Fictional Authors Imaginary Audiences Modern Chinese Literature In The Twentieth Century:

Fictional Authors, Imaginary Audiences Bonnie S. McDougall, 2003 The authors and audiences for 20th century Chinese literature especially fiction are examined in a fresh light While modern Chinese fictions are imaginary in that they do not constitute reliable portraits of Chinese life they offer insights into the writers themselves and their implied audiences

Subjectivity and Sexuality in Contemporary Chinese Feminist Writing Ruttapond Swanpitak, 2025-02-17 This book explores representations of female sexuality and subjectivity in contemporary Chinese fiction by three women writers published from 1986 to 2000 from the perspective of poststructuralist feminism It discusses the representative works of authors Wang Anyi Tie Ning and Chi Li who are well known in the Chinese literary field However their works have not to date been analysed through the poststructuralist feminism s notions of subjectivity femininity and transgression This book then provides detailed analysis of each writer and draws comparisons between their works to provide an extended consideration of female sexuality and subjectivity within post Mao Chinese fiction In this respect this book not only offers fresh insights into the three authors fiction but also contributes to the feminist study of Chinese women s writing Additionally the research contributes to a better understanding of contemporary Chinese culture in relation to patriarchy misogyny feminism differences and resistance It is relevant to scholars in the fields of China studies Chinese literature feminist literature and gender studies

Fictional Authors, Imaginary Audiences Bonnie S. McDougall, 2003 While modern Chinese fiction does not necessarily constitute a reliable portrait of Chinese life it can reveal fascinating insights into Chinese writers and their audiences This book examines poetry drama film and the visual arts revealing their political and social context Surveying the major trends in fiction at the end of the century the book shows how some writers reinvented themselves as hooligans or pop stars while others reaffirmed their old alliance with the remnants of the cultural establishment

A Century of Modern Chinese Poetry Michelle Yeh, Zhangbin Li, Frank Stewart, 2023-05-02 The most comprehensive collection of modern Chinese poetry in English translation available today This volume a completely overhauled and updated version of Michelle Yeh s 1992 classic Anthology of Modern Chinese Poetry brings together modern poetry from the Chinese speaking world dating from the 1910s to the 2010s Featuring the work of 85 poets from mainland China Taiwan Hong Kong Malaysia and Singapore it contains more than 280 poems that span the entire history of modern Chinese poetry Poets include those regarded as canonical as well as some who have been newly discovered or reevaluated in recent years each selected for their distinctive voice and inimitable style Also for the first time contemporary song lyrics are included as poetry This diversity of perspectives along with its geographic reach and expansive timeframe make the anthology a much needed contribution to the study of Chinese poetry and world literature With short biographies of the poets a select bibliography and a comprehensive introduction A Century of Modern Chinese Poetry is a critical resource for students scholars and general readers alike

literature in China is widely acknowledged To better understand the processes of its translation transmission and interpretation during the first half of the 20th century this book draws on an array of Chinese and Russian sources providing insight into the interplay of political ideologies cultural trends commercial forces and the self definition of Chinese culture in the period under consideration By focusing on the translation and translators of three writers Boris Savinkov Mikhail Artsybashev and Leonid Andreev it analyzes the critical fortune in China of the modernist literature written in Russia during the two decades preceding the Great War and Revolution Offering a thorough study of Lu Xun the most important Chinese author of the 20th century as a reader translator and interpreter of Russian literature this book also displays the variety of the groups and persons involved in the introduction of foreign literature going beyond shopworn generalizations about East and West to make meaningful statements about a complex period in Chinese history Translating Chinese Fiction Tan Yesheng,2024-06-28 Drawing on the cognitive translational paradigm this book introduces a situation embedded cognitive construction model of translation and explores the thinking portfolios of British and American sinologists cum translators to re examine their multiple voices and cognition in translating Chinese fiction By placing sinologists cum translators in the same discourse space the study transcends the limitations of previous case studies and offers a comprehensive cognitive panorama of how Chinese novels are rendered The author explores the challenges and difficulties of translating Chinese fiction from the insider perspectives of British and American sinologists and cross validates their multiple voices by aligning them with cross cultural communication scenarios Based on the cognitive construction model of translation the book provides a systematic review of the translation thoughts and ideas of the community of sinologists in terms of linguistic conventions narrative styles contextual and cultural frames readership categories and metaphorical models of translation It envisions a new research path to enhance empirical research on translators cognition in a dynamic translation ecosystem The title will be an essential read for students and scholars of translation studies and Chinese studies It will also appeal to translators and researchers interested in cognitive stylistics literary studies and intercultural communication studies 中国翻译研究,2003 Chinese Literature James L. Claren,2002 Chinese literature one of the world s oldest and richest and consisting originally of poetry and later of drama and fiction may be divided into three major historical periods that roughly correspond to those of Western literary history the classical period from the 6th century BC to the 2nd century AD the medieval period from the third century to the late 12th century and the modern period from the 13th century to the present This book presents an overview of Chinese literature as well as a comprehensive bibliography primarily of English language sources accessed by subject author and title indexes Acta Orientalia ,2007 Historical Dictionary of the People's Republic of China Lawrence R. Sullivan,2007-05-23 When the Chinese Communist Party CCP seized power in October 1949 China was one of the poorest nations in the world In fact it was so weak it had been conquered by Japan a country one tenth its size a decade earlier Now more than fifty years later the People s Republic of China PRC is an emerging economic political and military superpower with the world's fastest growing economy and largest population 1.3 billion in 2005. A member of the United Nations Security Council since the early 1970s and a nuclear power, China wields enormous influence in the world community. The second edition of the Historical Dictionary of the People's Republic of China contains more than 400 cross-referenced dictionary entries on individual topics spanning China's political, economic and social system, along with short biographies on important figures from politicians to writers and movie directors who have shaped Chinese history during the period of Communist rule from 1949 to 2006. Supplementing the entries are a chronology, an introduction, charts outlining the structure of the Chinese government and a bibliography of works in English, making this a superb resource for college and high school students needing a quick reference on contemporary China. China Review International, 2003

China Review, 2007 Asian Folklore Studies, 2005 Paths Toward Modernity Olga Lomová, 2008 Programme for the XVth Conference of the European Association of Chinese Studies: Heidelberg, August 25-29, 2004 European Association for Chinese Studies. Congrès, 2004 Corruption and Realism in Late Socialist China Jeffrey Kinkley, 2007. The first analysis in any language of China's recent epic novels about official corruption, this book explores how Chinese authors treat the theme of official malfeasance in mass market thrillers, how those works reflect modern life and how they approach the taboo subject of regime change. The Invention of a Discourse Jeanne Hong Zhang, 2004 Publications of the Modern Language Association of America, 2003 Reinventing China Paul Clark, 2005. This book is a study of the genesis and films of the fifth generation of Chinese filmmakers who emerged in the 1980s and whose work vividly reflects the nature of change in China in the second half of the twentieth century. book jacket The Marshes of Mount Liang Nai'an Shi, Guanzhong Luo, Alex Dent-Young, 2002. The Scattered Flock, the last volume of this new series of translations, contains chapters 91-120 that mark the disastrous end of the 108 heroes. The action in this volume can be divided into three parts: the campaign against Tian Hu, the campaign against Wang Qing and the campaign against Fang La. It is in the last of these that the heroes of Mount Liang begin to die. Their demise is as haphazard and casual as the scattering of the flock of geese when the Prodigy shoots them for mere amusement. The themes of the vanity of human wishes and the emptiness of ambition are prominent throughout.
