Kälin,Patrick Weil,Henley & Partners,2014 The Global Market for Investor Citizenship Jelena Džankić,2019-05-10 This book presents a systematic study of the history theory and policy of investor citizenship and residence programmes It explores how states develop new rules of joining their community in response to globalisation and highlights the tension between citizenship policies aimed at migrant integration and those such as the sale of passports which create long distance citizens Individual chapters offer insights in the historical relationship between citizenship money and property discuss arguments that support and counter the practice of the sale of citizenship and examine the interests and strategies of the different actors states companies individuals that constitute the supply and demand sides of the burgeoning citizenship industry The book provides a global overview of the market for investor citizenship as well as a separate policy analysis of the sale of citizenship and residence in the European Union Unleashing Growth and Strengthening Resilience in the Caribbean Mr.Krishna Srinivasan,Ms.Inci Otker,Ms.Uma Ramakrishnan,Mr.Trevor Serge Coleridge Alleyne,2017-11-13 This book provides a diagnosis of the central economic and financial challenges facing Caribbean policymakers and offers broad policy recommendations for promoting a sustained and inclusive increase in economic well being The analysis highlights the need for Caribbean economies to make a concerted effort to break the feedback loops between weak macroeconomic fundamentals notably pertaining to fiscal positions and financial sector strains and structural impediments such as high electricity costs limited financial deepening violent crime and brain drain which have depressed private investment and growth A recurring theme in the book is the need for greater regional coordination in finding solutions to address the Caribbean s shared and intertwined macroeconomic and structural challenges The analysis suggests that strengthening regional and global market integration of Caribbean economies would provide an impetus to sustained growth in incomes and jobs Greater regional and global economic integration would also facilitate structural transformation and a shift toward new economic activities resulting in more diversified and less vulnerable economies A central challenge for the Caribbean is thus to come together as a region overcome the limitations posed by size and garner the benefits of globalization Efforts should build on existing regional arrangements accelerating progress in implementing these agreements would stimulate trade Policymakers could also promote deeper integration with Latin America and the rest of the world by pursuing new trade agreements leveraging current agreements more effectively or deepening them to include areas beyond traditional trade issues and developing port and transport infrastructure Migration and Mobility in the European Union Andrew Geddes,Leila Hadj-Abdou,Leiza Brumat,2020-04-22 International migration and mobility whether from outside the EU or in the form of free movement by EU citizens are controversial and potentially divisive issues that are and will remain at the top of the EU s political agenda This fully revised and updated text analyses the complex and often controversial nature of policymaking in this fast developing field and brings the discussion up to date as the ramifications of the so called migration crisis continue to unfold It offers an exploration of the dynamics of migration and mobility in the EU including different types of migration the EU s policy framework within which national policies are now located and considers the widespread notion and public perception of policy failure in this field Unique in its portrayal of policy responses to migration in Europe this text will be essential reading for undergraduate and postgraduate students of the politics of migration European integration and the Politics of EU as well as anyone with an interest in this fascinating policy area

Latin America and the International Court of Justice Paula Wojcikiewicz Almeida, Jean-Marc Sorel, 2016-11-25 This book aims to evaluate the contribution of Latin America to the development of international law at the International Court of Justice ICJ This contemporary approach to international adjudication includes the historical contribution of the region to the development of international law through the emergence of international jurisdictions as well as the procedural and material contribution of the cases submitted by or against Latin American states to the ICJ to the development of international law The project then conceives international jurisdictions from a multifunctional perspective which encompasses the Court as both an instrument of the parties and an organ of a value based international community This shows how Latin American states have become increasingly committed to the peaceful settlement of disputes and to the promotion of international law through adjudication It culminates with an expansion of the traditional understanding of the function of the ICJ by Latin American states including an analysis of existing challenges in the region The book will be of interest to all those interested in international dispute resolution including academic libraries the judiciary practitioners in international law government institutions academics and students alike

NLS Handbook, Ius Doni Christian H. Kälin, 2016-05-02 Ius doni commonly referred to as citizenship by investment or economic citizenship is one of the avenues of citizenship acquisition alongside ius sanguinis ius soli and others It refers to the acquisition of the status of citizenship through an exceptional economic contribution to the issuing country and by extension a contribution to the welfare advancement and economic development of the host state Ius doni is thus a specific sub type of naturalization The term ius doni was introduced by immigration and citizenship law specialist Dr Christian H K lin pioneer of the citizenship by investment industry in his research on the topic Dr K lin introduced the concept into the contemporary legal and political theory of citizenship by providing the first comprehensive analysis of the subject discussing the historical legal and political concepts of citizenship

Ius Doni in International Law and EU Law Christian Kälin, 2019 In Ius Doni in International Law and EU Law Dr Christian H K lin establishes the concept of ius doni in the contemporary legal and political theorising of citizenship Providing a comprehensive analysis of the subject the book discusses the legal and political concepts of citizenship It also introduces a new term for what is already an increasingly common and accepted practice of granting citizenship on the basis of substantial contributions to the State Consisting of two main parts law and practice the monograph analyses the ius doni concept in both international law and EU law further tests its application in practice and establishes best practices among states Finally the book discusses the conceptual and practical implications for citizenship

The Global Trade and Investment Handbook Jack A. Gottschalk,1993 The world is changing rapidly The former People s Republic of Germany and the Republic of Germany have been reunited Others such as Czechoslovakia Yugoslavia and of course the former Soviet Union have split apart The consequences of such changes are not relegated only to the spheres of geopolitics and strategic planning they are equally important to the international business and investment communities As a country becomes geographically larger or smaller so does its ability to attract foreign dollars either in terms of portfolio or direct investment Governmental stability surely one of the most important considerations of foreign investors when international alternatives are reviewed also plays an important role The information needed to enter new or changing markets and control risk is difficult to obtain and expensive to compile Now available in one source The Global Trade and Investment Handbook is the first comprehensive source of available information on business practices regulations foreign trade and investment law written for foreign investors This volume triumphs in providing in one country by country reference format a complete and readily accessible overview of foreign trade and investment law for 155 countries For every country included from Albania to Zimbabwe the reader will find a complete review of relevant topics including Political Environment Foreign Investment Policy Permitted Business Organizations Environmental Protection Rights and Obligations of Foreign Investors and Labor Laws Accounting Requirements Currency Controls Taxation Legal System Customs and Duties Protection of Intellectual Property Immigration and Residence and Where to Find Investment Assistance
