New Funding Model to Streamline University Education - PS

The Department of Education (DepEd) has announced a new funding model for higher education institutions, aimed at streamlining university education. The model, known as the Performance-based Funding (PS) system, will allocate funds based on the quality and quantity of educational outcomes. This approach is expected to encourage institutions to focus on improving the learning experience and ensuring that graduates are well-prepared for the workforce. The PS system will involve a series of performance indicators, including student retention rates, graduation rates, and employment outcomes. Institutions that perform well will receive higher funding, while those that do not will receive lower funding. This model is expected to revolutionize the way higher education is funded in the Philippines.
