Agro-ecology Program Paper, 1990 Where Next? Duncan Poore, 2000 Where Next examines the phenomenal advances in technology in a world where desperate poverty starvation environmental disaster and exile afflict millions of people Nineteen essays by 18 leading philosophers scientists economists ecologists sociologists industrialists and practitioners of international relations and law address the broader aspects of modern environmental issues and suggest possible ways forward Uncivil City Amita Baviskar, 2024-11-04 As cities become habitat for most of humanity the question of their ecological capacity to sustain lives worth living becomes ever more critical Yet when we listen to debates about city planning and governance and observe urban environmental campaigns on the ground we notice that they have little to do with ecology or justice To examine this contradiction Uncivil City Ecology Equity and the Commons in Delhi looks at two decades of environmental politics in Delhi across homes and workplaces ordinary streets and extraordinary spectacles and the river and the Ridge It argues that the terms of the discourse what is an environmental issue who is authorised to speak and which modes of action count as legitimate are partial particularistic and perverse Bourgeois environmentalists who claim to speak in the public interest for nature and society have made the city what it is unfair and unliveable Only citizenship and civility will save the commons air water space and trees upon which cities depend for survival Rethinking Indian Culture, 2001 Contributed articles presented at the International Seminar on Rethinking Indian Culture Challenges and Responses held in 1999 at Cuttack Orissa Reconfiguring Public Relations David McKie, Debashish Munshi, 2007-05-24

This book reconfigures the field of public relations so that it can better engage with the changing world of the 21st century. It identifies the virtual absence of contemporary theories that are core in other disciplines and fills the gap by integrating critical postmodern poststructural postcolonial and other relevant theories into public relations. Reconfiguring Public Relations reenergises thinking about diversity through equity and in terms of business enterprise and environmental sustainability. It makes the case for more equitable diversity strategies in an era of increasing globalisation and establishes their relevance to organisational identity and core values. The book clarifies the present by taking a look back at the past and projecting forward to possible futures including scenarios. CSA Political Science & Government, 2001 Equality of

This model teaches students ethical skills vocabulary and tools to apply in everyday business decisions and throughout their business courses. The authors speak in a sophisticated yet accessible manner while teaching the fundamentals of business ethics. Hartman's professional background in law and her teaching experience in business curriculum combined with DesJardins' background in philosophy results in a broad language ideal for this approach and market. The authors' goal is to engage the student by focusing on cases and business scenarios that students already find interesting.
