Exploring Prehistoric Europe Places In Time:

Exploring Prehistoric Europe Christopher Scarre, 1998 Part travel guide part survey of Europe's prehistory Exploring Prehistoric Europe delves into fifteen of the most famous most important and most exciting archaeological sites in Europe The first volume in the Places in Time series this beautiful book takes us to locales both famous and obscure from Ireland to Poland to Malta ranging chronologically from Terra Amata a site in southern France occupied some 380 000 years ago to Borremose a Danish settlement that dates to Roman times The author archaeologist Chris Scarre examines the haunting cave paintings of Lascaux France the stone circle and ritual complexes of Avebury England and the ever mysterious Stonehenge as well as lesser known but no less intriguing sites around Europe For each location he conducts a careful tour of the existing remains describes the history of its excavation and then interprets how the site might have been built used or occupied Readers will explore a variety of cultures and monuments from megalithic stone circles to Neolithic villages to Bronze Age tombs and see intimate portraits of the daily life of Europe's prehistoric ancestors Perhaps equally important Scarre has selected the sites with accessibility in mind all can be easily reached by the modern tourist and he also highlights local museums and visitor centers where further artifacts and information can be found Beautifully illustrated with maps and full color photographs Exploring Prehistoric Europe makes the perfect companion for the historically minded traveler or the reader who wants to curl up at home and wander at leisure through the distant past The Archaeology of Malta Claudia

Sagona, 2015-08-25 This book synthesizes the archaeology of the Maltese archipelago from the first human colonization c 5000 BC through the Roman period c 400 AD Claudia Sagona interprets the archaeological record to explain changing social and political structures intriguing ritual practices and cultural contact through several millennia The Megalithic

Architectures of Europe Luc Laporte, Chris Scarre, 2015-12-31 Megalithic monuments are among the most striking remains of the Neolithic period of northern and western Europe and are scattered across landscapes from Pomerania to Portugal Antiquarians and archaeologists early recognized the family resemblance of the different groups of tombs attributing them to maritime peoples moving along the western seaways More recent research sees them rather as the product of established early farming communities in their individual regions Yet the diversity of the tombs their chronologies and their varied cultural contexts complicates any straightforward understanding of their origins and distribution Megalithic Architectures provides new insight by focusing on the construction and design of European megalithic tombs on the tomb as an architectural project It shows how much is to be learned from detailed attention to the stages and the techniques through which tombs were built modified and enlarged and often intentionally dismantled or decommissioned The large slabs that were employed often unshaped may suggest an opportunistic approach by the Neolithic builders but this was clearly far from the case Each building project was unique and detailed study of individual sites exposes the way in which tombs were built as architectural social and symbolic undertakings Alongside the manner in which the materials were used it reveals a store of knowledge that sometimes differed considerably from one structure to another even between contemporary monuments within a single region The volume brings together regional specialists from Scandinavia Germany Britain France Belgium and Iberia to offer a series of uniquely authoritative studies Results of recent fieldwork are fully incorporated and much of the material is published here for the first time in English It provides an invaluable overview of the current state of research on European megalithic tombs

Great Moments in Exploration Marion Florence Lansing, 1928 Forty episodes from the history of exploration Program of the Annual Meeting - American Historical Association American Historical Association, 1999 Some programs include also the programs of societies meeting concurrently with the association Book Review Digest, 2001 Monumentalising Life in the Neolithic Anne Birgitte Gebaer, Lasse Sørensen, Anne Teather, António Carlos Valera, 2020-09-30 One of the principal characteristics of the European Neolithic is the development of monumentality in association with innovations in material culture and changes in subsistence from hunting and gathering to farming and pastoralism The papers in this volume discuss the latest insights into why monumental architecture became an integral part of early farming societies in Europe and beyond One of the topics is how we define monuments and how our arguments and recent research on temporality impacts on our interpretation of the Neolithic period Different interpretations of G bekli Tepe are examples of this discussion as well as our understanding of special landmarks such as flint mines The latest evidence on the economic and paleoenvironmental context carbon 14 dates as well as analytical methods are employed in illuminating the emergence of monumentalism in Neolithic Europe Studies are taking place on a macro and micro scale in areas as diverse as Great Britain Denmark Sweden Poland Germany the Dutch wetlands Portugal and Malta involving a range of monuments from long barrows and megalithic tombs to roundels and enclosures Transformation from a natural to a built environment by monumentalizing part of the landscape is discussed as well as changes in megalithic architecture in relation to shifts in the social structure An ethnographic study of megaliths in Nagaland discuss monument building as an act of social construction Other studies look into the role of monuments as expressions of cosmology and active loci of ceremonial performances Also a couple of papers analyse the social processes in the transformation of society in the aftermath of the initial boom in monument construction and the related changes in subsistence and social structure in northern Europe The aim of the publication is to explore different theories about the relationship between monumentality and the Neolithic way of life through these studies encompassing a wide range of types of monuments over vast areas of Europe and beyond Bronze Age Tell Communities in Context: An Exploration Into Culture, Society and the Study of European Prehistory.

Part 1 Tobias L. Kienlin, 2015-07-31 This study challenges current modelling of Bronze Age tell communities in the Carpathian Basin in terms of the evolution of functionally differentiated hierarchical or proto urban society under the influence of Mediterranean palatial centres Memoir of the Egypt Exploration Fund, 1914 Exploration of Aboriginal Sites at Throgs Neck and Clasons Point, New York City Alanson Skinner, Edward H. Davis, George Gustav Heye, Marshall
