

A close-up photograph of a person's hand holding a black pen, writing on a document. The document has some faint, illegible text and a barcode-like pattern. The image is slightly blurred, focusing on the hand and the pen. A semi-transparent dark blue overlay covers the middle part of the image, and a solid yellow vertical bar is on the right side.

English Language Learning Materials Brian Tomlinson, 2008-03-17 This research collection presents a critical review of the materials used for learning English around the world. The first section includes a discussion of materials for specific learners and purposes such as young learners, self-study, academic writing, and general proficiency. The second section presents a detailed study of the materials used in Europe, Asia, North America, South America, Africa, and Australia and critically evaluates their effectiveness in the teaching of English to speakers of other languages. Taking both the teacher's and the learner's needs into consideration, the book makes a positive contribution to the future of research in materials development and has practical applications. This comprehensive critical analysis of materials in use around the world will be useful for academics researching materials development and applied linguistics and for students on postgraduate applied linguistics and ELT courses.

Refugee Education across the Lifespan Doris S. Warriner, 2021-08-24 This edited volume demonstrates how an educational linguistics approach to inquiry is well positioned to identify, examine, and theorize the language and literacy dimensions of refugee background learners' experiences. Contributions from junior and senior scholars explore and interrogate the policies, practices, and ideologies of language and literacy in formal and informal educational settings as well as their implications for teaching and learning. Chapters in this collection will inform advances in the research base, future innovations in pedagogy, the professional development of teachers, and the educational opportunities that are made available to refugee background children, youth, and adults. The work showcased here will be of particular interest to teachers and teacher educators committed to inclusion, equity, and diversity, those developing curriculum and/or assessment, and researchers interested in the relationship between language practice, language policy, and refugee education.

From Migrant to Citizen: Testing Language, Testing Culture C. Slade, M. Möllering, 2010-05-28 In this impressive volume, a combination of theorists, linguists, historians, and lawyers address the subject of citizenship testing for language proficiency and cultural knowledge. Discussing themes of identity and cultural belonging, they draw out the implications for Australia and the wider international community.

ESOL Tests and Testing Stephen Stoyonoff, 2005 This volume describes how ESOL tests and test users have changed greatly in the past few decades. Some widely used ESOL tests have been revised with a number of new tests incorporating advances in computer technology. In addition, many more ESOL practitioners than in the past are responsible for selecting and using tests. Stephen Stoyonoff and Carol A. Chapelle introduce teachers and administrators to the principles, methods, and vocabulary of language assessment. Twenty-one reviewers of ESOL tests consider test purpose, methods, and justification of their use in particular situations.
