Children's Spaces Mark Dudek, 2012-05-04 This collection of essays is concerned with the experiences children have within the supervised worlds they inhabit as well as with architecture and landscape architecture International examples of innovative childcare practice are illustrated together with the design processes which informed their development The emphasis here is on new and experimental childcare projects which set out to reassert the rights of children to participate in a complex multi faceted world which is no longer available to them unless under adult supervision Research supports in depth recommendations regarding the ideal children's environment across a range of contexts and dimensions Until recent times the needs of children within the urban environment were largely ignored There is little tradition and no broadly agreed contemporary architectural or landscape theory as to how children should be provided for beyond a limited functional agenda There is a sense that architecture for childhood is not taken seriously it is either whimsical and ephemeral or largely designed for adults an adjunct to the more important business of adult needs and aspirations Yet children access much of their education and development through play and social interaction with their childhood counterparts The spaces in and around children's daycare centres schools supervised parks and other dedicated children's environments are the subject of this collection As more and more purpose designed buildings and gardens for children are opened the need to listen to children and their carers is becoming more apparent Mark Dudek gathers together a number of internationally recognized experts in the field of childcare environments to write about different aspects of the landscape They have been chosen in particular because of their background in enquiring research orientated work both theoretical and practical They listen to and watch children Contributors have considered the child's environment as one which is secure and controlled yet offers additional environmental dimensions which extend developmental possibilities Children often spend a great deal of time in daycare facilities and schools as parents are absorbed in their own work and leisure activities This places an emphasis on architects and planners to consider the needs of children in great detail As such the child's environment must be conceived of as a rich complex place a world within a world We use the word LANDSCAPE in recognition that children do not differentiate between the inside and the outside private and public every part of their perception is open to stimulation by a stimulating environment

Different Every Time Marcus O'Dair, 2015-09-01 Robert Wyatt started out as the drummer and singer for Soft Machine who shared a residency at Middle Earth with Pink Floyd and toured America with the Jimi Hendrix Experience He brought a jazz mindset to the 1960s rock scene having honed his drumming skills in a shed at the end of Robert Graves garden in Mallorca Spain Wyatt's life took an abrupt turn in 1973 when he fell from a fourth floor window at a party and was paralyzed from the waist down He reinvented himself as a singer and composer with the extraordinary album Rock Bottom which he followed with an idiosyncratic string of records that uniquely combine the personal and political Along the way Robert has worked with the likes of Brian Eno Bjork Jerry Dammers Charlie Haden David Gilmour Paul Weller and Hot Chip Marcus O'Dair has talked to all of them indeed anyone who has shaped or been shaped by Wyatt over five decades Different Every Time is the first biography of Robert Wyatt and it was written with his full participation It includes illustrations by Alfreda Bengé and photographs from Robert's personal archive
