International Handbook on Teaching and Learning Economics Gail Mitchell Hoyt, KimMarie McGoldrick, 2012 The International Handbook on Teaching and Learning Economics is a power packed resource for anyone interested in investing time into the effective improvement of their personal teaching methods and for those who desire to teach students how to think like an economist. It sets guidelines for the successful integration of economics into a wide variety of traditional and non traditional settings in college and graduate courses with some attention paid to primary and secondary classrooms. The International Handbook on Teaching and Learning Economics is highly recommended for all economics instructors and individuals supporting economic education in courses in and outside of the major. This Handbook provides a multitude of rich resources that make it easy for new and veteran instructors to improve their instruction in ways promising to excite an increasing number of students about learning economics. This Handbook should be on every instructor's desk and referenced regularly. Tawni Hunt Ferrarini, The American Economist. In delightfully readable short chapters by leaders in the sub fields who are also committed teachers, this encyclopedia of how and what in teaching economics covers everything. There is nothing else like it and it should be required reading for anyone starting a teaching career and for anyone who has been teaching for fewer than 50 years. Daniel S Hamermesh, University of Texas Austin, US. The International Handbook on Teaching and Learning Economics provides a comprehensive resource for instructors and researchers in economics, both new and experienced. This wide ranging collection is designed to enhance student learning by helping economic educators learn more about course content, pedagogic techniques and the scholarship of the teaching enterprise. The internationally renowned contributors present an exhaustive compilation of accessible insights into major research in economic education across a wide range of topic areas including Pedagogic practice, teaching techniques, technology use, assessment, contextual techniques and K-12 practices. Research findings, principles, courses, measurement factors influencing student performance, evaluation and the scholarship of teaching and learning, Institutional administrative issues, faculty development, the undergraduate and graduate student and international perspectives, Teaching enhancement initiatives, foundations, organizations and workshops. Grounded in research and covering past and present knowledge as well as future challenges, this detailed compendium of economics education will prove an invaluable reference tool for all involved in the teaching of economics: graduate students, new teachers, lecturers, faculty, researchers, chairs, deans and directors.

Teaching Innovations in Economics María del Carmen Valls Martínez, José-María Montero, 2024-10-31. This book highlights the latest technological innovations in economics education. Economics as a discipline not only studies the relationship between ends and scarce means which can be used alternatively but also serves as a social science that uses historical data to predict future events, a task complicated by the influence of human behavior. In economics, a solid theoretical foundation alone is insufficient; practical application requires a deep understanding of statistics. With the vast amount of information available today, data processing is now performed using specialized software. Consequently, teaching economics demands a wide range of complex skills that have significantly evolved in recent years, driven by the growing interest in educational innovation among professors and scientists, further accelerated by advancements in new technologies.

Moreover economics education is increasingly aligned with the global concern for sustainability as emphasized in the United Nations Agenda 2030 Professors are now integrating sustainability into syllabi and teaching methodologies This book covers key topics such as Technological and innovative advancements in economics education New teaching learning theories and models in economics education The impact of digital transformation on economics education The role of artificial intelligence in economics education Addressing special educational needs in economics education Evaluation of the teaching learning process in economics Assessment of student learning in economics Development of materials and tools for economics education Final projects Undergraduate and Master s in economics Authored by leading professors and researchers in the field this book presents a collection of chapters that rigorously explore teaching innovations in economics Principles of Economics Alan Axelrod, Walton Rawls, Harry Oster, James Holtje, 1999 These class tested guides complete with detailed explanations of answers and test taking strategies feature 11 Midterms and 11 Final Examination from top universities An introductory essay defining the nature and scope of the course including its goals and what instructors expect students to learn A step by step guide to writing the essay and fully explained answers to essay questions complete with discussion and notes from the professor

Teaching Innovation in University Education: Case Studies and Main Practices Saura, Jose Ramon, 2022-06-17 In the last decade the development of new technologies has made innovation a fundamental pillar of education Teaching innovation includes the evolution of both teaching and learning models to drive improvements in educational methodologies Teaching innovation is a pioneer in the understanding and comprehension of the different teaching methodologies and models developed in the academic area Teaching innovation is a process that seeks validation in the academic and teaching communities at universities in order to promote the improvement and its practices and uses in the future characterized by digital development and data based methods Teaching Innovation in University Education Case Studies and Main Practices features the major practices and case studies of teaching innovation developed in recent years at universities It is a source on study cases focused on teaching innovation methodologies as well as on the identification of new technologies that will help the development of initiatives and practices focused on teaching innovation at higher education institutions Covering topics such as didactic strategics service learning and technology based gamification this premier reference source is an indispensable resource for pre service teachers lecturers students faculty administrators libraries entrepreneurs researchers and academicians
