Explorations In Theology And Film An Introduction:

Explorations in Theology and Film Clive Marsh, Gaye Ortiz, 1997-12-08 Explorations in Theology and Film d brings together theologians biblical scholars film and media specialists and experts in language and literature to consider the potential of films contribution to contemporary Christian theological discussion The main focus of the book is on the creative conversation between film and theology in the contemporary West and it raises crucial questions about the interaction between theology and culture Explorations in Theology and Film d will be an invaluable resource to students and those researching in the areas of theology and religion as well as media and cultural studies Teaching Religion and Film Gregory J Watkins, 2008-08-22 In a culture increasingly focused on visual media students have learned not only to embrace multimedia presentations in the classroom but to expect them Such expectations are perhaps more prevalent in a field as dynamic and cross disciplinary as religious studies but the practice nevertheless poses some difficult educational issues the use of movies in academic coursework has far outpaced the scholarship on teaching religion and film What does it mean to utilize film in religious studies and what are the best ways to do it In Teaching Religion and Film an interdisciplinary team of scholars thinks about the theoretical and pedagogical concerns involved with the intersection of film and religion in the classroom They examine the use of film to teach specific religious traditions religious theories and perspectives on fundamental human values Some instructors already teach some version of a film and religion course and many have integrated film as an ancillary to achieving central course goals This collection of essays helps them understand the field better and draws the sharp distinction between merely watching movies in the classroom and comprehending film in an informed and critical way Religion and Film Stefanie Knauss, 2020-01-29 Is cinema evil or sacramental Can films make theological contributions Can film viewing be a religious practice How do films values and power interact The study of film and religion engages a range of diverse questions through different approaches and methods In this contribution I distinguish three complementary approaches In the first part I discuss those that focus on the film as text the representation of religion in film and how theology happens in film The next section will broaden this perspective by taking into consideration how films affect audiences and how the relationship between film and audience might have religious dimensions or serve religious functions In the third part attention to the text and the audience are combined with the consideration of both film and religion as agents in cultural processes in order to think about how film and religion are shaped by and shape value systems and ideologies In the last section I will begin to tackle the difficult question of theory and method I consciously postpone this part until the end because in many cases methodologies and theoretical frameworks are implied in and emerge from concrete case studies rather than being consciously reflected upon This final section has two goals it will make explicit some of these underlying assumptions to serve as a starting point for a more sustained reflection on the theories and methodologies of the field and it will highlight some of the pitfalls we encounter if we are not

Mitchell, S. Brent Plate, 2007 Film is now widely studied in theology and religious studies departments This volume explores key topics including early responses to film directors films and audiences cultural and social contexts biblical connections theological approaches and religious studies perspectives amongst others The Month , 1999 Bresson and Others Bert Cardullo, 2009 A number of writers have attempted to capture Robert Bresson s style as well as his substance with such terms as minimalist austere ascetic elliptical autonomous pure even gentle Most famously Paul Schrader once called Bresson's films transcendental while Susan Sontag described them as spiritual Both these critics thus extended in Anglicized form a tendency that had early been dominant in Bresson criticism in France the attempt made by such Catholic writers as Andre Bazin Henri Agel Roger Leenhardt and Amedee Ayfre to understand Bresson's work in religious terms seeing his camera as a kind of god and the material world as paradoxically a thing of the spirit That attempt in Sontag's essay led to the introduction of Bresson to the New York based avant garde of the 1960s and 1970s whose films such as Richard Serra's Hand Catching Lead 1968 for one show the influence of the French director's severe reductivist style Jean Luc Godard of course needed no such critical introduction to Robert Bresson for in his iconoclasm and integrity in his rejection of the Gallic Cinema du Papa as well as in his embrace of film as an independent art Bresson was one of the heroes of the young directors who constituted the French New Wave in the early 1960s So much so that Godard was moved to say in Cahiers du cinema in 1957 that Bresson is French cinema as Dostoyevsky is the Russian novel and Mozart is German music The result is that Bresson has undeniably influenced a slew of contemporary European filmmakers including Chantal Akerman Olivier Assayas Laurent Cantet Alain Cavalier Jean Pierre and Luc Dardenne Claire Denis Jacques Doillon Bruno Dumont Michael Haneke Benoit Jacquot and Maurice Pialat not to speak of his influence on Asian and American cinema Bresson and Others Spiritual Style in the Cinema is an attempt to document this influence through essays on fifteen international directors who followed in Bresson's wake who in fact may have influenced him Carl Dreyer or who contemporaneously worked veins similar to those found in Bresson's films Ingmar Bergman Yasujiro Ozu These essays are preceded by an introduction to the cinema of Robert Bresson and followed by film credits a bibliography of criticism and an index The subject of Bresson and Others then may specifically be Bressonian cinema but in a general sense it could also be said to be spirit and matter or film and faith Spectrum, 2007

Between Sacred and Profane Gordon Lynch, 2007-11-28 Over the past ten years there has been an explosion of interest in how religion and the sacred connect with the media and cultures of everyday life How are religious communities identities and rituals being transformed by new media such as the internet What is the significance of the media when for many people it becomes the primary source of images and of an encounter with religious traditions Do the media and popular culture themselves take on religious significance and how do people make use of these popular resources to do religion in the contemporary world As researchers have tried to answer these and other questions a growing body of literature has begun to develop Between Sacred and Profane offers a major review of this young and exciting field of scholarship highlighting both its achievements and flaws and setting out an agenda for its next phase of study The book is an invaluable guide and handbook for beginning students who are looking for a first overview of the key issues and debates as well as for more experienced scholars who wish to reflect on how their work will develop in future Between Sacred and Profane will be required reading for courses in theology religion and contemporary culture for many years to come Screen

Christologies Christopher Deacy, 2001 This volume looks at the ways in which the Christian concept of redemption has been represented in film Concentrating on film noir and the work of Martin Scorsese the book argues that the characteristic themes of noir confront religious issues      You've Got to Have a Dream Ian Bradley, 2004 This book argues that musicals provide millions of people across the world not just with entertainment and escapism but with spiritual and theological values a philosophy of life and an encounter with God It traces the underlying philosophy and world view found in musical theatre from Gilbert Sullivan to The Lion King and Rent The spiritual theological and philosophical resonances of seminal musicals like Carousel Jesus Christ Superstar and Les Miserables are discussed in detail and the book ends by looking at what message musical theatre may have for the churches and for Christian worship in particular      Recent Releases Geert Hallbäck, Annika Hvithamar, 2008 The relationship between theology and film has always been a complicated one When film was invented at the end of the nineteenth century it quickly gained its place in popular culture far from the orthodoxies of the scholarly world and of the Church For the better part of the twentieth century popular cinema was considered off limits for serious studies of Bible and culture Recently however there has been a growing understanding of how the Bible is being used in popular culture not as a historical document or as an authoritative canon but as part of the cultural intertext Cinema is a vivid example of the role and impact of the Bible in contemporary society In this well theorized collection of essays the issue is treated from several angles Using the methodology of theology the question of the alleged escapism of popular cinema is explored Using the methodology of media studies the impact of the media on religious communication is analysed And using the methodology of religious studies the influence of the cinema in the creation of new religions religious behaviour and religious institutions is investigated In addition the book offers fruitful analyses of the cinematic use of biblical themes such as Eden salvation Mary Magdalene and Jesus as well as of the cinematic application of ethical themes such as truth telling personal growth suffering the accomplishment of good and the creating of meaning for human beings
