organization to transformation The goal is being able to lead a party of one before assuming that one can lead others Leading an organization means transformation into more of what the organization was intended to be by its vision and mission Leaders develop a personal vision and mission use the 168 hours a week that everyone has to produce a result hold a problem solving frame of mind cultivate a desire to learn and productively use self talk Ultimately these leaders foster a team approach through a culture of participation They regard leadership as an action rather than a position They see the future of leadership as collective lateral and integral and work with others from an abundance mentality These leaders move forward in learning using neuroscience findings to promote actions grounded in brain research and assuming responsibility as a way of being for the organization

Collecting for the Curriculum Amy J. Catalano, 2015-09-28 If you are a librarian charged with collecting curriculum materials and children's literature to support the Common Core State Standards then this book the only one that offers explicit advice on collection development in curriculum collections is for you While there are many publications on the Common Core for school librarians and K-12 educators no such literature exists for curriculum librarians at the post secondary level This book fills that gap standing alone as a guide to collection development for curriculum librarians independent of the Common Core State Standards CCSS The book provides instruction and guidance to curriculum librarians who acquire and manage collections so you can develop a collection based on best practices The book begins with a primer on the CCSS and how curriculum librarians can support them Discussion of the Standards is then woven through chapters arranged by content area that share research based practices in curriculum development and instruction to guide you in curriculum selection Material types covered include games textbooks children's literature primary sources counseling and nonfiction Additional chapters cover the management of curriculum collections testing collections and instruction and reference as well as how to support and collect for special needs learners Current practices in collection development for curriculum materials librarians are also reviewed The book closes with a discussion of the future of curriculum materials
