Sassa, 2012-12-06 This proceedings volume has been edited from sixty nine full text papers of the 132 papers presented to the IUFRO International Union of Forestry Research Organizations Conference on Environmental Forest Science which was jointly organized by IUFRO Division 8 Forest Environment and Kyoto University in Kyoto Japan on 19-23 October 1998. The International Union of Forestry Research Organizations IUFRO is one of the oldest scientific societies. It was founded in 1892 to foster cooperation of research units on forestry. IUFRO consists of 650 research organizations from 100 countries. IUFRO Division 8 is the latest division founded at the 20 World Congress in 1995 by subdividing the previous Division 1 Forest Environment and Silviculture. The objective of this first general Conference of Division 8 is to consider research needs in the 21st century for forest environment and the integration of related fields of sciences to a new concept of environmental forest science.

Australasian Weekly Manufacturer, 1965 Sustainable Groundwater Development for Improved Livelihoods in Sub-Saharan Africa Paul Pavelic, Karen G. Villholth, Shilp Verma, 2023-05-08 This book provides a comprehensive analysis of the benefits and challenges of intensifying groundwater irrigation in Sub-Saharan Africa (SSA) for improving smallholder agrarian livelihoods. Only about 3% of the groundwater resources of Sub-Saharan Africa are used for irrigated agriculture despite the subcontinent's relative abundance of groundwater. The majority of the region's smallholders are highly dependent on seasonal dryland cropping, making them extremely vulnerable to uncertain weather patterns and droughts. Improved irrigation capabilities through sustainable groundwater development could unleash smallholder farming and make it a major driver of economic growth, poverty reduction, climate resilience, and improved food security. So why is groundwater so underused? Tapping into groundwater requires a major shift in farming practices and it has its own challenges and requirements: smallholder access to land and finance for irrigation infrastructure and equipment, gendered and equitable adoption options. This whole list is framed in terms of what the smallholder farmers need. Hence, this should also be put in this context: supply chains, energy access, resource availability, and institutional support. The chapters in this book present a picture that is not only heterogeneous across the region but also holds some common denominators. They serve to enrich the discourse and help better understand the barriers along the pathways toward the sustainable and transformative adoption of groundwater irrigation. The scientific information provided herein would be of interest to researchers, practitioners, decision makers, and planners with interest in the region. This book was originally published as a Special Issue of Water International journal.

The Carter Presidency and Gay Rights Harris Dousemetzis, 2024-07-25 Examining a significant and largely unexplored aspect of Jimmy Carter's presidency (1977-1981), Harris Dousemetzis radically revises the current understanding of this critical period in American political history. By using a wealth of previously unpublished archival material along with personal interviews with 43 prominent gay rights activists of the time and 12 senior

Carter White House aides this book documents what actually happened during Carter's presidency regarding the development and recognition of gay rights and the efforts of the evangelical right to prevent social reform. Investigating the full range of government actions taken and policies implemented, Carter's personal commitment and support for the movement as well as the role of activists in bringing about change, this is a significant and original contribution to knowledge about Carter's presidency, the gay rights movement, and American political development. Dousemetzis situates Carter's presidency in its rightful place as a crucial stage in one of the most dynamic areas of change in recent American politics and political culture. Features a Foreword by Stuart Eizenstat and an Afterword by Lilian Faderman. Daily Graphic Ransford Tetteh, 2010-09-08
