Eco Living Architecture In Focus:

Eco Living Chris van Uffelen, 2013 Combining sustainability with trendsetting design is one of the great challenges of contemporary architecture Resource sparing living space is one of the most important themes This title shows the variety of possibilities with the established technologies as well as newer experimental approaches The Rise of Living Architecture, 2012 Gives voice to more than fifty extraordinary people who are currently engaged with this transformation These individuals form a diverse community that cuts across professional disciplines cultural linguistic and geographical boundaries They share a belief that they can make a difference through their varied efforts to expand living architectural approaches that result in biophilic restorative buildings and healthier and more resilient communities Nature by Design Stephen R. Kellert, 2018-01-01 A gorgeously illustrated accessible book that provides a holistic summary of the key elements for good biophilic design Living Architecture Graeme Hopkins, Christine Goodwin, 2011 Extensively illustrated with photographs and drawings Living Architecture highlights the most exciting green roof and living wall projects in Australia and New Zealand within an international context Living Architecture, Living Cities Christopher Day, Julie Gwilliam, 2019-11-08 It is widely accepted that our environment is in crisis Less widely recognized is that three quarters of environmental damage is due to cities the places where most of us live As this powerful new book elucidates global sustainability is therefore directly dependent on urban design In Living Architecture Living Cities Christopher Day and Julie Gwilliam move beyond the current emphasis on technological change They argue that eco technology allows us to continue broadly as before and only defers the impending disaster In reality most negative environmental impacts are due to how we live and the things we buy Such personal choices often result from dissatisfaction with our surroundings As perceived environment has a direct effect on attitudes and motivations improving this can achieve more sustainable lifestyles more effectively than drastic building change with its notorious performance gap limitations As it is in places that our inner feelings and material reality interact perceived environment is place based Ultimately however as the root cause of unsustainability is attitude real change requires moving from the current focus on buildings and technology to an emphasis on the non material Featuring over 400 high quality illustrations this is essential reading for anyone who believes in the value and power of good design Christopher Day's philosophy will continue to inspire students with an interest in sustainable architecture urban planning and related fields From Life to Architecture, to Life Tim Ireland, 2024-01-18 The book establishes a correlation between architectural theory and the biosemiotic project and suggest how this coupling establishes a framework leading to an architectural biosemiotic paradigm that puts biosemiotic theory at the heart of cognising the built environment and offers an approach to understanding and shaping the built environment that supports and benefits human and organismic spatial intelligence
