Robotics in STEM Education Myint Swe Khine, 2017-07-10 This book describes recent approaches in advancing STEM education with the use of robotics innovative methods in integrating robotics in school subjects engaging and stimulating students with robotics in classroom based and out of school activities and new ways of using robotics as an educational tool to provide diverse learning experiences It addresses issues and challenges in generating enthusiasm among students and revamping curricula to provide application focused and hands on approaches in learning The book also provides effective strategies and emerging trends in using robotics designing learning activities and how robotics impacts the students interests and achievements in STEM related subjects The frontiers of education are progressing very rapidly This volume brought together a collection of projects and ideas which help us keep track of where the frontiers are moving This book ticks lots of contemporary boxes STEM robotics coding and computational thinking among them Most educators interested in the STEM phenomena will find many ideas in this book which challenge provide evidence and suggest solutions related to both pedagogy and content Regular reference to 21st Century skills achieved through active collaborative learning in authentic contexts ensures the enduring usefulness of this volume John Williams Professor of Education and Director of the STEM Education Research Group Curtin University Perth Australia Robots 12 and Vision '88 Conference ,1988

Precision Assembly in the Digital Age Svetan Ratchev, 2018-12-31 This book constitutes the refereed post conference proceedings of the 8th IFIP WG 5.5 International Precision Assembly Seminar IPAS 2018 held in Chamonix France in January 2018 The 20 revised full papers were carefully reviewed and selected from numerous submissions The papers address topics such as machine vision and metrology for assembly operations gripping and handling technologies numerical methods and planning in assembly digital technologies and Industry 4.0 applications precision assembly methods assembly systems and platforms and human cooperation and machine learning They are organized in the following topical sections design and deployment of assembly systems human robot cooperation and machine vision assembly methods and models digital technologies and industry 4.0 applications and gripping and handling solutions in assembly The International Robot Industry Report John Mortimer, Brian Rooks, 2013-04-17 Like many other new technologies which have since been seized and exploited by others the industrial robot is a British invention In 1957 a patent was produced by a British inventor Cyril Walter Kenward and later it became crucial to the future of robotics For across the Atlantic two robot builders Unimation and AMF both infringed this patent and ultimately a cash settlement was made to Kenward The owner of Unimation Inc was Joseph Engelberger an entrepreneur and avid reader of Isaac Asimov the writer who helped to create the image of the benevolent robot It is claimed that Engelberger's journey of fame down the road which led to him being hailed as the father of robotics can be traced to the day that he met George C Devol at a cocktail party Devol was an inventor with an impressive list of patents to his name in the electronics field One of Devol's patent applications referred to a Programmed Transfer Article

Devol's patent was issued in 1961 as US Patent 2 988 237 and this formed the basis of the Unimate robot which first saw the light of day in 1960 The first Unimate was sold to Ford Motor Company which used it to tend a die casting machine It is perhaps ironic that the first robot was used by a company which refused to recognise the machine as a robot preferring instead to call it a Universal Transfer Device
