Thiese, 2010-02-26 Secondary teachers will find that this superb resource informs the teaching and learning of their students and provides many research based strategies to enhance reading comprehension and written language in every area Johnneen Griffin Director of Secondary Pupil Services Olentangy Local Schools Lewis Center

OH Sejnost and Thiese address the national literacy crisis with a practical guidebook that meets the needs of adolescent learners by focusing on the literacy skills needed for the 21st century. The strategies engage learners and create independence in content area reading. Rusti Russow, Director of Teaching and Learning, Kankakee School District, IL, increases adolescent learners' success in all content areas by responding to the challenges associated with teaching middle and high school students. This resource offers specific strategies teachers may use to incorporate reading, writing, and critical thinking throughout content instruction to increase learning. With step-by-step instructions, a wealth of examples, and numerous student reproducibles, the book presents an approach that secondary teachers can implement across all content areas.

Roberta L. Sejnost and Sharon M. Thiese focus on research-based practices that increase comprehension and learning while meeting standards, including techniques that foster the acquisition and retention of specialized and technical content vocabulary. Processes to help students better comprehend narrative and expository texts, approaches to help students use writing and speaking to process their new knowledge, and techniques for promoting the literacies needed to effectively use various media sources are included. Methods for scaffolding instruction for students with special needs are also provided. Building Content Literacy is an ideal resource for delivering developmentally appropriate learning experiences and strengthening adolescent students' academic achievement in every content area.

Language Arts Workshop Nancy Frey, Douglas Fisher, 2006. Language Arts Workshop Purposeful Reading and Writing Instruction presents a manageable way of organizing instruction, exploring a gradual release of responsibility through meaningful experiences in all areas of need for literacy development, including oral language, spelling, vocabulary, word study, fluency, and comprehension. Like an apprenticeship, novice readers and writers learn a craft under the guidance of a skilled and knowledgeable teacher. Through the language arts workshop, students read and write everyday, spending time working with their teacher, collaborating with peers, and working independently. Learn to model successful language arts teaching for your students. Workshop format addresses the diverse learning needs of students, including English language learners, students with disabilities, and students who read at above or below grade level to support early intervention or response to intervention programs. Predictable chapter organization clarifies the workshop approach and framework. Authentic examples from successful classrooms engage readers and model effective language arts instruction. A strong focus on assessment grounds the instruction, and a compendium of assessment tools prepares readers to drive their own classroom.
