

1. Before attempting to solve anything, read the entire word problem to get a good grasp on everything.

2. Don't let a word problem intimidate you. Pull out all the important information from the problem and organize it.

3. Once you have all the important information pulled out and organized. As yourself, "what is this problem asking me to solve for? What information do I have and what information do I not have?"

4. With all the information organized and knowing what the problem is asking you to solve for, pick the correct formula.

5. With the information organized and correct formula, plug in the information and solve.
