Exploring Second Language Creative Writing Beyond Babel Linguistic Approaches To Literature:

Exploring Second Language Creative Writing Dan Disney, 2014-06-15 Exploring Second Language Creative Writing continues the work of stabilizing the emerging Creative Writing SL discipline In unique ways each essay in this book seeks to redefine a tripartite relationship between language acquisition literatures and identity All essays extend B B Kachru s notion of bilingual creativity as an enculturated shaped discourse a mutation of the Sapir Whorf hypothesis Creative Writing SL a new subfield to emerge from Stylistics extends David Hanauer s Poetry as Research 2010 situating a suite of methodologies and interdisciplinary pedagogies researchers in this book mobilize theories from Creativity Studies TESOL TETL Translation Studies Linguistics Cultural Studies and Literary Studies Changing the relationship between L2 writers and canonized literary artefacts from auratic to dialogic each essay in this text is essentially Freirean each chapter explores dynamic processes through which creative writing in a non native language engages material and phenomenological modes toward linguistic pluricentricity and indeed emancipation

Scientific Approaches to Literature in Learning Environments Michael Burke, Olivia Fialho, Sonia Zyngier, 2016-07-22 Scientific Approaches to Literature in Learning Environments is not just about what takes place in literary classrooms Settings do have a strong influence on student learning both directly and indirectly These spaces may include the home the workplace science centers libraries that is contexts that entail diverse social physical psychological and pedagogical variables that facilitate learning for example by grouping desks in specific ways utilizing audio visual and digital technologies Scientific Approaches to Literature in Learning Environments puts together a series of empirical research studies on the different locations of teaching and learning These studies represent literary learning environment throughout the world including Brazil the USA China Canada Japan and several European countries such as the Netherlands Ukraine the UK and Malta The studies reported describe quantitative and or qualitative research and cover pre primary primary high school college university and lifelong learning environments They refresh the enigmatic ambience that often surrounds the teaching and learning that goes on in literary studies and offer transparent useful and replicable research and practice Students and teachers alike are encouraged to take them and own them

Transforming Pedagogies Through Engagement with Learners, Teachers and Communities Dat Bao, Thanh Pham, 2021-06-12 This book identifies three types of influential forces that pose challenges to innovations socio cultural dynamics teacher individuality and local circumstances It uses languages cultural traits and intellectual heritages in the Asia Pacific region as an example to show the resistance to Western based pedagogies due to disparities between the innovations and these local heritages It reveals personal and professional values that teachers hold and how these values while seemingly supporting creative ideologies happen to prevent them from incorporating innovations in their practices The book discusses how informal educational activities and services that a society possesses could impede pedagogical innovations There is therefore a need for institutions and educators to develop a positive relationship between these phenomena and teaching innovations

International Perspectives on Literature in ELT Fatma Abubaker, Mark Carver, Hana El-Badri, 2025-12-02 This edited book gathers expert scholars and prominent educators from diverse backgrounds and nationalities to foster a rich dialogue on the topic of implementing literature as a tool in English language education. It presents an overview of current trends in literature teaching while also forecasting future developments. The volume takes a global perspective featuring research-based insights into the role of literature in language education drawing from empirical studies conducted across various contexts. It seeks to explore the potential of literature in English language learning and teaching along with effective methodologies for its implementation. With a focus on practical implications the volume aims to offer relevant theoretical frameworks and the latest research findings addressing pedagogical considerations that hold global significance. While examining key issues in literature instruction from a global viewpoint the volume intends to highlight both shared practices and regional differences as well. It is designed for teachers researchers teacher trainers and educators at all levels of education primary secondary and higher education who seek practical guidance on incorporating literature into language teaching and learning.

International Perspectives on Creative Writing in Second Language Education Bee Chamcharatsri, Atsushi Iida, 2022-02-10 This volume explores the instructional use of creative writing in secondary and post-secondary contexts to enhance students language proficiency and expression in English as a second or foreign language (ESL/EFL). Offering a diverse range of perspectives from scholars and practitioners involved in English language teaching (ELT) globally, International Perspectives on Creative Writing in Second Language Education tackles foundational questions around why fiction and creative writing have been traditionally omitted from ESL and EFL curricula. By drawing on empirical research and first-hand experience, contributors showcase a range of creative genres including autobiography, scriptwriting, poetry, and e-Portfolios, and provide new insight into the benefits of second language creative writing for learners language proficiency, emotional expression, and identity development. The volume makes a unique contribution to the field of second language writing by highlighting the breadth of second language users throughout the world and foregrounding links between identity learning and ESL/EFL writing. This insightful volume will be of particular interest to postgraduate students, researchers, and academics in the fields of ESL/EFL learning, composition studies, and second language acquisition (SLA). Those with a focus on the use of creative writing in classrooms more broadly will also find the book of interest.

