Dystopia and Dispossession in the Hollywood Science Fiction Film, 1979-2017 Harry Warwick, 2023-02-15

Offering a survey of Hollywood science fiction cinema from 1979 to 2017 from Ridley Scott's Alien to Denis Villeneuve's Blade Runner 2049 Dystopia and Dispossession in the Hollywood Science Fiction Film argues that the trajectory of Hollywood's dystopianism in that period is inextricable from the phenomenon of the new enclosures the new dispossessions and privatisations sweeping across the United States since the 1970s More precisely it contends that the critiques of such dispossessions elaborated before the turn of the century consider the satire of private policing in RoboCop 1987 the portrayal of commodified air in Total Recall 1990 and the nightmarish extrapolations of postmodern urbanism in Blade Runner 1982 and The Truman Show 1998 begin to disappear in films such as The Matrix 1999 The Island 2005 District 9 2009 Repo Men 2010 and The Purge 2013 the further commodification of land forest reservoir ideas even the human genome having diminished the contrast between capitalist and non capitalist spaces on which the earlier critiques depended Bringing close readings of blockbuster films into dialogue with historical and theoretical scholarship on dispossession Dystopia and Dispossession in the Hollywood Science Fiction Film proposes a new understanding of the politics of science fiction in particular and utopian thought in general Political Theory, Science Fiction, and Utopian Literature Tony

Burns, 2008-01-01 Ursula K Le Guin's The Dispossessed is of interest to political theorists partly because of its association with anarchism and partly because it is thought to represent a turning point in the history of utopian dystopian political thought and literature and of science fiction Published in 1974 it marked a revival of utopianism after decades of dystopian writing According to this widely accepted view The Dispossessed represents a new kind of literary utopia which Tom Moylan calls a critical utopia The present work challenges this reading of The Dispossessed and its place in the histories of utopian dystopian literature and science fiction It explores the difference between traditional literary utopia and novels and suggests that The Dispossessed is not a literary utopia but a novel about utopianism in politics Le Guin's concerns have more to do with those of the novelists of the 19th century writing in the tradition of European Realism than they do with the science fiction or utopian literature It also claims that her theory of the novel has an affinity with the ancient Greek tragedy This implies that there is a conservatism in Le Guin's work as a creative writer or as a novelist which fits uneasily with her personal commitment to anarchism Dark Horizons Tom Moylan, Raffaella Baccolini, 2013-12-02 First published in 2003

With essays by an international and interdisciplinary group of scholars Dark Horizons focuses on the development of critical dystopia in science fiction at the end of the twentieth century In these narratives of places more terrible than even the reality produced by the neo conservative backlash of the 1980s and the neoliberal hegemony of the 1990s utopian horizons stubbornly anticipate a different and more just world The top notch team of contributors explores this development in a variety of ways by looking at questions of form politics the politics of form and the form of politics In a broader context the essays connect their textual and theoretical analyses with historical developments such as September 11th the rise and downturn of the global economy and the growth of anti capitalist movements

