Ecological Intelligence: Rediscovering Ourselves in Nature (Easyread Large Edition) Ian McCallum, 2009-12 A best seller in Africa Ecological Intelligence defines a new way of thinking about the unprecedented environmental pressures of our day Ian McCallum offers a compelling argument that we must think differently about ourselves and the earth if we are to take seriously the survival of wilderness areas wild animals and the human race He explores the relationship between humans and nature from both a biological and poetic perspective articulating a wild and ethical imperative an urgent reminder that we are inextricably linked to the land and that we must not be the creatures of our own undoing A profound and necessary book about an important idea Something like this had to be done Lyall Watson best selling author of Supernature

Ecological Intelligence Ian McCallum, 2017 A best seller in Africa Ecological Intelligence defines a new way of thinking about the unprecedented environmental pressures of our day McCallum offers a compelling argument that we must think differently about ourselves and the earth if we are to take seriously the survival of wilderness areas wild animals and the human race Ecological Intelligence explores the relationship between humans and nature from both a biological and poetic perspective arguing that understanding and reinforcing the evolutionary bonds that connect all life will lead to a greater sense of our place in the world

Ecological Intelligence Daniel Goleman, 2009-04-21 The bestselling author of Emotional Intelligence and Primal Leadership now brings us Ecological Intelligence revealing the hidden environmental consequences of what we make and buy and how with that knowledge we can drive the essential changes we all must make to save our planet and ourselves We buy herbal shampoos that contain industrial chemicals that can threaten our health or contaminate the environment We dive down to see coral reefs not realizing that an ingredient in our sunscreen feeds a virus that kills the reef We wear organic cotton t shirts but don't know that its dyes may put factory workers at risk for leukemia In Ecological Intelligence Daniel Goleman reveals why so many of the products that are labeled green are a mirage and illuminates our wild inconsistencies in response to the ecological crisis Drawing on cutting edge research Goleman explains why we as shoppers are in the dark over the hidden impacts of the goods and services we make and consume victims of a blackout of information about the detrimental effects of producing shipping packaging distributing and discarding the goods we buy But the balance of power is about to shift from seller to buyer as a new generation of technologies informs us of the ecological facts about products at the point of purchase This radical transparency will enable consumers to make smarter purchasing decisions and will drive companies to rethink and reform their businesses ushering in Goleman claims a new age of competitive advantage

Effect of Ecological Intelligence on Developing Ecological Sensitivity Among Prospective Teachers Dr.M. Caroline Maria, 2020-05-18 This book is about an experimental study carried out by the author to find out the effect of ecological intelligence on developing ecological sensitivity among prospective teachers The experiment is conducted to enhance the prospective teachers ecological intelligence in order to develop their ecological sensitivity which is expected to be imbibed in student community for ensuring a safe environment to all living beings The author has adopted Daniel Goleman's idea of ecological intelligence and developed the concept of ecological sensitivity from the perspective of the mental disposition of an individual to deal effectively with the dynamic environment with empathy by taking initiatives to mitigate the environmental problems for sustainable development since the prevailing environmental condition demands the human beings to quickly respond to the environmental problems in order to protect the environment not only for the continued survival of the present generation but also to ensure safe environment for the future generations

From Intellect to Intelligence Douwe Van der Zee, 2007

Toxic Belongings? Dan Wylie, 2008 Southern Africa TM's literatures brim with references to the natural world its landscapes and its animals Both fictional and non-fictional works express ongoing debates often highly politicised concerning its various groups TM senses of identity and belonging in relation to the land and its denizens This often involves a pervasive tension between Western TM settler societies TM conceptions of modernity and indigenous world views each complicating the often simplistic binarisms drawn between them In this selection of papers from the 2006 Literature and Ecology Colloquium held in Grahamstown South Africa the complexities of forging imaginative and pragmatic senses of belonging in Southern Africa are explored from a variety of disciplinary perspectives philosophical historical botanical and anthropological as well as literary Their subject matter ranges widely from Bushmen testimonies to Berlin missionaries from prehistoric cave dwellers to Schopenhauer from white Batswana to lion tamers but find themselves echoing one another in intriguing and illuminating ways These are highly localised meditations on age old questions What does it mean to be human within a natural environment Why do we appear to be so damaging to the ecology that sustains us Is our presence inevitably toxic TM to our planetary fellow travellers How do we forge an ecologically sound sense of belonging in this post colonial post apartheid post modern era If this collection has a single most prominent question binding it together it is this What are the limits and potentialities of human compassion towards the natural world Bending the Curve Robert Zipplies,2008 South Afrika is Fantastik Jannie Geldenhuys,2007 The Animal Gaze Wendy Woodward,2008 Many humans do not regard animals as complex beings This title brings together Animal Studies Ethics Literary Studies and African traditional thought including shamanism in a way that compels the reader to think differently about nonhuman animals and human relationships with them

Doing Democracy Darren E. Lund,Paul R. Carr,2008 In this provocative collection of essays with a distinctly critical and nuanced approach to how democracy is taught learned understood and lived authors from four continents share their visions on how democracy needs to be cultivated critiqued demonstrated and manifested throughout the educational experience The collective concern is how we actually do democracy in education The essays argue that democracy must be infused in everything that happens at school curriculum extra curricular activities interaction with parents and communities and through formal organization and structures One of the book s central questions is Are educators merely teaching students skills and knowledge to prepare them for the world of work or is education more about encouraging students to thrive within a pluralistic society This book reveals that democracy is an ethos an ideology a set of values a philosophy and a complex and dynamic terrain that is a contested forum for debate From seasoned veterans to emerging scholars these writers challenge the idea that there is only one type of democracy or that democracy is defined by elections Using a range of theoretical conceptual and methodological approaches each essay makes a compelling case for how education can advance a more critical engagement in democracy that promotes social justice and political literacy for all Diverse examples illustrate the theme of doing democracy With its numerous models for teaching and learning to encourage critical thinking and engagement this book is certain to be an invaluable resource to educators researchers students and anyone with a passion for democratic ideals Climate Change Hennie Stoffberg,Paul Prinsloo,2009 A guide into the complex relationship between corporates and an increasingly regulatory and auditing environment which holds corporations accountable for their carbon footprint The book provides an overview of factors big business needs to consider when formulating appropriate and effective responses to climate change Bookseller s website Gaining Ground International Fund for Animal Welfare,2006