Haiku Across Borders Atsushi Iida, 2025-02-14 Drawing on a total of 8,308 haiku poems written by 834 English as a foreign language (EFL) university students in Japan, this book explores the value, possibility, and potential of teaching and researching English language haiku in second and foreign language (SFL) contexts. The book showcases how haiku is used and taught in the SFL classroom and discusses how the task of reading and writing English language haiku promotes SFL learning. More specifically, it addresses these questions: What are the textual features of English language haiku produced by EFL students? How do EFL students read and interpret English language haiku? What knowledge and skills do EFL students gain through the task of reading and writing English language haiku What are the perceptions and attitudes of EFL students in relation to the task of reading and writing haiku in the English classroom How can English language haiku be used as a research methodology With empirical evidence from both quantitative and qualitative data this book moves the field forward by addressing the methodological and pedagogical issues in relation to the use of poetry writing in SFL teaching and learning The uniqueness of this book lies in its applicability and practicality both in methodological and pedagogical approaches to haiku writing that students researchers and teachers in applied linguistics can replicate in diverse teaching contexts

Handbook of Empirical Literary Studies Donald Kuiken, Arthur M. Jacobs, 2021-09-20 This handbook reviews efforts to increase the use of empirical methods in studies of the aesthetic and social effects of literary reading The reviewed research is expansive including extension of familiar theoretical models to novel domains e g educational settings enlarging empirical efforts within under represented research areas e g child development and broadening the range of applicable quantitative and qualitative methods e g computational stylistics phenomenological methods Especially challenging is articulation of the subtle aesthetic and social effects of literary artefacts e g poetry film Increasingly the complexity of these effects is addressed in multi variate studies including confirmatory factor analysis and structural equation modeling While each chapter touches upon the historical background of a specific research topic two chapters address the area s historical background and guiding philosophical assumptions Taken together the material in this volume provides a systematic introduction to the area for early career professionals while challenging active researchers to develop theoretical frameworks and empirical procedures that match the complexity of their research objectives Proceedings of the 18th European Classrooms filled with glassy-eyed students provide an experiential base for Alice S. Horning's new comprehensive theory about basic writers. Horning explores the theory of writing acquisition in detail. Her examination of spoken and written language and redundancy give a theoretical base to her argument that academic discourse is a separate linguistic system.

characterized by particular psycholinguistic features She proposes that basic writers learn to write as other learners master a second language because for them academic written English is a whole new language She explores the many connections to be found in second language acquisition research to the teaching and learning of writing and gives special attention to the interlanguage hypothesis pidginization theory and the Monitor theory She also addresses the role of affective factors feelings attitudes emotions and motivation in the success or failure of writing students

L2 Writing Beyond English Nur Yiğitoğlu Aptoula, Melinda Reichelt, 2019-04-10 Most of what we know about writing in a second or foreign language L2 is based on conclusions drawn from research on L2 writing in English However a significant quantity of L2 writing and writing instruction takes place in languages other than English and so there is a need for studies that look beyond English The chapters in this book focus on languages other than English and investigate curricular issues multiple languages in contact conflict in L2 writing instruction and student attitudes toward pedagogical practices The collection as a whole makes a valuable contribution to the study of L2 writing and it will also prove an essential resource for instructors of second and foreign language writing

Adopting the Tune of Expression: An Psychological Symphony within Exploring Second Language Creative Writing Beyond Babel Linguistic Approaches To Literature

In some sort of taken by monitors and the ceaseless chatter of fast connection, the melodic splendor and emotional symphony developed by the prepared term frequently fade into the back ground, eclipsed by the persistent sound and interruptions that permeate our lives. However, nestled within the pages of Exploring Second Language Creative Writing Beyond Babel Linguistic Approaches To Literature an enchanting fictional treasure overflowing with raw feelings, lies an immersive symphony waiting to be embraced.
