Recommendations for Improving the Recruiting and Hiring of Los Angeles Firefighters Chaitra M.

Hardison, 2015-01-22 In 2014 the City of Los Angeles Mayor's Office sought assistance from the RAND Corporation to find ways to improve the process the city uses to hire firefighters into the Los Angeles Fire Department RAND conducted a three month review of Los Angeles's firefighter hiring policies and practices paying particular attention to their effectiveness and fairness This report presents the results of that three month effort It reviews the city's hiring practices used in the 2013 hiring cycle and in place at the time of the study and outlines a recommended new firefighter hiring process that is intended to increase efficiency of the hiring process bolster the evidence supporting the validity of it and make it more transparent and inclusive

Automotive Ergonomics Heiner Bubb, Klaus Bengler, Rainer E. Grönen, Mark Vollrath, 2021-10-19

Ergonomics teaches how to design technology in such a way that it is optimally adapted to the needs wishes and characteristics of the user In this context the concept of the human machine system has become established In a systematic way and with a detailed view of the complicated technical and perceptual psychological and methodological connections this book explains the basics of automotive ergonomics with numerous examples The application is shown in examples such as package design of displays and control elements of environmental ergonomics such as lighting sound vibrations climate and smell The design of driver assistance systems from an ergonomic perspective is also a central topic The book is rounded off by methods of ergonomic vehicle development the use of mock ups driving simulators and tests in real vehicles and prototypes For the first time those responsible in the automotive industry and in the field of relevant research are provided with a specialized systematic work that provides the ergonomic findings in the design of today's automobiles This provides planners and designers of today's automobiles with concrete information for ergonomic product development enabling them to keep an eye on decisive requirements and subsequent customer acceptance This book is a translation of the original German 1st edition Automobilergonomie by Heiner Bubb Klaus Bengler Rainer E Grönen Mark Vollrath published by Springer Fachmedien Wiesbaden GmbH part of Springer Nature in 2015 The translation was done with the help of artificial intelligence machine translation by the service DeepL.com A subsequent human revision was done primarily in terms of content so that the book will read stylistically differently from a conventional translation Springer Nature works continuously to further the development of tools for the production of books and on the related technologies to support the authors

Correctional Officers in America Stephen Paul Walters, Tom Caywood, 2006 This study examines the social science research which describes the occupational environment of correctional officers Abandoning common popular misconceptions of prison guards the authors analyze who correctional officers are how they are trained and the common problems that they share while maintaining security in America's prisons This study examines the role of prisons in society today how that role has changed over time and how correctional officers have been required to change as well The formal structure of prisons is explored and a wide ranging discussion of the interpersonal problems encountered by correctional officers is presented including their interaction with inmates the psychological problems that may result from this interaction and the manner in which correctional officers adapt to these pressures Correctional officers are shown to be an increasingly diverse group of trained professionals sharing many commonalities yet also differing in many significant ways Ergonomics for Therapists Karen Jacobs, Carl M.
