Musskopf,Edith González Bernal,Mauricio Rincón Andrade,2022-01-28 This volume presents a project of empirical research on issues of theology sexuality and reproductive health and rights It was carried out by researchers from two theological institutions in Brazil and Colombia in close contact with the grassroots in various civil society organizations Numerous studies at twenty six Latin American institutions on the relation between theology and HIV AIDS prepared the way for this project It promotes and applies methodologies for Latin American popular education and participatory action research PAR While the project was finalized long before the COVID 19 pandemic hit Latin America and the world the pandemic gave fresh evidence of the relevance of the project The present volume is the English translation of the initial Portuguese and Spanish reports about the project enriched with a new preface The editors are delighted that this translation will help spread the vital insights from this research to a wider and global readership Two Mediterranean Worlds William Donald Coleman,Yassine Essid,2012

Globalization includes complex processes easy to identify but difficult to explain Why for instance are globalizing processes so unevenly distributed between poor and wealthy countries What effect does this uneven distribution have on the everyday lives of ordinary people The contributors to this volume find answers to these questions in the Mediterranean a region divided between the people of the north shore who are engaged with Europe and modernized and their poorer neighbours to the south who struggle daily to attain the same standards of living and modes of governance as their more Westernized neighbours In these two regions divergent histories economies cultural and linguistic backgrounds education systems and political structures lead to explanations not only for uneven globalization but also for the wave of demonstrations for political and cultural autonomy that sparked the Arab Spring in North Africa and the Near East Fichero bibliográfico