Science-fiction Studies ,2006 The Span of Mainstream and Science Fiction Peter Brigg,2015-09-16 From the 1960s when the advent of what many call the postmodern style made establishing genres more difficult to the present day writers have been incorporating science not only the commonly thought of science and technology but also the soft sciences such as psychology and sociology into what was previously considered mainstream fiction This book examines works by Thomas Pynchon Doris Lessing and others who incorporate science in fiction and exemplify the movement of mainstream fiction writers toward a new genre termed span It also examines works by some science fiction writers who are edging closer to the border of science fiction and slowly over into span This book maps the boundaries of the new span genre of fiction and thus helps define texts that fall outside the realms of mainstream and science fiction Diagrams are included and a bibliography and index Science Fiction in India, 2022-05-30 Shortlisted for the British Society for Literature and Science BSLS Book Prize 2023 Nominated 2023 Teaching Literature Book Award Indian Science Fiction has evolved over the years and can be seen making a mark for itself on the global scene Dalit speculative fiction writer and editor Mimi Mondal is the first SF writer from India to have been nominated for the prestigious Hugo award In fact Indian SF addresses themes such as global climate change Debates around G C C are not just limited to science fiction but also permeate in critical discussions on SF This volume seeks to examine the different ways by which Indian SF narratives construct possible national futures For this looking forward necessarily germinates from the current positional concerns of the nation While some work has been done on Indian SF there is still a perceptible lack of an academic rigor invested into the genre primarily perhaps because of not only its relative unpopularity in India but also its employment of futuristic sights Towards the same among other things it proposes to study the growth and evolution of science fiction in India as a literary genre which accommodates the duality of the national consciousness as it simultaneously gazes ahead towards the future and glances back at the past In other words the book will explore how the tensions generated by the seemingly conflicting forces of tradition and modernity within the Indian historical landscape are realized through characteristic tropes of SF storytelling It also intends to look at the interplay between the spatio temporal coordinates of the nation and the SF narratives produced within to see firstly how one bears upon the other and secondly how processes of governance find relational structures with such narratives Through these the volume wishes to interrogate how postcolonial futures promise to articulate a more representative and nuanced picture of a contemporary reality that is rooted in a distinct cultural and colonial past Insularity vs. Islomania. The Island Setting and Shipwreck Experience in Three Dystopian Novels M. Klaiber, 2023-04-12 Master s Thesis from the year 2021 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Literature grade 1 0 Johannes Gutenberg University Mainz language English abstract This thesis explores three dystopian novels that depict different forms of island societies The Island of Doctor Moreau by H G Wells 1896 Lord of the Flies by William Golding 1954 and The Wall by John Lanchester 2019 The author splits his text into two parts a theoretical framework and an analysis The theoretical framework is again subdivided The first section lays the foundation for the analysis of dystopian island settings and explains and discusses important concepts and key terms regarding dystopia and islands Subsequently the author provides an overview of functions that islands can fulfill for a society The second section of the theoretical framework introduces and explains the tools necessary for the analysis of control mechanisms within societies These tools make it possible to uncover how the respective fictional society organises and controls itself For the analysis of control mechanisms and power structures in these societies this thesis draws on various concepts of power proposed by

Michel Foucault In the analysis which constitutes the second main part of this thesis the author examines each novel separately in chronological order By systematically applying the guiding questions mentioned in the methodology a detailed analysis of the insular societies depicted in the three novels is conducted Magill's Guide to Science Fiction and Fantasy Literature: Software and wetware ,1996 These four volumes cover 791 books or series 238 of them published during the 1980s and 1990s the entries are 1 000 words long for single books and 1 500 for series with a one sentence summary beginning each entry followed by bibliographical information Volume 4 contains an extensive bibliography of critical works on science fiction and fantasy a list of major award winners a genre index Booklist Future Females, The Next Generation Marleen S. these works also explored cultural and social concerns more commonly associated with serious literature Nor was young adult science fiction a peculiarly American phenomenon authors in other countries likewise wrote science fiction for young adult readers This book examines young adult science fiction in the U S and several other countries and explores issues central to the genre The first part of the book treats the larger contexts of young adult science fiction and includes chapters on its history and development Included are discussions of science fiction for young adults in the U S and in Canada Great Britain Germany and Australia These chapters are written by expert contributors and chart the history of young adult science fiction from the nineteenth century to the present The second section of the book considers topics of special interest to young adult science fiction Some of the chapters look at particular forms and expressions of science fiction such as films and comic books Others treat particular topics such as the portrayal of women in Robert Heinlein s works and representations of war in young adult science fiction Yet another chapter studies the young adult science fiction novel as a coming of age story and thus helps distinguish the genre from science fiction written for adult readers All chapters reflect current research and the volume concludes with extensive bibliographies
