Fifth World Of Forster Bennett Portrait:

The Fifth World of Forster Bennett Vincent Crapanzano, 2003-01-01 It is told that the ancestors of the Navajos journeyed through four worlds to reach the fifth or present one The pressing complexities and underlying wonder of their fifth world of modern reservation life are portrayed in this classic ethnographic account by Vincent Crapanzano As a young inexperienced anthropologist Crapanzano spent a summer with a Navajo man he calls Forster Bennett In his fifties Bennett was raised during the early reservation years fought in the South Pacific in the Second World War and like many carried a deep but not always openly expressed resentment toward whites Crapanzano's honest and gritty account of his time with Bennett and Bennett's community reveals a stark portrait of the flat slow quality of reservation life where boredom and poverty coexist with age old sacred rituals and the varying ways that Navajos react and adjust to changes in their culture

The Fifth World of Forster Bennett Crapanzano, 2003      The Fifth World of Forster Bennett Vincent Crapanzano, 1973      American Indian Autobiography, 2008-05-01 American Indian Autobiography is a kind of cultural kaleidoscope whose narratives come to us from a wide range of American Indians warriors farmers Christian converts rebels and assimilationists peyotists shamans hunters Sun Dancers artists and Hollywood Indians spiritualists visionaries mothers fathers and English professors Many of these narratives are as told to autobiographies and those who labored to set them down in writing are nearly as diverse as their subjects Black Elk had a poet for his amanuensis Maxidiwiac a Hidatsa farmer who worked her fields with a bone blade hoe had an anthropologist Two Leggings the man who led the last Crow war party speaks to us through a merchant from Bismarck North Dakota White Horse Eagle an aged Osage told his story to a Nazi historian By discussing these remarkable narratives from a historical perspective H David Brumble III reveals how the various editors assumptions and methods influenced the autobiographies as well as the autobiographers Brumble also and perhaps most importantly describes the various oral autobiographical traditions of the Indians themselves including those of N Scott Momaday and Leslie Marmon Silko American Indian Autobiography includes an extensive bibliography this Bison Books edition features a new introduction by the author      Terrain of Memory Kirsten Emiko McAllister, 2011-01-01 For communities who have been the target of political violence the after effects can haunt what remains of their families their communities and the societies in which they live Terrain of Memory tells the story of the Japanese Canadian elders who built a memorial in 1994 to mark a village in an isolated mountainous valley in British Columbia with their history of internment It explores memory as a powerful collective cultural practice following elders and locals as they worked together to transform a site of political violence into a space for remembrance They transformed a valley where once over 7 000 women men and children were interned into a pilgrimage site where Japanese Canadians can mourn and also pay their respects to the wartime generation This is a compelling story about how collectively excavating painful memories can contribute to building relations across social and intergenerational divides      Native American Life-history Narratives Susan Berry Brill de
